U.S. ATHLETES WIN WORLD'S TITLE IN GAMES AT ANTWERP

FINLAND SECOND, WITH 105

AMERICANS TRAIL IN RELAY

Fourth In Both 1,600-Meter Event and Cross-Country Team Race—Swimming Records Fall.

ANTWERP, Aug. 23.—With the holding of the 1,600-meter relay race and the cross-country run for individuals and teams, the track and field events of the seventh Olympiad were concluded in the Stadium here today. The finish found the American athletes the victors by a wide margain. The figures for the first four nations showed the United States at the top with 212 points; Finland, second, with 105; Sweden, third, with 95, and Great Britain, fourth, with 85.

In the course of the games American athletes broke three world's records and one Olympic record. They established world's records in the 400-meter hurdle race, the pole vault and the 400-meter relay race and an Olympic record in the running high jump. Had the weather been more propitious and the track in better condition during the latter part of the games there is every reason to believe that these remarkable performances, great as they were, would have been eclipsed by even greater feats. These record-breaking achievements are the greatest ever accomplished by one country since the Olympic Games were revived.

Most of the young men who have played such prominent parts in the scoring of America's decisive victories on track and field are now going to take part in dual meets in France and England, at the invitation of their French and English rivals. As ambassadors of America they have performed a high office, and not least by their pleasant manners as victors and the thoroughly sportsmanlike way in which they have taken part in these games.

England Wins Relay.

Only two races were run from the Olympic Stadium today, and in neither did the American runners show up as they did in other races during the last ten days.

The first of the two events, the 1,600 meter relay race, was a disappointment. The American team took only fourth place, behind England, South Africa and France. The team was composed, as yesterday, of G. S. Schiller, G. S. Bretnall, J. E. Meredith and F. J. Shea, none of whom raced with the ability shown by the winners yesterday in the 400-meter relay race. The English gained on every lap, passing the baton well, and made a hot race with the South Africans, who were the favorites. The Americans barely took fourth place from the Swedes, who lodged a protest on the ground of a mistake in distance-marking.

In the cross-country run of about ten kilometers, the Americans also failed to win a place. The great Finnish runner, Nurmi, who seems likely to be a worthy successor of Kolehmainen, was first home, followed at a few seconds' interval by the Swede, Bachmann. The Finns also took third and sixth places, the English taking fourth and fifth. The first American home was Pat Flynn in ninth place, and the next Fred Faller in fifteenth. The rest of the American runners came in far down the field.

Guillemot Injures Ankle.

Guillemot, the French runner, who had been looking forward to the race for revenge on Nurmi for his defeat in the 5,000-meter race, suffered a great disappointment. At three kilometers from home, when he was running easily with plenty of strength in reserve for the final sprint, he caught his foot in a hole and fell. When he rose he found that his ankle had suffered such damage that he could not continue.

Late last evening Hannes Kolehmainen, winner of the Marathon, declared that, to some extent, he owed his victory to an accident which overtook Gitsham, the South African, whose shoes, it appears, gave way so that his feet were cut to pieces on the cobblestones and he had to abandon the race.

The Americans are piling up a fine score in the swimming events, and have made a good showing in the preliminaries of the boxing contests.

Rechecking Point Scores.

ANTWERP, Aug. 23 (Associated Press).—Scoring on a basis of twenty-two points to any event allowed by the International Athletic Federation, the American team piled up approximately one-third of a possible aggregate total of 638 in the track and field events of the Olympic games. The Americans scored in all but four events, and were tied with Finland for first place championship honors, each nation having won nine firsts. The United States was far ahead in second places won, with twelve, and was second to Sweden in thirds,

British Bagdad Line Cut; Troops Pressed by Arabs

Copyright, 1920, by The Chicago Tribune Co.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 23.—The British lines of communication between Bagdad and Mosul and between Bagdad and the Persian Gulf have been cut again. Reports reaching Constantinople today from the interior indicate that the British garrisons at these two points are hard pressed and are badly in need of reinforcements.

BAGDAD, Aug. 22.—The British Sikh force operating near Hillah engaged the Arabs and repulsed them with heavy losses. The Arabs concentrated at Bakuba, thirty miles from Bagdad, have been effectively dealt with.

All is quiet on the Tigris and at Bagdad and in the direction of Mosul.

Big Intra-City Carriers Suspend All Business as Employes Vote to Quit Work.

WAGES AND HOURS AT ISSUE

Walkout Comes as Travel Nears Its Peak and Is Expected to Congest Terminals.

Baggage delivery to and from the railroad and steamship terminals has been halted by a strike of employes of the Westcott Express Company and the New York Transfer Company, the two big intracity baggage carriers. The men last night in Bryant Hall, Sixth Avenue and Forty-second Street, voted to quit work last midnight, but both companies had already suspended their service in anticipation of the strike vote.

Officials of both companies said they could not afford to pay the wage increases demanded by the men and that the only alternative was to refuse to receive orders for delivery of baggage. They said no attempt would be made to hire strikebreakers, and hinted that the service might have to be permanently discontinued.

The strike comes just at the beginning of the annual rush of travel from the end of August until after Labor Day. It is estimated that the two transfer companies handle about 50 per cent. of all the baggage coming into the city. The Westcott Company has a branch in the Grand Central Terminal and the New York Transfer Company has one in the Pennsylvania Station. The companies also serve the Clyde-Mallory, Savannah and Southern Pacific coastwise steamship lines.

Companies' Compromise Rejected.

Negotiations between the unions and the companies failed to conciliate the differences with respect to wages. The companies offered compromises which were rejected. The agreement between the workers and the companies expired last night, and when it was apparent that a new agreement could not be reached the executives of both baggage companies sent out word that no orders would be taken until further notice.

Hundreds of travelers arriving at the Pennsylvania Station and the Grand Central yesterday found that the only way they could get their trunks out of the station was by taxicabs and a few independent transfer men. At the Pennsylvania Station there was a big taxi jam. The starter estimated that 800 trunks had been taken away on taxis, as compared with fifty normally. Similar conditions prevailed at the Grand Central.

These are the demands voted upon by the strikers at Bryant Hall at a meeting of Local 645 of the International Brotherhod of Teamsters, of which practically all of the employes of the two companies are members: Wages, $30 a week for drivers of single wagons, $34 a week for teams, $30 a week for helpers, $30 a week for chauffeurs; hours, eight, instead of nine and ten a day, with $1 an hour pay for overtime instead of 75 cents.

The union leaders said the companies had offered a flat raise of $3 a week, with an increase of 8 cents an hour for overtime. This offer was rejected at last night's meeting, and there was a unanimous vote to strike.

Business Suspended Indefinitely.

Officials of both companies said they could not afford to do business with the additional expense which the increases demanded would involve.

"The only thing we could do was to close up entirely," it was said at the office of the Westcott Express Company. "We have notified the railroads that we can not transfer baggage. The

100 IRISH ATTACKS, RIOTS AND BURNINGS WITHIN TWO DAYS

NEW OUTBREAKS IN LISBURN

MANNIX VISITS McSWEENEY

Cork Lord Mayor Grows Very Weak, but Is Determined to Continue Hunger Strike.

DUBLIN, Aug. 23.—More than a hundred cases of the destruction of property, assassination of police, anti-Sinn-Fein reprisals and similar incidents were reported in Ireland during the last week-end, and the list continues to grow.

Among the latest reports is that of a fierce pitched battle at Lissaoda, County Cork, between the police and an ambush party. A considerable number of men are said to have been wounded in the engagement.

A lorry loaded with police was returning from the scene of the murder of Police Sergeant Maunsell when men in ambush opened fire. The police assumed a military formation and returned the fire. After the battle had lasted two hours the raiders were driven off.

Several of the police were slightly injured and it is believed that some members of the attacking party were hit, but that no deaths resulted.

An officer commanding troops at Charleville, County Cork, received a death notice yesterday, and last night the customs offices at Bantry were burned, all of the records being destroyed.

With the shooting of Police Inspector Swanzy at Lisburn, it is calculated that only one of the men held responsible by Republicans for the shooting of Lord Mayor MacCurtain of Cork now remains alive.

It is true that it is alleged forty men participated on that fatal April night, but it is declared that only the leaders are being hunted, and the man who is said to be still alive is hiding in Killarney, afraid to show himself in public.

Official information is to the effect that forty houses were burned at Lisburn as reprisal for the killing of Swanzy, and it is feared the disturbances will spread to Belfast.

Applications for vises to passports has dwindled by 50 per cent. since the Dail Eireann (the Irish Republican Parliament) issued its decree prohibiting emigration unless sanctioned by that body.

Renewed Riots in Lisburn.

LISBURN, Aug. 23.—Further rioting occurred here this morning while an inquest into the death of Police Inspector Swanzy, who was murdered yesterday, was in progress. A butcher shop belonging to an Irish Nationalist was burned and other premises were attacked.

The inquest verdict threw no light on the identity of Inspector Swanzy's murderers, it being recorded that the Inspector was murdered by persons unknown.

The business portion of Lisburn this morning presented a scene of ruin and desolation as a result of the burning of shops by loyalists in revenge for the murder of the Police Inspector.

During the night the sky was lighted up by flames from the shops of supposed Sinn Feiners, the fires also involving a number of loyalist premises. The private homes of Sinn Feiners were burned and the furniture carried into the streets and ignited. The military authorities have posted a guard over the Catholic chapel.

William Shaw, a local Sinn Fein Councilman, was beaten so severely that he is being detained in the infirmary.

In most of the business establishments here today the workers were required to sign the following pledge:

"I hereby declare I am not a Sinn Feiner, nor have I any sympathy with the Sinn Fein. I also declare I am loyal to the King and country."

The police have little hope of tracing Inspector Swanzy's assassins, whose escape was well planned.

BELFAST, Aug. 23.—Lisburn, in its zeal to avenge the death of Police Inspector Swanzy, today reached a terrible pitch of excitement. Nationalist stores everywhere were attacked, and a boot factory belonging to a prominent Nationalist was burned. The sparks from the factory ignited other buildings

Deposed King of Syria Plans to Visit America

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Prince Feisal, son of the King of the Hedjaz, who some time ago was elected King of Syria, may go to the United States after his forthcoming visit to England, says a dispatch to The London Times from Cairo.

No mention is made of the reason for the suggested trip to the United States, says The Times, but it is believed here that it would be for the purpose of gaining the support of the American Government for his policy of Arabian nationalism.

SAY ARREST IS NEAR IN BOOTLEG MURDER

Police Hurry to Manhattan After Questioning Witnesses in Staten Island Crime.

STILL SUSPECT DRY AGENT

Prosecutor Hears of Threat by Eckert, When in Tombs, Against Prohibition Officers.

Police Captain Frank A. Peabody, who has been in charge of the police investigation of the murder of Frederick P. Eckert, or Robert Eckett, the "bootlegger" who was killed on Staten Island Friday night or Saturday morning, said last night at the Stapleton station that a Federal prohibition agent was under suspicion, and he added:

"I am going over to New York now and we will probably break the case before morning."

Captain Peabody, Captain John H. Sullivan and several detectives then left Stapleton in a machine and took a ferry for Manhattan at 9:30 o'clock. Captain Peabody's prediction that the case would be "broken" followed a long examination by the police officials and Assistant District Attorney Joseph H. Molloy of four witnesses who were collected in Manhattan and Staten Island during the day. These witnesses were expected to tell about the alleged transactions of Eckert in contraband whisky with two Federal agents, and of the make-up and route of the automobile party which ended in the murder.

The witness deemed the most important was Alexander Solomon, a truckman, of 103 Monroe Street, Manhattan, who had been named early in the investigation by the widow of the murdered man and by others. Solomon was alleged to have met several men in Manhattan on Friday night in the automobile in which the body of Eckert was found on the following morning. Assistant District Attorney Molloy refused to say what information had been obtained from Solomon, but the dash for Manhattan and the promise of an important arrest followed his statements to the authorities.

Three Other Witnesses.

The other three witnesses were "Mike" Shule, a saloon keeper of Orange; Frank Connors, a hackman of Orange and "Mike" Benedito, an expressman of the same place. The authorities refused to say what they had learned from these witnesses. They are supposed to have been business associates of Eckert, who kept a garage and carried on a legitimate line of business in the daytime, while spending his evenings stealing automobiles and taking part in raids on smugglers who sought to transport motor trucks and automobiles loaded with whisky in defiance of the Volstead act.

The detectives apparently made no effort during yesterday to question the two Federal prohibition agents, who were accused of being among the associates of Eckert in highway robberies of whisky dealers and the retail distribution of the plunder.

Supervising Federal Prohibition Agent James Shevlin said yesterday that a thorough investigation of the night whisky traffic on Staten Island and in New Jersey was in progress, and that rumors reflecting on members of his force would be traced to the bottom. He left early yesterday for Washington, where a general overhauling of prohibition enforcement methods is in progress in the Internal Revenue Office, which has been flooded with complaints that Federal agents establish themselves in the "bootlegging" business with the liquor stocks which they capture in raids. Mr. Shevlin said that he had not received any direct information from the police or from the Staten Island District Attorney's office as to the basis for charges against his subordinates, and he added:

"Until I have more definite knowledge I can say nothing, except that it is a natural thing for 'bootleggers' to manufacture charges against Prohibition agents."

Hears of Threat in the Tombs.

Assistant District Attorney Molloy said last night that he had received information yesterday that Eckert, while in the Tombs, had sought to convey to certain Federal agents a threat that they would either get him out of the Tombs or he would get them into it. Soon after this Eckert was released on bail, and, according to detectives, bail was furnished through the good offices of a Federal agent.

One of the witnesses questioned by Mr. Molloy was a New York policeman, who said that he had heard Eckert, while a prisoner in the Tombs, say:

"I am going to squeal on those dry agents if they don't come to the front for me."

KENYON ASKS COX TO GIVE EVIDENCE OF $15,000,000 FUND

Nominee Says He Does Not Expect to Appear and Summons May Be Issued.

HE OFFERS INFORMATION

But Expects the Committee to Allow Him to Present It in His Own Way.

SUBPOENA PARTY LEADERS

National Chairmen and Treasurers Are Ordered to Bring Books and Accounts.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Following the resumption here today of the session of the Senate sub-committee investigating campaign expenditures, Senator Kenyon, the Chairman, at the request of the committee, sent a message to Governor Cox requesting him to submit to the committee any information he may have in substantiation of his charges that the Republican Party has raised, or is raising, a $15,000,000 fund, and that a "capitalistic ring" has control of the party and is now "trying to buy and control the Presidency."

Senator Kenyon assured the Governor that the subcommittee was not actuated by any partisan motives and that it was anxious "to go to the bottom" of any charges of this kind. He informed Governor Cox that the committee "would be glad to have you appear before us at any time you may desire, or send a communication if you prefer, or send any one who can give this information."

Cox May Be Supoened.

A member of the Senate committee said late tonight that if Governor Cox did not appear before the committee of his own free will he would probably be supoenaed and forced to appear.

This member of the committee said that its members felt that Governor Cox must prove his charges that the Republicans were raising a $15,000,000 campaign fund or withdraw them and that the committee was prepared to go to any length to obtain evidence in the matter.

No official subpoena will be issued, he said, until the committee meets next Monday.

"If Governor Cox has not given us a satisfactory reply by that time, I feel certain a subpoena will be issued," he declared.

The statement was made when members of the committee were shown dispatches quoting Governor Cox as saying he "saw no use in appearing before the committee," adding that he would furnish it with evidence, but felt that he should "be allowed to do so when he saw fit."

The committee, Senator Kenyon added, had adjourned until next Monday, at which time it would "be glad to have you furnish us this information."

The message was taken to indicate a certain deference to Governor Cox as a Presidential nominee, as the committee directed that subpoenas be issued for the appearance before it of the following:

Republican National Committee—Will H. Hays, Chairman; Fred C. Upham, Treasurer.

Democratic National Committee—George H. White, Chairman; Wilbur W. Marsh, Treasurer.

Republican Congressional Committee—Congressman Simeon D. Foss, Chairman; Guy Scott, Treasurer.

Democratic Congressional Committee—Congressman Frank E. Doremus, Chairman; Michael F. Phelan, Treasurer.

Homer S. Cummings, former Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, Chairman of the Senate Campaign Committee.

Text of Senator Kenyon's Message.

Senator Kenyon's telegram to Governor Cox reads:

As you know, the Senate appointed a committee to investigate campaign expenditures. We had a number of meetings before the Presidential conventions and the committee at its meeting here today to determine what shall be done under the Senate resolution instructed me to wire you. I think no one who has followed the work of this subcommittee could claim it was actuated by any partisan motives. We are anxious to do the full work placed upon us by the Senate resolution.

I note from the newspapers that at Wheeling, W. Va., in a speech a few days ago, you stated, according to the report of THE NEW YORK TIMES.

He charged that certain interests were banded together to buy the Presidency and that millions had been contributed to the campaign fund of the Republican Party with "sinister intent," and again "Their check books are ready and open and hundreds of thousands, yes, millions, have gone into the Republican treasury to buy an underhold on the Government," and also that "A powerful combination of interests is now attempting to buy Government control. They are raising millions and millions of dollars in a campaign fund."

The Washington Post of Aug. 15, in reference to the same, said that you stated 'A capitalistic ring had captured the Republican Party and was now trying to buy and control the Presidency.'

Again, the newspapers report you as stating in Ohio speeches that the

REDS IN DESPERATE RALLY TO SAVE ARMY; POLES, WARNED BY WILSON, WON'T INVADE; PREMIERS BAR DEMAND TO DISARM POLAND

Reds Alarmed by Victories of Poles and Wrangel; Intensive Effort to Raise New Armies Is Decided Upon

MOSCOW, Aug. 23.—The Government conference of the Communist Party here has decided that the raising of additional volunteer troops for the Red Army is necessary in view of the changed military situation. A resolution has been adopted, which says:

"Bearing in mind the fact that our western army has suffered a serious defeat owing to France's increased support of Poland, and simultaneously that General Wrangel's front is acquiring primary importance, the Moscow party conference recognizes the necessity of affording all assistance to the western front and at the same time of liquidating General Wrangel's front entirely by means of forces now situated at our rear.

"It, therefore, calls upon all party organizations to carry out a party mobilization with the same accuracy and rapidity as before and arrange for business-like discussions of measures to be taken to assist on Wrangel's front.

"Also, widespread agitation must be developed among the masses, workers and peasants in favor of a volunteer movement for the Red Army in the struggle against Wrangel."

POLAND WILL HEED AMERICAN WARNING

Will Promise Not to Invade Russia, Washington Legation Says.

OUR VIEWS SENT TO WARSAW

Similar Intimation of British Objections Said to Have Been Conveyed to Poles.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The Polish Government has been officially informed—through delivery to the Warsaw Foreign Office by the American Chargé d'Affaires of a copy of Secretary Colby's note of Aug. 10 to Italy, setting forth the American Government's position on the Russo-Polish situation—that the United States will not approve any offensive action by Polish troops against Soviet Russia beyond the ethnographic limits of Poland.

Great Britain is also understood to have advised Warsaw that she is not in favor of pursuit by the Poles of the Red forces into Russian territory.

The American Chargé d'Affaires at Warsaw has been authorized to explain the American Government's position as set forth within the limits of the note of Secretary Colby to the Italian Government. But officials today asserted that no other communication had been sent to Poland by this Government with regard to possible action against the Bolsheviki after they should have been driven beyond Polish national limits, as laid down by the Peace Conference, than the transmission of a copy of the American note to Italy, which, officials feel, clearly sets forth the attitude of the United States Government.

Encourages Foes of Bolshevism.

The American note to Italy, it is learned, has had a very encouraging effect both in Polish and in anti-Bolshevist Russian quarters. It has been received with enthusiasm by the adherents of General Wrangel in South Russia and in other influential anti-Bolshevist circles. It is not known yet to what extent the American note has been circulated, if at all, in Soviet Russia, or what effect, if any, it has produced there.

No reply has yet been received to the American note to Italy. There is still no indication either in American or Italian circles that a reply to the note is being prepared for immediate transmission. In some diplomatic quarters it is considered probable that the Italian Government will not reply to the State Department before the present conferences between Premier Giolitti and British Prime Minister Lloyd George, at Lucerne, have been concluded.

It is expected, however, that some time will elapse before the American Government's expression of opinion, as given in the Colby note, receives extensive circulation in Bolshevist territory.

Poles to Give Assurance.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (Associated Press).—Complete assurance will be given the United States, it is stated in Polish official circles, that Poland's victorious armies will not pursue their advance beyond the natural frontiers of the reconstituted republic. An early communication from Warsaw to this effect is expected by Polish officials here.

Representations setting forth the views of this Government have been made through the legation in Warsaw, the State Department announced today, the communication reiterating the views expressed by Secretary Colby in his recent note to the Italian Government. The position of the American Government as outlined then was that the allied and associated powers should unite in a declaration favoring the preservation of the integrity of Russia, such a declaration to be accompanied "by the announcement that no transgression by Poland will be permitted."

The Polish reply, Legation officials said, would set at rest any suspicions that Poland was contemplating the prolongation of hostilities into an offensive war against Russia. Assurances of this nature, it was added, had

WILSON CRITICISED BY LLOYD GEORGE

ALLIES SCORE THE SOVIET

Lucerne Communique Says New Demands on Poland Prove Gross Breach of Faith.

LUCERNE, Aug. 23 (Associated Press)—Premier Lloyd George, replying today to a question of the newspaper correspondents, said he considered President Wilson's present policy regarding Russia as inconsistent with his declaration relating to the Prinkipo conference. The Premier added that he had no wish or intention of mixing in American internal affairs.

He made the same comment concerning France when he was asked about the recognition of Wrangel, saying: "That is their affair."

Mr. Lloyd George and Premier Giolitti have adopted proposals to be submitted to France for allied action to secure Poland the free and unrestricted use of Danzig and its communications in accordance with the Versailles Treaty, according to an official announcement made here today.

Their conference closed this evening, when the Premiers sent the following telegram to M. Millerand, the French Premier and Foreign Minister:

"In finishing our Lucerne conference we send you a cordial salute and look forward with pleasure to the earliest occasion when both of us can meet your Excellency."

Agreed on Need of Early Peace.

An official statement issued regarding the conference says that the Premiers agreed to the vital need of the re-establishment of the peace of the world at the earliest possible moment and that the first guarantee of such a peace is to be found in the various treaties already concluded.

"The victors in war," continues the statement, "should display a spirit of moderation in their enforcement of terms and the vanquished a spirit of loyalty in their execution. With this aim, England and Italy trust that the good understanding reached at Spa will be further developed to cover all outstanding questions.

"Before peace is fully established, however, there are a number of important questions to be decided, a majority of which are indissolubly connected with the march of events in territories of the former Russian Empire. Until peace is fully established between Russia and the rest of the world an atmosphere of disturbance and unsettlement will continue to menace the world.

Soviet's Peace Terms Denounced.

"Therefore, the British and Italian Governments have been taking steps, in the face of much misrepresentation, to restorecommunications between Russia and the world outside. Therefore, with profound regret they have just heard that the Soviet Government, despite repeated assurances to the contrary, given officially on their behalf in London, have sought to impose on Poland conditions incompatible with national independence.

"The Government of Poland is based on the choice of the whole adult male population of the country without distinction of class, and the so-called civil army to be drawn from one class, which is referred to in the fourth condition of the Soviet terms, is only an indirect method of organizing a force to overthrow by violence this Democratic constitution and substitute for it the despotism of a privileged few who may have absorbed the doctrines of Bolshevism.

"We cannot help apprehending that when the detailed conditions of the composition of this force—kept back as they are now—are revealed later on, they will be found to be molded on the plan of the Russian Red Army. For one nation to insist as a condition of peace with another that the force organized for the protection of life, property and good order to the latter country shall be drawn from only one class of its citizens, to the exclusion of all others, is an unwarranted infringement of the

Gratitude to Gen. Weygand Expressed for Polish Nation

WARSAW, Aug. 23. — Ignace Daszinski, the Polish Vice Premier, has sent a letter to the French General, Weygand, expressing the gratitude and admiration of the Polish nation for his aid during the Polish crisis. The communication concludes: "Your attitude, your aid and the efficacious way you collaborated with our energetic army, will always remain impressed in the hearts of the Poles."

WARSAW, Aug. 23 (Associated Press)—The Russian Bolshevist forces are reacting virtually along the whole line in an effort to save the remnants of the Red Army, but they have so far been easily frustrated by the Poles.

On the north there is heavy fighting in the region of Miawa and Soldau. Forced to face two Polish armies, one advancing from Novo Georgievsk and the other from Graudenz, the Bolsheviki are making desperate efforts to extricate their advance guard, some of which adventured as far as Eylau and Plonsk. The Red losses in prisoners in this region have amounted to 11,000 in the past two days.

The attempt of the Reds to break the Polish lines on the Przasnysz-Makov-Rozany Road and cross the Narew River has completely failed. Polish troops advancing up the right bank of the Narew threw back the Bolsheviki to the north. Meanwhile the main body of the Poles, advancing from Warsaw, occupied all the territory in the fork of the Bug and the Narew.

The only chance of the Bolsheviki (trapped in the northwest) is to open a passage in the direction of Ostrolenka and Lomza, so as to get through to Bialystok and Grodno. The Polish troops accordingly are hastening their march toward Ostrolenka and Lomza, while the Polish cavalry, which has reached the upper waters of the Narew, has already cut the road between Lomza and Bialystok.

The battle now beginning on the Middle Narew is likely to decide the fate of all the Red forces between the Narew and the Prussian frontier. Red troops, comprising infantry and cavalry, are making a bold thrust in the direction of Brody and Lemberg. Further north Bolshevist detachments, debouching from Lutsk and Vladimir Volinsky, tried to force a passage of the Bug before Prubreszov, but were hurled back with heavy loss. The same fate befell the Reds who appeared in the region of Lemberg.

The Ukrainian regiments which are still on their old positions along the Strypa have successfully repelled all attempts of the Reds and maintain their original lines on the extreme right. In the centre the Polish troops which occupied Brest-Litovsk are digging in on the eastern border of Polesia. It is expected that the daring plan of the Bolsheviki against Lemberg will be definitely frustrated in the near future.

Prisoners Too Many to Count.

The process of bottling up the Russian Soviet forces on the northern front between Prussia and the Vistula River was completed yesterday, according to an official statement issued just before last midnight. The Poles closed the gateway of escape, taking prisoners and materials in such quantities that it is impossible to count them. One Polish infantry division alone took 5,000 prisoners and 16 guns.

The Soviet forces menacing Lemberg from the East and South commenced to retreat under pressure due, the statement said, to the continued Polish advance along the entire central and northern fronts. At one time General Budenny, the Soviet cavalry leader, was within nine miles of Lemberg, but has been thrown back in a southwesterly direction, and the Russians in this region are now retreating.

Twenty-two cannon were taken during the advance on the central front under the personal command of President Pilsudski.

On the extreme Polish left the Soviet cavalry was defeated and driven out of Soldau on Sunday night. The town of Grudusk, about twelve miles north of

$100,000 Skating House for Central Park Planned to Replace Present Wooden Structure

A $100,000 building to replace the old boathouse at the big lake in Central Park has been designed and will soon be constructed, it was learned yesterday. The new structure, a combination of boathouse and skating house, will be located on the south shore of the lake, between the Bow Bridge and the West Drive shore, on the site used every Winter for the construction of the emergency skating house.

The new building will be of graystone and will be one-story in height. In addition to dockage for the boats and rooms for skaters to put on and take of their skates, the building will house a restaurant. A series of terraces will be laid out on either side of the building.

It was explained last night that the improvement would be in no way an encroachment on the park, as it would be merely a substitute for the present boathouse, which will be dismantled. It was said that the old boathouse was in bad shape and that its further tenancy would be risky. The house was built so many years ago that not even the oldest park employe remembers when its clapboards were new.

The $100,000 project by the city was said to have the full support and approval of Park Commissioner Francis D. Gallatin. He could not be reached last night at the St. Regis Hotel, Saranac Lake, N. Y., where he is spending a short vacation.

Ciechanow, was taken, cutting off the retreat of the Bolshevist forces in the north and northwest by way of Mlawa and Przasnysz.

For pursuit of the Russians the Polish forces have been regrouped into two armies, the Northern one under General Haller and the Center army under President Pilsudski. The latter's turning movement continues under the best conditions. The Poles have counted more than 35,000 prisoners and 200 cannon.

General Haller's forces have reached the line from Mlawa to Przasnysz, and his right wing is moving toward Ostralenka, twenty-two miles southwest of Lomza. General Pilsudski's army has reached the line from Ostrov to Brianski and is continuing the pursuit toward Lomza and Bialystok, its right wing having captured Brest-Litovsk.

7,000 Reds Flee Into Prussia.

KOENIGSBERG, East Prussia, Aug. 23.—Seven thousand Russian Soviet soldiers with their equipment have crossed the German frontier in the region of Willenberg, East Prussia. They were disarmed and interned.

PARIS, Aug. 23 (Associated Press).—The number of Russian Soviet prisoners captured in the Polish counter-offensive will amount to 75,000, according to Warsaw advices to the French Foreign Office today.

Most of the 35,000 prisoners already counted were captured in the territory northwest of Warsaw, including the Danzig corridor, by the army under command of the French General Billotte, who formerly was Chief of Staff to General Lyautey, resident French Governor of Morocco. This army now is most effective and is composed of German trained men of Posen.

Another Polish army under command of the French General Henry is striking toward Bialystok from Warsaw, cutting off the Bolshevist retreat.

A third Polish column under President Pilsudski already has passed Brest-Litovsk, cutting off the Bolshevist Galician army from the north.

The French Foreign Office announced today that General Weygand now is Chief of the Polish Staff with full power, and that most of the 1,000 French officers in Poland are actually participating in the fighting.

A wireless message received here from Moscow today declares that, inasmuch as France is not in a state of war with Russia any French officer taken prisoner on the Warsaw front will be shot summarily, the Intransigeant says.

The Warsaw correspondent of the Matin quotes General Weygand as saying that Poland will be the "grave of three-fourths of the Bolshevist Army."

Two Polish cavalry divisions are advancing toward Bialystok for the evident purpose of cutting off the retreat of Soviet troops operating to the north of Warsaw. The correspondent declares the Bolsheviki will soon be forced into a hurried general retreat, and that discipline has broken down in their ranks.

The Bolshevist official statement on fighting operations picked up at Eiffel Tower today virtually was undecipherable. It contained a reference to a Soviet success in the regions of Brzezany and Lemberg, Galicia. The communique concludes:

"The pressure of Polish Legionaires compelled us to abandon a few towns. We must reinforce our rear reserves. We need a large number of volunteers forever to crush the Polish landlords."

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 23.—The Poles have recaptured Bialystok after desperate resistance by the Bolsheviki, says a dispatch to the Berlingske Tidende from Warsaw.

Cattle and Men Mingled in Mad Flight.

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—The Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent on the Russian front reports that the Russian retreat along the East Prussian border has developed into a panic under pressure of the Polish cavalry. Herds of cattle, cavalry and infantry are intermingled in the flight. Officers and commissaries are trying to restore order with their revolvers. Some of the regiments have thrown away their weapons.

The correspondent of the Tageblatt at Posen says that the First Russian Army is in full retreat in the direction of Grodno. The staff of the Fourth Army and all the revolutionary committees have evacuated Lomza, whose inhabitants had formed a militia force in the service of the revolutionary Government, which is also in flight. Lomza was pillaged before the evacuation.

It is reported that strong Russian reserves are stationed at Grodno and are being sent forward to Bialystok. The Lomza - Bialystok-Brest-Litovsk railway is in the hands of the Poles, consequently retreat in the southeasterly direction is impossible. The revolutionary committee has fled from Gravejo and other places.

The correspondent says that the Reds declare they could not stand the fire of the Polish and French aviators, who attacked from short distances and whose bombs worked havoc. They evidently were unaccustomed to Western fighting methods.

Most of the newspapers of Berlin are silent as to the unexpected turn in the Russo-Polish military situation. The Allgemeine Zeitung, owned by Hugo Stinnes, the German industrial magnate, believes the peace negotiations now being carried on at Minsk will be gravely jeopardized unless Russia's terms undergo a revision at the last moment.

"The world's political physiognomy," the newspaper says, "has been altered within the last week, and it cannot be said that German politics, as a result of the change, have become disencumbered. The ultimate effects of Russia's present military plight cannot be estimated as yet, but they are destined to make themselves felt in Crimea, and possibly may not be without influence on Bolshevist plans in the Orient."

Belief that "Germany's position, both at home and abroad, has been made worse as a result of the week's occurrences" is expressed by the Pan Germanic Deutsch Zeitung.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The manoeuvre whereby the Polish, Posnanian and Pomeranian troops are driving the Bolshevist forces eastward from Thorn into the arms of General Sikorski seems well on the way to success, telegraphs the Warsaw correspondent of The London Times under date of Aug. 22. Sikorski was expected to reach Mlawa on that day, leaving no escape for the Bolshevist infantry except into East Prussia.

The cavalry, adds the correspondent, will be more difficult to round up, especially with Chaja Khan at their head. General Cralewski, the Polish cavalry leader, has been sent out to engage the Russians.

Retirement of Russian Soviet forces from the city of Brest-Litovsk was officially admitted in a statement issued yesterday in Moscow and received here today by wireless. The statement reports fierce fighting in progress to the eastward of Wlodawa and Cholm, East of Lublin. In the Orlekov section of the Crimean fighting front, the Russian Soviet forces are overcoming the fierce resistance of the enemy, the statement says. The communiqué reads:

"Our troops in the Lomza region were engaged Aug. 22 with the enemy, who was developing his advance north of Ostrov (fifty miles northeast of Warsaw), east of Wlodawa and Cholm fierce fighting is proceeding.

"In the Hallcz region (sixty-five miles southeast of Lemberg, Galicia) we have debouched along the whole sector of the Zlota Lipa River and are fighting for possession of the fords across it.

"On the Crimean sector, in the Orlekov region, we are advancing and overcoming the enemy's fierce resistance."

PARIS, Aug. 23.—The Polish net is closing around the Bolshevist armies in the north. The latest dispatches from Warsaw announce that while on the Polish left the Third Army is driving the Reds before it, their centre has occupied Ostrov and Ostrolenka and is now marching northeastward in the direction of Bialystok, in liaison with Pilsudski's manoeuvre due north, with the common purpose of enveloping the Red centre of resistance in the region of Lomza.

It is here that the Bolsheviki are making a desperate attempt to gain time to permit the retirement of their troops, which in the rashness of victory had been thrust so far westward along the German frontier.

It is announced that no further reinforcements are reaching the Reds from the east, and that the spirit of the Bolshevist troops is so low that rifles and equipment are being flung aside in headlong flight.

The Red losses are greatly augmented by the sufferings that during their advance they inflicted on the Polish peasantry, who, now that the tide has turned, have gone out en masse, armed with pikes and scythes, and are showing scant mercy to the Red stragglers wandering in disorganized thousands across country.

SEEKS TO GET NEWS TO PEACE ENVOYS

REDS INCREASED DEMANDS

Wanted the Polish Army to Disarm and Turn Weapons Over to 200,000 Workmen.

WARSAW, Aug. 22 (Associated Press).—The Foreign Office announcement of Saturday night that Poland would not accept the Russian Soviet terms presented to the Polish peace delegates at Minsk refers to those submitted by M. Danisheysky, Chairman of the Soviet delegation, at Thursday's session of the Russo-Polish conference.

The Polish delegation's instructions were to insist upon an honorable and durable peace and it was said at the Foreign Office today that no new instructions had been sent. As rapidly as possible the Polish delegates at Minsk are being informed by wireless and otherwise of the Polish military successes, which may result in reversing the situation or at least greatly changing the terms the Soviet delegates presented at the opening of negotiations.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—The Polish peace delegates at Minsk have reported that the Soviet representatives are increasing in severity the published peace terms, demanding now that the arms the Bolsheviki hope the Polish Army will lay down be given to 200,000 Polish workmen.

Freaks of the Moscow Wireless.

WARSAW, Aug. 21.—It may be wondered whether diplomacy by wireless has much of a future, so much seems to depend upon the willingness of the party at the other end to send or accept messages.

When the Polish peace delegates journeyed to Minsk they did so on the strict understanding that they should be allowed free communication with their Government at Warsaw and departed with fine modern wireless apparatus as part of their impedimenta. Delegates and wireless duly arrived at their destination and at the same time the Russian armies which were threatening Warsaw were driven back and the military situation as whole so improved for the Poles as to cause an essential change in the atmosphere in which the peace conditions were to be negotiated.

So Warsaw duly wirelessed Minsk only to find that Minsk was deaf and that no communication could be obtained. Warsaw was rather desperate, considering what was at stake, and hit upon a bright idea. It wirelessed to Moscow and asked the Soviet Government if it would kindly inform the Polish delegates that the military situation had improved, that the French had recognized General Wrangel and that America had sent a note to Italy outlining its attitude toward Poland and Russia, all of which things the delegates would have to take into consideration in the negotiations. The Soviets intimated that they had received the message, that they would be pleased to convey it to the Polish delegates at Minsk and that in future communication with Minsk would be open between 2 and 4 in the afternoon, Greenwich time.

The Government at Warsaw therefore waited and a communication from the delegates duly arrived today, but is stated to be the second dispatch, although no previous one has been received. This dispatch, however, said that the Russian delegates had at first raised technical objections to the Polish delegates' credentials, but that difficulty had been satisfactorily adjusted later. The Bolsheviki had presented terms not detailed in the dispatch, but stated to be stiffer than those outlined to the British Government, although at the time the message was sent the Bolshevist commissaries were said to be moderating their attitude in view of the military situation.

This message is the first break in the Trappist silence maintained by the Soviet Government as to the proceedings at Minsk, and being very bald causes wonder as to what the first message can possibly have been about.

In view of this missing message and Poland's previous troubles with diplomacy by wireless one wonders whether wireless is satisfactory in this connection or whether the stories of breakdowns are not simply romances.

Only Two Correspondents Reach Minsk.

Copyright, 1920, by the Chicago Tribune Co.

WARSAW, Aug. 23.—Desperate efforts on the part of newspaper correspondents at Warsaw to reach Minsk have been in vain. The Polish Government, on the quiet, provided trucks for the Polish and French representatives, and one Briton obtained by good luck an old car, in which he set forth, accompanied by another Briton and an American. All of the automobiles struck destroyed roads and bridges, had difficulties with their passes, and finally engine troubles which forced them to return to Warsaw tonight.

As a result, the only Warsaw correspondents to reach Minsk are The Associated Press and Polish Telegraph Agency representatives, who were the only ones allowed to accompany the Polish delegation.

MAY BAR AMERICAN STEAMER AT DANZIG

Tower Maintains His Attitude Against the Unloading of Munitions for Poland.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Unless Sir Reginald T. Tower, High Commissioner of the League of Nations at Danzig, has received instructions from the French and British Governments to the contrary, it is unlikely that he will allow the American Shipping Board's steamer North Pine, now on its way from Salonica, to unload at Danzig. She is reported to be in charge of a party of Poles and carrying munitions for the Polish Army.

[A dispatch from Saloniki last Saturday said that an American steamer with munitions destined for Poland had left there Aug. 17 for Danzig under Polish command. The dispatch did not give the name of the vessel.]

Sir Reginald Tower still maintains his position that the landing of munitions at Danzig would cause trouble, and that the troops under his command at present would be unable to cope with it. The High Commissioner has reported this situation fully to the British and French Governments, and declared that it would require 20,000 troops to insure the safety of the munitions, and also requesting advice.

Great Britain and France, as far as is reported from Paris tonight, have not yet been able to decide what to do. It was pointed out officially today that, while Sir Reginald Tower technically was breaking the letter of the Versailles Treaty, he undoubtedly was preventing serious trouble, and the tendency in official quarters here was to sustain him in his idea of acting first and asking advice afterward.

There are at least 50,000 Jews in Danzig, nearly all of them awaiting the chance to emigrate to the United States, says a dispatch from Danzig today.

In an effort to alleviate the misery created by the lack of accommodations the Joint Distribution Committee for the distribution of American Jewish relief has opened offices in Danzig and is rendering all possible aid.

DANZIG, Aug. 23.—The situation created by the withdrawal of the Russian forces operating in Northern Poland now permits the resumption of the distribution by the Red Cross of American supplies from Danzig to Warsaw by railway by way of Mlawa and Marienwerder. This line is again in operation, and many tons of American Red Cross medical and relief supplies for the war sufferers of Poland are being loaded.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—German workers at Danzig have established Soviets and have seized the docks, preventing the landing of any supplies for Poland, according to a report from that city. The German commander of the port is said to have refused to assign moorings for the French dispatch boat Accra and the cruiser Gueydon. Sir Reginald T. Tower, High Commissioner for the League of Nations at Danzig, has refused to take any responsibility, declaring he must await instructions from London.

REDS EVACUATING BAKU.

Counter-Revolution in Daghestan Turns Tables in Caspian Region.

LONDON, Tuesday, Aug. 24.—A dispatch from Teheran to The Daily Mail says it is reported that a counter-revolution has broken out in Daghestan, on the Caspian Sea, and that the Bolsheviki are evacuating Baku.

The Bolsheviki are retreating toward Resht, pursued by Persian Cossacks.

CHARGES ATROCITIES BY SOVIET TROOPS

Polish Attache, Returning to Washington, Brings Stories of Tortures.

HAS PHOTOGRAPH EVIDENCE

Other Passengers on the Lafayette Tell of Europe's Alarm Over Bolshevism.

Bringing reports, signed by alleged eyewitnesses, of atrocities committed by Soviet troops in Poland, with photographs of the victims, Henryk Arctowski returned to this country yesterday on the French liner Lafayette, on his way to Washington. He was sent in May last on a special mission to Warsaw by the Polish Legation in Washington, and had charge of 850 refugees returning to this country, leaving Warsaw twelve days ago.

Mr. Arctowski was visibly moved yesterday as he drew the photographs from a portfolio to show them to a TIMES reporter. "When I see these pictures and think what my poor suffering countrymen have undergone at the hands of these savages, I can hardly control myself," he said.

"Nothing that was done by the Germans in Belgium or any other part of Europe in the early days of the great war," he continued, "could compare with what the Bolsheviki are doing in Poland today. The Poles are fighting, with their backs to the wall, for civilization and Christianity against savage hordes who want to overrun Europe and destroy every form of humane government. Not content with torturing the civilians, men and women, in the towns they have captured, they behave like banditti and leave the bodies of their victims lying nude by the wayside or in the charred embers of their houses.

"Their favorite method of torture is to drive steel nails into the brains of their captives. Another method is tearing the eyes out and leaving the victim to die in agony, after stripping the body of all clothing.

"A third torture is what the Bolshevist fiends call giving a pair of gloves, by cutting a circle around the wrists with a sharp knife and then drawing the skin down over the hands."

At this point the Polish Attaché produced several photographs showing the naked bodies of civilian inhabitants with their faces full of small holes made by steel nails.

One photograph showed the body of a Polish Red Cross nurse in uniform. She had been shot and left on the field after being given first aid treatment. Later her eyes had been torn out. Near her body was one of a Polish surgeon, in Red Cross uniform, who had received similar treatment.

Another set of pictures showed ten boy scouts who had been surrounded by Soviet soldiers and hacked to pieces in Ploskirow, Podolia, about 400 miles southwest of Warsaw. Some of the photographs showed fully fifty or more naked bodies lying on the ground with marks of the nails in their faces and skin hanging over their hands that were too terrible to gaze upon.

"I am taking these pictures to Washington and another set of them has been sent to London and one to Paris," Mr. Arctowski said. "It is impossible that men and women in America and Great Britain can dream for one moment of making an alliance with the Bolsheviki. Poland is fighting for the Jews as well as the Christians. The reports of pogroms in Poland are chiefly the work of agitators among the Jews in the big cities, and are deplored by the respectable members of the Hebrew community, who realize the harm such propaganda is doing to our common cause.

"When I left Warsaw twelve days ago the booming of the guns could be heard and the enemy was not very far from its gates. Since then the Bolsheviki have been driven back, and they must be crushed before we can ever have any real peace on earth.

"After I have visited the Legation in Washington and made my report I intend to circulate these pictures and will give addresses in the churches in the United States, with lantern slides, in order that the laboring men who have refused to handle munitions to help Poland may know the kind of people they are working for. The sympathizers of the Bolsheviki will say, perhaps, that the stories of the atrocities are exaggerated, but in addition to the photographs we have the time and place where these deeds were committed and the survivors who saw them enacted."

Another passenger who returned from Poland on the Lafayette was Henry Colodny, a New York business man, who said the situation in Poland as the Soviet armies advanced toward Warsaw was very bad. Hundreds of Polish refugees, mostly Jews, who had been forced to leave their homes and flee to Warsaw, had waited for weeks to get a visé from the United States Consul in that city to enable them to embark at Danzig for America. The walt was so long that in many cases, he added, the refugee's little stock of money was eaten up and he could not afford to pay the high steerage fares now charged by the steamship companies. If America did not help Poland, and the Bolsheviki were permitted to swarm over the country, they would continue into Germany and Austria and that would be the end of the world so far as modern civilization was concerned, he asserted.

Etienne Gros Claude, former editor of the Journal de Paris, who was also a passenger on the Lafayette, said the Bolshevist menace was the most dangerous thing in Europe and the world today. "We are helping the Poles," he added, "with arms and ammunition and some of our skilled military leaders because the French Government is aware that the frontier of East Prussia is the last barrier, and if the Soviet armies pass beyond, it will be the end of everything."

With Mr. Arotowski were two other Polish diplomatic representatives from Warsaw, M. Chaziz and Elias Huberland, who said they were on their way to Washington to confer with United States officials upon matters of vital importance to Polish existence, but declined to discuss the nature of their mission.

700 IRISH MODERATES INVITED TO CONFER

Sinn Feiners and O'Brienites Refuse to Attend, but Catholics Will Be Represented.

DUBLIN, Aug. 23.—Seven hundred tickets have been issued for the conference of the Irish Moderates on Tuesday to representatives of every section of Irish life except the Sinn Feiners and O'Brienites, both of which have refused to attend.

Those who will attend the conference include men who heretofore have been prominent Unionists, Nationalists and Moderates, among them Colonel Sir Nugent T. Everard, Lord Lieutenant of County Meath, and the Right Rev. B. J. Plunket, Protestant Bishop of Meath, who is a son of Baron Plunket, once Lord Bishop of London.

Although not every Catholic priests have applied for tickets, there will be some representatives of the Catholics on the platform, including Monsignor Ryan of Tipperary.

The Chairman of the meeting probably will be Sir Stanley Harrington, a chemical manufacturer and Commissioner of National Education in Ireland, who has accepted Viscount French's offer of a seat in the Lord Lieutenant's Advisory Council.

The O'Brienites, Timothy and Maurice Healy, William O'Brien, Eugene Crean, John Guiney, D. D. Sheehan and John Walsh, all former Members of Parliament, have jointly refused to attend the conference on the ground that at a moment when "measures are on foot to take the lives of the Lord Mayor of Cork and his fellow political prisoners," when Archbishop Mannix is refused admission to Ireland, and when "our country lies under the scourge of an atrocious military despotism," the only course is "to refuse to enter into peace negotiations with Lloyd George and refer him to the elected representatives of the Irish people."

The party headed by Stephen L. Gwynn, formed in April to advance unity in Ireland, held a meeting this afternoon and decided to attend the conference in support of the views of Mr. Gwynn.

WASHINGTON MINIMIZES SOVIETS' AID TO TURKS

Observers Attach Little Importance to Passage of Bolshevist Forces Across Armenia.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The reported passage of two Bolshevist infantry regiments across Armenia in an effort to effect a junction with the Turkish Nationalist forces of Mustapha Kemal Pasha is not regarded in well informed quarters as being a development of marked significance. No undue alarm is felt here regarding possible co-operation on an extended scale between Soviet Russia and the Turkish elements opposing the enforcement of the peace treaty, nor is it believed that the Bolsheviki will be able to obtain any strong hold upon the Mohammedans of the British Empire.

Officials here who are in close contact with Near Eastern affairs assert that there is no possibility that any powerful union can be effected between Mohammedan peoples, every phase of whose life is joined with the belief and practice of the Moslem religion, and the Bolsheviki, whose fundamental doctrine denies and attacks the entire foundation of that faith and the life derived from it. While efforts may be made through Moslem discontent in Turkey and other Mohammedan regions to profit by the political situation of these elements to extend Soviet power or to effect a show of united menace to European Governments, the best opinion here is that such efforts by the Moscow Government will amount to little more than bluff, since real Bolshevist military co-operation on a large scale is not considered possible. Unless Soviet Russia, therefore, has the power and is ready to undertake the military domination of the Moslem East, it is believed in well informed quarters here that the so-called Bolshevist menace to the Near East is exaggerated.

already been given the Soviet Government envoys by the Polish peace delegates at Minsk.

No formal representations have been exchanged with the Allies by the United States regarding the possible transition of the Polish operations from a defensive to an offensive character. The American Government is understood to be content with the position as set forth in its note, and the representations made to the Polish Government have been only an elaboration of the principles enunciated in that document.

Great Britain, however, through Premier Lloyd George, has already announced her opposition to any Polish invasion of Russian territory. It is believed that for the present the British Government will rest on the announcement of its position by Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons before taking up a possible formal rejoinder to the American note to the Italian Ambassador.

The first approaches to a joint allied policy toward the respective situations is believed here to have been made by Lloyd George in his present conferences with Premier Giolitti of Italy, and in the later discussions with Premier Millerand of France. It is also regarded by officials here as significant in this connection that the British Premier is reported to be planning to receive this week the German Premier, Dr. Fehrenbach, and Dr. Walter Simons, German Minister of Foreign Affairs. It is not believed that the United States will receive any further replies to the American note on the Polish situation until the series of conferences between the British and the Italian, French and German Premiers has been concluded.

Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador, and Prince Lubomirski, the Polish Minister, conferred today with Secretary Colby at the State Department. It is understood that the Russian and Polish situations, in all their rapidly shifting perspectives, were under discussion at the two conferences.

WOMEN HERE PICKET BRITISH CONSULATE

Sinn Fein Sympathizers Stage a Protest Against Imprisonment of Mayor of Cork.

PARADE IN WHITEHALL ST.

Carry Placards Assailing England, but Nobody Interferes and They Attract Little Attention.

Women sympathizers of the Sinn Fein yesterday began what they threatened would be an indefinite picket of the British Consulate at 44 Whitehall Street. The protest, they said, was staged against the imprisonment of Terence MacSweney, Lord Mayor of Cork, now in jail and hunger-striking against a sentence of sedition.

Recognizing apparently that there may be some things English that are fair enough, the protestants calmly paraphrased a good old English song—"The Song of the Western Men"—a regular sturdy oak of a British ballad, to get the words for their principal placard.

The advent of the women gravely parading up and down the sidewalk of Whitehall Street, the solemnity of their countenance, and the lettering of their placards letting the world know why they were there, at first drew a great deal of attention. But it didn't last, for as the day wore on the down-and-outers, the professionals in the placard line, the dismal reminders of pawnshops and restaurants and diamond sales, came back into their own. And last night, when the folks who are brave enough to live on Staten Island, began to scurry for the Mayor's and Grover Whalen's ferryboats there was hardly a one who bothered to take a peek at the paraders rapidly being enveloped in the dusk of Whitehall Street's evening.

And as for the British Consul, Counsellor Watson or the rest of the staff, it was reliably asserted that they couldn't see the paraders with field glasses. They were as unperturbed as the Thames at 2 A. M. any mild Summer Monday, it appeared.

No Preliminary Advertising.

Three policemen and nearly 200 citizens, including office boys, messenger men and stenographers, were on hand when the first of the sympathizers came into view. There had been no preliminary advertising of the stunt, not a press agent had peeped, and some of the crowd thought the women were advertising soap or suffrage or something in between the two.

First there came Eileen Curran, with two friends, Miss Helen Crowe and Miss Helen Merriam. Quite possibly the press agent of the players may overlook the opportunity, so it should be chronicled that Miss Curran is a member of the Celtic Players. The Misses Curran and Crowe carried the placards. They were—the placards—two and a half feet long and three feet wide. Miss Curran's in bold, black letters said:

And shall MacSweney die?
And shall MacSweney die?
There's twenty million Irishmen
Who'll know the reason why.

In the original English of the old song, the words were:

And shall Trelawney die?
And shall Trelawney die?
Here's twenty thousand Cornishmen
Will know the reason why.

The English version referred to Sir Jonathan Trelawney, who was Bishop of Bristol, Exeter and Winchester, prelate of the Order of the Garter and imprisoned for a spell in the Tower of London during 1688, when the song was supposed to have been sung.

The second placard of the vanguard of the picketers was Miss Crowe's:

"Are two Mayors of Cork to be martyred in six months to sustain British rule in Ireland?"

Police Offer No Interference.

Soon after the women began their demonstration six others arrived and began to pace back and forth. The police made no effort to interfere with their passage, contenting themselves with seeing that the crowd kept orderly and on the move. The march of the women was from Whitehall and State Streets to Whitehall and Pearl Streets. Among the women in the reinforcements were Dr. Gertrude B. Kelly, an officer of the Irish Women's Council and noted for her Erin freedom work; Miss Mary Steele and Miss Maurya O'Brannan. Miss Steele's message was:

"Eighteen unconscious and dying men carried off by force on stretchers in British battleships to English prisons to die."

Miss O'Brannan's sign divulged that:

"British police and soldiers forcibly entered MacCurtain's peaceful home and murdered him in cold blood, March 1, 1920."

Dr. Kelly was asked to tell about the demonstration and especially to disclose what organizations were represented. "American women," was the answer, and it was added: "See the telegrams in this morning's papers."

The telegrams mentioned were messages sent to Secretary of State Colby by the Irish Women's Council, Irish Progressive League and the Irish Liberal Society protesting against MacSweney's imprisonment. Pressed further for their plans, the pickets said they would remain on the job until last night—and they did in the virtually empty street—and then resume the work today.

on the County Down side of the town, which had not been affected previously. This section was then ravaged.

An inquest into the death of Constable Brennan, who was shot and killed at Dundalk, was abandoned today, as only eight of the seventeen jurors answered to their names.

Mannix Finds Cork Mayor Very Ill.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Lord Mayor Terence MacSweney of Cork, who is in Brixton jail, London, on a hunger strike, was reported weaker today, but still determined not to abandon the strike.

Answering those who tried to persuade him to change his mind, Lord Mayor MacSweney declared: "It is useless to compare my case with that of others. I feel that, as Lord Mayor of Cork and Chief Magistrate, my case is different. If I give way now, I shall give away the cause of Irish liberty. I would rather die than do that."

Archbishop Mannix of Australia, with the Bishops of Ballarat and Killaloe, visited the Lord Mayor in the prison this afternoon, remaining twenty-five minutes.

When the three prelates departed a crowd which had gathered inquired as to the Lord Mayor's condition. The Bishop of Killaloe replied briefly: "He is very prostrate."

liberty, independence and self-respect of that country.

Reds Charged With Bad Faith.

"To have added such a condition after M. Kameneff's pledges to the British Government that nothing not of a secondary nature was omitted from his summary of the terms, is a gross breach of faith, and negotiation of any kind with a Government which so lightly treats its work becomes difficult, if not impossible.

"The Soviet Government has rejected the suggestion by the British Government for a truce under conditions which would have guaranteed Russian territory against any acts of aggression and has continued its career of invasion of ethnographical Poland with a view to the conquest of that country by force of arms for Soviet institutions.

"If the Soviet Government, notwithstanding the punishment which its aggression is encountering, still refuses to withdraw this sinister proposal, but continues the war inside Polish territory in order to force its acceptance on the Polish people, no free Government can either acknowledge or deal with the Soviet oligarchy.

"What has befallen in this short war to the invaders of national rights, whether in Russia or in Poland, ought to teach wisdom to aggressors. The world, East and West, is crying for peace, but peace is only obtainable on the basis of full recognition of the liberties of nations.

"The British and Italian governments are alarmed at the indefinite prolongation of the present state of conflict among nations. The peoples engaged in these antagonisms can bring nothing but ever-increasing misery to the peoples of the world at large, for they involve continued unrest. Until these conflicts cease the betterment of agriculture, industry and the interchange of commodities, on which the economic life of nations depends, cannot come into full operation. Scarcity and high prices, with attendant privations and perils, are the inevitable result.

"Civilization itself, shaken and weakened by five years of incessant warfare, is menaced by the prospect. The British and Italian Governments, therefore, are united in urging that every effort be made to bring to a conclusion the existing conditions of strife between nations."

Premiers Grant Interview.

The two Premiers received about forty newspaper correspondents at a hotel. The newspapermen received the long communiqué which had been drafted by the Premiers and which Mr. Lloyd George, with a twinkle in his eye, said had been sent already to London and Paris.

"I took this precaution," Mr. Lloyd George said, "in order not to have the wires clogged by press reports. It will also save you time and money."

Mr. Lloyd George wore a gray suit and was smoking a cigar. Signor Giolitti, who was dressed in black, sat on a sofa. The correspondents formed a ring about the two Premiers, who asked the correspondents whether they had any questions to ask. The correspondents had many, but the replies to them generally were most diplomatic. Both the statesmen, however, said they would not receive any German emissaries. Mr. Lloyd George asserted that he had had no communication from Prince Feisal, King of Syria, but declared that he would have no objection to receiving him should he come to Lucerne.

The Italian correspondents bombarded Giolitti with questions which he answered cautiously and slowly. Several times Mr. Lloyd George raised a laugh, in which he joined heartily, by referring his questioners to "my friend Giolitti."

The general impression is that the Lucerne meeting was more important than was at first thought, and there seems to be no doubt that a reliable friendly understanding, which hitherto had been lacking, was reached between the two Premiers and promises well for their coming meeting with Premier Millerand of France.

Mr. Lloyd George told the correspondents that he probably would be present at this meeting.

Speaking of Danzig Mr. Lloyd George laid emphasis on the statement that the interruption of communication there was a violation of the Versailles Treaty, which must be respected. Poland, he declared, must be able to supply herself by way of Danzig. "However, we have learned that ships were not stopped at Danzig," he added.

The Paris correspondent having asked if the questions to be considered at Aix had already been settled at Lucerne, Mr. Lloyd George referred him to Signor Giolitti. The Italian Premier said that the Lucerne meeting was not a European conference, adding, "the points pending will be settled at Aix." Signor Giolitti said he thought there was no point on which there was not unanimous agreement.

Constantine Sees Man Who Ousted Him.

As the newspapermen left, Mr. Lloyd George asked them not to worry him any more. He told the Associated Press correspondent that he was afraid he would be obliged to curtail his holiday in Switzerland, owing to the seriousness of the labor situation at home.

There was one pathetic touch to the meeting this afternoon, when former King Constantine and former Queen Sofia of Greece, from the balcony of the hotel, watched the smiling David Lloyd George, the man who had a large share in driving them from Greece, entering the hotel amid the cheering of the crowd.

Premiers for Poland's "Full Rights."

LONDON, Tuesday, Aug. 24.—Premiers Lloyd George and Giolitti, at their concluding conference, drafted a proposal to France recommending immediate action to procure for Poland her full rights under the Treaty of Versailles, according to the Lucerne correspondent of The London Times.

The decision, reached after Premier Lloyd George had received the newest peace terms, adds the correspondent, constitutes a firm re-establishment of the Franco-British alliance.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—Dr. Walter Rathenau, German industrial leader, arrived at Lucerne on Sunday and Konstantin Fehrenbach, the German Chancellor, is expected there today, according to information received in this city. Dr. Fehrenbach is understood to have asked Premier Lloyd George for a conference, but nothing as to the latter's decision has been learned. It is considered possible that Mr. Lloyd George will receive Dr. Fehrenbach on Thursday, in which case Dr. Walter Simons, German Minister of Foreign Affairs, will also attend.

FRENCH ARE SUSPICIOUS OF LUCERNE MEETING

Credit Lloyd George with Desire to Withdraw from Continental Entanglements.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 23. — Premier Lloyd George is trying to follow America's example and disengage Great Britain from Continental entanglements. That is the statement made in an interview with the Intransigeant correspondent at Lucerne "by an English personage who is a friend and perhaps an adviser of the British Premier, and who has been associated with him since the beginning of his political career."

This Englishman declares that Lloyd George has no grievance against Millerand owing to the French attitude on the Russian question, but that he is forced to act differently from the French Premier by the sentiment of the British people, who are weary of wars and complications and want nothing so much as a return to normal conditions.

This point of view is rather different from that of a considerable section of the French press, which has been somewhat inclined to regard the Lucerne meeting as a sort of Witches' Sabbath, where Lloyd George, whose friendship for France is supposed to have cooled; Giolitti, whose friendship for France has never been apparent, and the Germans Fehrenbach and von Simons, whose enmity is to be expected, are engaged in mysterious confabulations from which nothing good for France is likely to come.

The French suspicions have been allayed to some extent by semi-official announcements from Lucerne that discussions, not decisions, are the order of the day between the British and Italian Premiers, and that, even if certain points have been decided in principle, they will not become definitive until after the meeting of Giolitti and Millerand at Aix-les-Bains, which is expected to take place early next month. The underlying factor of the whole political situation is that England and France are divided on the two most important questions before the world today: How to treat Germany, and how to treat Russia. Their disagreement is fundamental, and it is difficult to see how it can be reconciled. England wants German economic recovery for business purposes. France can do without German trade and wants to keep Germany down for her own safety's sake.

Regarding Russia, England, or at any rate the English Government, believes that the Bolsheviki are now firmly in the saddle, that they cannot be displaced and must be allowed to evolve along natural lines. France believes that Russia will sooner or later recover from her Bolshevist madness and that the Soviet Government will not gradually change into something more reasonable, but suddenly and with violence give place to it.

The logical conclusion of the French view is hostility toward the Bolsheviki; of the English view a tendency to compromise with them. The result is diplomatic confusion, which can only be cleared up by definite events to settle the matter one way or the other.

HARDING TO CONFER WITH HUGHES TODAY

Senator Will Also Discuss Policies This Week with Henry P. Davison.

PLAN OTHER CONFERENCES

Frank Knox Tells Nominee Former Wood Advocates Are United in His Support.

Special to The New York Times.

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 23.—Senator Harding announced today a series of conferences to be held this week with foes and friends of the League of Nations. These discussions are to continue while the Senator writes his speech on the League and foreign policies to be delivered here on Saturday, which is regarded as one of the most important of the entire campaign.

Charles E. Hughes, Republican Presidential nominee in 1914, is coming tomorrow by invitation from the Senator, presumably to discuss foreign policies first and then other issues. Mr. Hughes is considered here to be a mild reservationist. He would make the best of the League with a few modifications, and generally is regarded as its friend. It is understood that while he would tone down Article X he would not follow the Knox group of Senators to the extreme of nullifying that and other articles.

Another advocate of the League and of American responsibility in Europe is Henry P. Davison, of J. P. Morgan & Co., and head of the American Red Cross, who will talk with the Senator on Friday. Mr. Davison has been urging strongly that the nation can not throw off the obligations acquired in Europe.

Colonel George Harvey of New York and Ira E. Bennett, editor of the Washington Post, spent most of today with Senator Harding. They are both classed as irreconcilables on the League issue. They had luncheon with the Senator and presumably were not far apart in their presentation of their views of foreign policy.

Colonel Harvey Prolongs Visit.

Colonel Harvey came here, it was announced last Saturday, to spend the weekend with the Senator, and it was the understanding that his primary concern was the League issue. Today it was announced that the Colonel would stay two or three days longer. It is not known whether he will attend the conference tomorrow between the Senator and Mr. Hughes.

Senator Harding drove to Crestline, where Mr. Bennett took a train this afternoon, and then continued to Mansfield, where he played golf and had dinner with Colonel Harvey. They left Marion because the Senator wishes to get some exercise and continue without interruption his discussion with Colonel Harvey.

Another visitor this week will be George Sutherland of Utah, President of the American Bar Association, who has decided views on the League question and wants reservations. Fred D. Underwood, President of the Erie Railway, will be here on Friday, and presumably will discuss with the Senator the attitude of railway employes toward the Republican ticket, as well as the general railroad situation.

"The underlying insincerity of the Democratic campaign is having a decided effect in the Northwest," declared Willis C. Cook of Sioux Falls, national Republican committeeman from South Dakota, after a talk with Senator Harding today. "They nominated the 'wettest' candidate in their field, because he was the wettest, and because their wets all wanted him. They made a platform that is wet in wet territory and dry in dry territory, and the program is a wink for the wets and a nudge for the drys.

"It isn't working well. Out in our country, where dry sentiment rules, there is increasing suspicion. People don't like the Cox ticket backed by Murphy, Taggart, Brennan and the rest of the wets. They will not have it.

"No more do they like the insincerity of Governor Cox attacking business while he has himself made a great fortune out of exploitations in franchises and corporate organizations. They know his political machine in Ohio, his business career and they don't like the idea of having such ideals placed in charge of the nation's business.

"The campaign is young, but already the feeling is firmly established that Governor Cox, in trying to imitate Roosevelt, has succeeded in giving only a poor imitation of Bryan, and the results will be those familiar at the close of all the Bryan campaigns."

Knox Pledges Support of Wood Men.

Frank Knox, publisher of the Manchester (N. H.) Union, who was floor chief of the Leonard Wood forces in the Chicago Convention, called on Senator Harding today. Their discussion touched not only the New England situation, but that of aggressive support for the Republican ticket by those who were most active in the pre-convention period on behalf of Leonard Wood.

"Since the National Convention I have been in more or less continuous correspondence with the men who led the fight for Wood in Chicago," said Mr. Knox, "and without exception they are loyally, energetically and enthusiastically supporting Senator Harding. With the same fine loyalty which they displayed on behalf of General Wood they are now back of the ticket, and in their respective States they are powerful factors.

"I most sincerely hope that Governor Cox will continue to perform as he is right now. He is rapidly becoming a real asset to the Republican Party. With every fresh declaration from him the impression gains ground that he is engaged in a task far beyond his powers and is a candidate for an office the proportions and responsibilities of which he is totally unable to grasp. He has staged a political vaudeville in which he seems bent upon producing a fresh sensation with every appearance, entirely reckless, apparently, of the source from which he obtains the suggestion, or inspiration, for each sensation, and whether if called upon to do so he can support with facts the charges and assertions he makes."

Marion and the Harding headquarters are "all set" for a big lark tomorrow, when the New York members of the Harding and Coolidge Theatrical League will visit the front porch and tell the Senator the stage is for him. The John Hand Band of Chicago will provide the music, while the actors will supply the jazz. They will arrive at 7:30, but insist that they must not be disturbed until 9 o'clock. Then they will go to the Marion Club for a breakfast, and at 11 o'clock will visit the front porch.

After the entertainment and speeches at the Senator's residence, Mr. and Mrs. Harding and the stars and managers will go to the White Oaks farm, Dr. Sawyer's sanitarium, near Marion, for luncheon and further entertainment.

Nathan L. Miller Here Today.

Nathan L. Miller of Syracuse, organization Republican candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, will arrive here today for a series of conferences with New York City Republican leaders, which probably will be held at the National Republican Club. Arrangements will be made for a primary campaign committee to take charge of the campaigns of all the candidates designated by the unofficial Republican State Convention.

BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT OF VICTORY IN MAINE

Election on Sept. 13 Is Political Barometer—White Says Cox Is Sure of Ohio.

Diverse views on the outlook in Maine, which holds its State election on Sept. 13, were expressed yesterday by Will H. Hays, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, and George White, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Now that Vermont has changed the date of its State election to conform with the general election, the Maine State election is considred the best remaining political barometer. A forecast of the result of the Presidential contest is found in the size of the Republican plurality, while if the State should go Democratic in September, a Democratic national victory in November is believed to be almost inevitably foreshadowed.

"There is evidence in Maine of a coming Republican majority double that of any in the last twenty years," said Mr. Hays, who had just returned from Maine, where he spoke Saturday at a gathering of Republican leaders in Augusta. "This is true because the voters are absolutely determined to end the Democratic administration of national affairs and because of their approval of the Republican position and Republican purposes."

Mr. White said that his reports from Maine were most "optimistic." "These reports were received before Mr. Hays spoke there on Saturday," he added with a smile. "I haven't had any reports since then."

The Maine situation was discussed at Democratic National Headquarters yesterday. United States Senator Willard Saulsbury of Delaware was a caller at headquarters while on his way to take part in the speaking campaign in that State. Other callers included George Brennan, Democratic leader in Illinois, and John O'Dwyer of Toledo, Ohio, Chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee. Mr. White was asked what he heard about Ohio.

"I should say that it is a reasonable certainty that Governor Cox will beat Senator Harding in that State," he replied.

ACTORS TO GO TO MARION.

Song Composed by Jolson to be Sung to Harding Today.

Seventy members of the Harding and Coolidge Theatrical League, formed under the leadership of Al Jolson, departed last night for Marion, Ohio, and will be received by Senator Harding there today. The Jolson party will be joined at Marion by a band of 100 persons from Chicago. A Harding song, composed by Mr. Jolson, will be sung for the first time. The members of the party, as announced by the Republican National Committee, included the following:

Al Jolson, Bud De Sylva, Walter Morosco, Paul Lannin, Lew Cody, James Quirk, W. H. Grant, Sam Gerson, W. H. Southardt, Wanda Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Greene, W. B. Pettijohn, John Connelly, Alice Lloyd, Jack Hughes, Paul Caesar, Leo Carillo, Edgar Selwyn, Robert Emmett Keane, Henry E. Dixey, Charles Dupree, W. B. Vosburgh, Edith Cunningham, Marguerite Namara, Blanche Ring, George Edmunds, Eugene O'Brien, Conway Tearle, Zena Keefe, Marguerite Clayton, Ruby De Remer, Texas Guinan, Myrtle Dunham, Valeska Suratt, Jennie Jacobs, Florence Moore, Martha Mansfield, Evan Burroughs Fontaine, Marguerite Marsh, Charles McClintock, Evelyn Nesbit, Dorothy Klewer, and Claudine Klewer.

HUGHES TO AID HARDING.

Confers with Hays Here and Says He Will Speak for Ticket.

Charles E. Hughes, Republican nominee for President in 1916, assured Will H. Hays, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, yesterday that he was heartily in sympathy with the Republican national ticket and offered his services to help in the election of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President. In a luncheon conference with Mr. Hays at the Lawyers' Club, Mr. Hughes assured the former of his willingness to undertake a speaking campaign for the Republican nominee. The offer was accepted, and the dates of Mr. Hughes's speeches will be announced later. In the 1908 campaign Mr. Hughes was one of the most effective speakers for President Taft.

Mr. Hughes will go to Marion, Ohio, within a few days for a conference with Senator Harding. Mr. Hays said he was pleased at the willingness of Mr. Hughes to participate actively in the campaign.

Oldfield Joins Democrats Here.

BAGGAGE DELIVERY TIED UP BY STRIKE

business will have to be suspended indefinitely unless the men come down in their demands. The increases which the men ask amount to a 50 per cent. raise."

F. W. Draper, General Manager of the New York Transfer Company, estimated the increases demanded at 80 per cent. over the present scale. He denied that the company had suspended business, but admitted that the service had been temporarily discontinued.

"We cannot work on an eight-hour basis," said Mr. Draper. "We cannot do business on more than one shift, as our traffic requires ten hours' work every day. We have offered the men an increase, but they rejected our proposal. No strikebreakers will be employed. We shall just have to stop taking orders."

Westcott officials said that they had about 230 employes who were affected by the strike. The New York Transfer Company estimated their strikers at 300. The union officials placed the number at close to 1,000.

Rates Regulated by Zone System.

The rates for the carrying of baggage are subject to the approval of the Public Service Commission. Charges are regulated by the zone system. Whether either of the companies will ask for increased rates to meet the new wage demands, in part at least, could not be learned.

No great congestion of baggage in the New York Central and Pennsylvania terminals resulted from the suspension of the baggage transfer service. At the offices of both transfer companies it was said practically all of the baggage in their possession would have been delivered by last night.

Railroad baggagemen, however, said that with the increasing rush of returning vacationists an unprecedented baggage jam was threatened. Even with the assistance of independent transfer agencies and taxi-cabs it was believed that many trunks and other baggage would be delayed in the storage rooms at the two stations and cause an almost hopeless tangle of baggage.

REPUBLICAN CHIEFS IN SESSION HERE

Leaders from Fourteen Atlantic States Gather to Construct Campaign Plans.

WILL HAYS TO PRESIDE

Women Vice Chairmen Attending Conferences Which End Tomorrow—Chicago Meeting Sept. 1.

Republican leaders of the fourteen Atlantic States from Maine to South Carolina, inclusive, will begin a two-day conference here this morning at the headquarters of the Republican National Committee, 19 West Forty-fourth Street. Reports on the political situation will be made by the representatives of each State to Will H. Hays, Republican National Chairman, who will preside. Questions of speakers, publicity and all other matters will be discussed.

The members of the Republican National Committee who will attend include J. Henry Roraback, Connecticut; T. Coleman du Pont, Delaware; George W. Bean, Florida; Guy W. Gannett, Maine; John W. Weeks, Massachusetts; Charles D. Hilles, New York; John M. Morehead, North Carolina; Earl S. Kingsley, Vermont, and C. B. Slemp, Virginia.

The following State Chairmen are expected:

Charles Warner, Delaware; Frank J. Ham, Maine; Galen L. Tait, Maryland; Dwight Hall, New Hampshire; E. C. Stokes, New Jersey; George A. Glynn, New York; William E. Crow, Pennsylvania; Joseph P. Burlingame, Rhode Island; J. E. Piddock, Vermont; Joseph L. Crupper, Washington, D. C.; M. Z. White, South Carolina, and Mr. Roraback, Connecticut.

The following Vice Chairmen of State committees, all of whom are women, have indicated their intention of attending:

Mrs. Guy G. Gannett, Maine; Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Massachusetts; Mrs. William Schofield, New Hampshire; Mrs. Lillian F. Feickert, New Jersey; Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore, New York; Mrs. Barclay Warburton, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Edward S. Moulton, Rhode Island, and Mrs. George Poffenberger, West Virginia.

Next week, on Sept. 1 and 2, Mr. Hays will preside at a similar conference in Chicago to be attended by the Republican leaders of the Middle Western States.

BARNES BOOK IS YET UNREAD

Hays Denies Republican Campaign Will Get Any Money from It.

William Barnes's book, "The Republicanism of Nineteen Twenty," did not make its appearance yesterday, as had been expected and as Mr. Barnes said it would a few days ago. At the office of Edgar Pennington Young in The Tribune Building, from which the campaign for subscriptions to the book is believed to have been undertaken, it was said that both Mr. Young and his assistant were out of town and the stenographer in charge expressed ignorance of when the book was to be published.

Inquiry at Albany brought the reply that the book was now being printed and that its publication was expected within a few days.

The method used to finance the publication of the book was cited Sunday by Governor James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for President, as partial substantiation of his contention that money for the Republican campaign was being collected outside the Republican National Committee.

Will H. Hays, Republican National Chairman, who was not in the city when a denial was made at Republican headquarters that any money received from the book would go to the Republican campaign fund, made denial in person to the same effect. "The Republican National Committee has no connection, direct or indirect, with the publication of the book," said Mr. Hays.

KENYON ASKS COX TO GIVE EVIDENCE

Republicans had raised a $15,000,000 fund and that you had this evidence.

I do not know that you were correctly quoted, but if you were we want this information. I assure you that the members of this sub-committee will go to the bottom of any charges of this kind and if this is the situation we want to thoroughly investigate it.

I am sure that as a good citizen and as a candidate for the Presidency you will be willing to assist us and would not make these statements without evidence to support them. We would be glad to have you furnish the committee with such sources of information as will help them in getting at these facts, and we should be pleased to have you appear before us personally at any time you might desire, or send a communication if you prefer, or send some one who can give this information.

The committee has adjourned to meet Monday, Aug. 30, at the Federal Building, Chicago, at 10 A. M., at which time we would be glad to have you furnish us this information.

To Investigate Oklahoma Primary.

Senator Kenyon disclosed tonight that at the next session on Monday testimony will be taken on the recent Democratic Senatorial primary in Oklahoma, when Senator Gore was defeated, and the Senatorial primaries in Kansas.

He intimated also that the contests for Republican national delegates in both States will be investigated.

There was plenty of gossip around the Republican national headquarters at the Auditorium Hotel and at the Democratic Western headquarters in the Consumers' Building tonight. It was said by some that the investigation is likely to show that both national committees are "flat broke and are living from hand to mouth, week by week, in order to meet the payrolls for clerical help and the high prices that have to be paid for printed matter of all descriptions."

Those present at today's meeting of the committee were Senators Kenyon of Iowa, Reed of Missouri, Pomerene of Ohio and Spencer of Missouri. Senator Edge of New Jersey was absent.

Announcement was made that Senator Spencer will remain a member of the committee. He had previously announced that he would resign.

Promises Thorough Investigation.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (Associated Press).—The Senate Campaign Investigating Committee today made plans for what it announced would be a "thorough and exhaustive investigation into the Republican and Democratic national campaigns." The investigation, it was announced, would not only deal with methods of obtaining and expending money in the campaigns, but would cover reports of alleged offers of Federal positions as an inducement to political activity.

"We are going to find out everything there is to know about the work of both parties," said Senator Kenyon tonight. "There have been reports that the Republicans were raising millions of dollars, that a ring of corporations was contributing largely to their fund and that various persons were offering Federal positions as a reward for political help from certain men.

"We are going into these things thoroughly, and while we hope to get them all cleared up within about three weeks, we are ready to remain in session until Election Day if necessary."

The committee in supoening members of the Democratic and Republican committees to appear before it, directed that if they found it impossible to bring all books and papers needed by the committee in its investigation, they should request all contributors or other persons knowing about contributions and expenditures, to appear.

The program mapped out by the committee today is expected to require hearings lasting several weeks. The investigation of the Presidential campaign will probably all be staged here and the committee, for the time being, has dropped plans for hearings in other cities.

No decision was reached as to when the Missouri case will be re-opened. Edward Goltra, Democratic National Committeeman from Missouri, is still to be heard with regard to expenditures in the pre-convention campaign. The committee had planned to hold another hearing at St. Louis, but this plan, it is believed, may be dropped, at least until after the Presidential campaign has been investigated.

Senator Reed announced at today's session that he had received no answer from Governor Cox to the telegram he sent Saturday asking that the Democratic nominee give the committee any evidence he might have to support his charges that the Republicans were raising a $15,000,000 campaign fund.

Senator Reed made public the text of his telegram as follows:

"The papers here report you as saying in substance that you are in possession of facts which show that a vast corruption fund is being gathered by Eastern financiers for use in the Republican campaign. The Senate committee appointed to investigate campaign expenses will meet in Chicago with headquarters at the Auditorium Hotel on Monday, Aug. 23. I will highly appreciate it if the committee can be placed in possession of all facts in your knowledge and all suggestions leading to the exposure of this corruption fund. Will you not wire me or Senator Kenyon at the Auditorium Hotel so that we can have this information by Monday, or send a representative who can convey such information to us? I assure you that every lead you give us will be carefully and thoroughly investigated."

COX TO OFFER EVIDENCE TO PUBLIC IN SPEECHES

Special to The New York Times.

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 23.—It is probable that Governor Cox will give to the people in addresses to be delivered within the next few days information in substantiation of his charges that a fund of not less than $15,000,000 is being raised by the Republican Party for the national campaign.

Governor Cox made public the telegram he received today from Senator Kenyon asking him to appear before the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures and indicated that he did not expect to appear before the committee, at least at this time. He was prepared, however, he said, to let the people have the information in his possession, believing that the people were entitled to it.

It is believed here that he will tell much of it to the people before the session of the Senate sub-committee next Monday.

"I think that the committee will appreciate," said Governor Cox, "that as the candidate I should have the privilege of giving out the information as I see fit and when I see fit. I have no disposition, however, to conceal anything from the committee.

"I am going to use the information in my possession, because I think the public interest demands it. But I shall be the judge as to when and where it should be used."

Governor Cox was asked if he had read the statement by Senator Harding in which Mr. Harding asserted that he had no knowledge concerning any such huge campaign fund as Cox had mentioned and considered the charges ridiculous.

"I have nothing to say about that now," said Governor Cox, "but I shall have something to say a little later."

"By the way," added Governor Cox, "I haven't heard a word from Will Hays in response to certain questions which I asked him and which I think have an intimate bearing on the question—the questions as to the number of districts into which the country has been divided by the Republicans and the quotas levied upon each."

Governor Cox had not replied to Senator Kenyon's telegram when he left his office in The Dayton News building this afternoon. He sent a reply yesterday morning, however, to a telegram he had received from Senator James Reed of Missouri, a member of the Senate subcommittee, in which he stated that he would make public such material as he had.

HAYS AND WHITE WILL GO.

National Chairmen Express Readiness to Testify on Their Funds.

Willingness and even apparent eagerness to appear before the Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee to testify regarding receipts and expenditures were expressed yesterday by both Will H. Hays, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, and George White, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, when informed that the committee had decided to call them to Chicago next Monday to testify on campaign funds.

Wilbur W. Marsh, Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, who will also be asked to appear, said he was willing to do so. It was assumed here that Fred Upham of Chicago, Treasurer of the Republican National Committee, would be equally willing.

Both the Democratic and Republican campaign managers expect this latest phase of the committee's investigation to centre upon the charge made by Governor Cox that the Republicans were raising a $15,000,000 campaign fund. At Democratic headquarters belief was expressed that Governor Cox would be able to prove his charge. At Republican headquarters the Democratic nominee's assertion was characterized as absurd and the opinion was expressed that Governor Cox had been "riding for a fall" and would get it when he or his representatives were asked to substantiate the charge before the Senate committee.

"Splendid," said Mr. Hays when asked how he regarded the decision of the Senate committee to call him and Mr. White. "We welcome the fullest publicity now and later as often as possible. The financial plans of the Republican National Committee are an open book. The more information the public has of our plans, of our budget and of our expenditures the better pleased we will be."

"Our books are open," said Mr. White. "We are ready to make our records public at the wish of the Senate committee at any time."

Mr. Hays said there were no auxiliary committees in the receipts and expenditures of which the expenditures of the Republican committee were disguised, and repeated his statement that there had been an honest effort to limit subscriptions to the Republican campaign fund to $1,000 from each individual.

Wilbur W. Marsh, Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, said that the Democratic officials had been exceedingly careful not to violate the law, particularly that relating to solicitation of campaign subscriptions from officeholders.

HARDING AWAITS EVIDENCE.

But He and His Managers Doubt Cox Will Produce Any.

Special to The New York Times.

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 23.—Senator Harding and his headquarters and managers are awaiting with interest Governor Cox's further revelations concerning the "enormous" campaign fund and irregularities which the Democratic nominee charges can be proved.

Senator Harding is urging the fullest publicity.

It is believed here that evidence will not be forthcoming to sustain the $15,000,000 fund charge, for the reason, the Republican managers say, that there is no such fund. The Senator has little patience with the charge that profiteers are large contributors to the war chest.

ROOSEVELT ASSAILS HAYS.

Says He Fails to Answer Cox's Charge of Huge Campaign Funds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Franklin D. Roosevelt in a statement issued here tonight declared that Republican Chairman Will H. Hays had failed to answer charges by himself and Governor Cox that a "huge Republican campaign fund" was being raised, "so big that the presumption must be against the honest use of such a sum."

"Mr. Hays's explanation is not an answer, and it will not convince this country that he and his organization do not deserve a thorough spanking," Mr. Roosevelt stated.

He said Mr. Hays had not denied that the sum of $700,000 was allotted as the quota for the city of Chicago to raise, and charged that in Mr. Roosevelt's own county in Upstate New York, Dutchess County, the Republican quota was $20,000.

A pledge that the United States will enter the League of Nations if the Democratic national ticket is elected was made by Mr. Roosevelt at a meeting of the San Francisco Centre of the California Civic League today. Roosevelt characterized the campaign as one of "progress against reaction."

SWEET IS ASSAILED BY OUSTED SOCIALIST

Declares People Will Not Tolerate Throwing Out of Representatives.

QUIET OPENING IN BRONX

Few Legion Watchers Attend Only as Individuals—Abeles Explains Stand.

The Socialist campaign for the re-election of the five Socialists ousted from the Assembly and for the election of Nat Rubin, Socialist candidate for the Assembly in the Nineteenth District, Brooklyn, for the vacancy caused by the death of Assemblyman John Damico, began last night in all six districts, two in Manhattan, two in Brooklyn and two in the Bronx. Announcement was made that the full power of the Socialist Party in the city would be used to further the campaign of the six candidates at the special Assembly district elections on Sept. 15.

There was no disorder in the opening of the Socialist speaking campaign in the Bronx, where trouble had been feared and the police had taken precautions. Samuel Orr and Samuel A. DeWitt, Socialist candidates in the Third and Fourth Districts, respectively, were the principal speakers at the street meetings, five of which were held in each district.

Members of the American Legion, who were expected to watch the meetings for the purpose of trying to curb any possible disloyal utterances by the Socialist speakers, failed to appear in noticeable numbers. There were a few legion members in the crowds, but no interference by them with the speakers was reported.

Major Wilbur T. Wright, Vice Chairman of the Bronx organization of the Legion, who was the original authority for the statement that the members of the Legion intended to watch the Socialist meetings, said that they would do so as individuals and not as members of the county organization. Major Wright said that no concerted action could be taken without the authority of the County Committee of the Legion and that this committee would not meet again until September.

A special meeting of the Socialist Brooklyn organization was held last evening at 169 Tompkins Avenue, and it was voted unanimously to give special help to Charles Solomon, running for re-election in the Twenty-third District, and to Nat Rubin, candidate in the Nineteenth. Similar action has already been taken in Manhattan to assist Louis Waldman, running in the Eighth District, and August Claessens, in the Seventeenth.

Perhaps the largest socialist meeting of the night was at First Street and Second Avenue, where the speakers were Mr. Waldman, Mr. Claessens and Joseph D. Cannon, Socialist candidate for Governor. Mr. Claessens made a bitter attack upon Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet and declared that the people of the country would not tolerate the "moneyed oligarchy and their flunkies" after throwing out legally elected representatives. "No speeches of mine could ever bring about the idea of the use of force or violence so much as the action of Thaddeus Sweet in overthrowing constitutional government," he said.

Efforts to obtain fusion against the Socialists in the Bronx and Brooklyn districts continued, but without definite result, although it was said to be likely that fusion would be effected in most of these four districts before the time for making changes in the list of candidates expired Friday night.

State Senator Peter A. Abeles of the Twenty-second District, whose vote for ratification of the prohibition amendment blocked fusion in the Bronx, because the Democrats there refused to accept him in return for the indorsement of their Assembly candidates in the Third, Fourth and Fifth Districts, issued a statement explaining his position on prohibition.

Senator Abeles said he had voted for ratification, after voting for a referendum on prohibition and after opposing a caucus on the matter. He said he believed in a liberal enforcement of the prohibition amendment and that he had voted for the Sutherland 2.75 per cent. beer and wine bill and the Walker 2.75 per cent. beer bill.

DEBS DECLARES COAL CHIEF CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Socialist Nominee Charges Wilson Aids Polish Aristocracy to Crush Only 'Democratic Government.'

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—The first of a series of statements which will replace speeches in the campaign of Eugene Debs, Socialist nominee for President, confined in the Atlanta Penitentiary, was issued today.

Mr. Debs branded the League of Nations controversy as "dishonest issue," and declared the livest question before the American public was the coal shortage. He asserted that while a shortage of cars was making it impossible to meet the demands for coal "Mr. Wilson has had made by special Executive order 4,000 cars of a special design to aid the aristocracy of Poland crush the only genuine democratic Government on the face of the earth."

Besides denouncing the Republican and Democratic Parties, bitterly attacking President Wilson and Samuel Gompers, and branding the Farmer-Labor Party as a one-campaign organization that would never survive this year's battle, the Socialist nominee said Senator Harding and Governor Cox "remind me of two humpty dumpties. They are stuffed people, not real. They have not a single idea for a man who is alive. They get their inspiration from the tombs. The whole performance is artificial."

"I should say," Mr. Debs continued, "there can be no change as long as a few people own this country, its industries and its resources. Take, for example, the situation in my own town of Terre Haute. Terre Haute is surrounded by coal, is built over a coal deposit, yet it is impossible to get coal at any price. A few owners have taken possession of coal mines. They say 'This is ours,' and they have shut out the people. The miners are at their mercy and they cannot dig the coal even to keep themselves warm unless the mine owners give them permission.

"The people in this country have not known what their Government was doing in opposing the Russians. It was kept a very private secret until it was revealed by the foreign dispatches, and then Secretary of War Baker was forced to confess that the War Department had spent $100,000,000 on credit to the Polish Government on the basis of notes which are not worth the paper they were written on. He presented them with $20,000,000 worth of American bacon which was 'not available' for the American people—although bacon is 65 cents a pound at home—not available because the beef trust objected that would check the rise in prices. Millions of dollars' worth of supplies, including meat, were turned over to the French and not brought home because they were afraid it might reduce prices to the American people and so check the profits of our trusts."

McADOO TO INTRODUCE COX.

Plans Completed for Nominee's Reception Here Saturday.

William G. McAdoo, principal rival of Governor James M. Cox for the Democratic nomination for President, will introduce the latter at the luncheon to be held at the Hotel Commodore on Saturday, preceding Governor Cox's attendance at the police field day at Gravesend. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday after a meeting of the Committee on Arrangements, of which John M. Riehle, President of the National Democratic Club, is Chairman, at which final arrangements were made for the luncheon and the reception to Governor Cox at the National Democratic Club.

Under the arrangements completed yesterday, Governor Cox will go directly to the club for the reception immediately after his arrival from New Haven, at 10:07. The Police Band will play outside the clubhouse.

The luncheon will be held at noon in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore. The Police Band will play and the double quartet of the Police Department will sing.

Governor Cox will make a short speech at the luncheon, directly after which he will go by automobile to Gravesend, where he will speak at the police games. The automobile carrying Governor Cox will head a long procession, 1,000 seats in the grandstand at Gravesend having been reserved by Police Commissioner Richard E. Enright for those attending the luncheon. The route of the automobile parade will be as follows:

From the Hotel Commodore, in Forty-second Street, to Fifth Avenue, to Ninth Street, to Lafayette Street, to Canal Street, across Manhattan Bridge to Flatbush, to Ocean Parkway, to Gravesend.

HITCHCOCK DEFENDS OUR FOREIGN POLICY

Calls Harding's "Complete Reversal" Speech an Unjust Criticism.

ISOLATION A BYGONE VIEW

Return to Washington's Attitude as Impossible as Using His Candlelight.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 23.—The statement made by Senator Harding that he would completely reverse the foreign policy of the United States if elected has aroused the ire of Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, the senior Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee. Senator Hitchcock, who is here on a holiday and only today saw the Harding interview, feels that it is an unjust and uncalled for criticism of the Administration's management of its foreign affairs. He said:

"The interview credited to Senator Harding is an amazing utterance and hardly comports with his other more modest announcements. He is quoted as saying: 'There will be none of the present foreign policy if we succeed; on the contrary, there will be a complete reversal.' He is also quoted as saying, previously, that he expected to return to the policy of Washington and Monroe.

"His first error is in assuming that Washington and Monroe followed the same policy. The policy of Monroe was a very distinct change from the policy of Washington. By Washington's policy the attitude of America was one of pronounced and complete isolation, which was very proper, considering the circumstances. By Monroe's policy, adopted more than a quarter century later, the United States boldly entered into the affairs of the world and assumed a practical guardianship over North and South America as against European aggression.

Developments Changed Policy.

"The Senator's next error is in his assumption that the American policy in foreign affairs has not been modified since Monroe's day, whereas the development under Monroe was followed by important evolutions under later Presidents. Some were due to the vast expansion of our territory by vast equisitions which carried us to the Pacific Ocean, up into the frozen regions of Alaska, out into the Pacific and finally to the Philippine Islands, in the very shadow of Asia, and 12,000 miles from the city of Washington. Others were due to the great expansion of our commercial interests.

"Thus it happened that we now exercise protectorates over several republics, we have built and operate the Panama Canal, which connects the two oceans, and we have defended it. We have created two American republics, Cuba and Panama, and we shall soon probably create an Asiatic republic, the Philippine Islands. We opened Japan to the world. We are now and have been through several administrations insisting on the open door in China. We have entered upon the work of financing the development of China in combination with other great nations.

"Under Theodore Roosevelt we entered European politics by participating in the Algeciras conference which saved the old world from war, and we have constantly taken a larger and larger share in world politics, just as we have in world business. We tried hard to keep out of the great war, but were inevitably drawn into it. Isolation as a policy was abandoned many years ago, and Senator Harding could no more return to it as a national policy than the country could return to the candles which Washington used when he went to bed.

"Senator Harding himself did not vote to return to it in the ratification fight in the Senate. He voted for ratification with the Lodge reservations. He voted to go into the League of Nations with those changes. His present attitude against going in cannot be explained except on grounds of political expediency.

"The statement attributed to Senator Harding may be an exaggeration. It is hardly possible that he really said he would reverse our entire foreign policy. No President could do that. His own party would not permit it and he has already announced that if elected he would permit his party to run the affairs of the country.

Seriousness of a Reversal.

"It has taken years to build up our foreign policy and is the result of the combined wisdom of our President and Secretaries of State since the beginning of the Republic. Senator Harding would destroy all this at one fell swoop. Besides there are certain matters that are of the utmost importance, whose reversal would be a very serious matter. Would the Senator reverse the foreign policy relative to the Soviet Government of Russia? I doubt very much whether the Republican Senatorial clique who are to manage the next administration—should Senator Harding be elected—would allow him to make this change. Would he reverse our Chinese policy?

"There are innumerable instances which show that the statement of the Senator is absolutely ridiculous, and the pity of it is that a man who talks so glibly without giving due consideration to his remarks or to the possible effect upon our foreign relation, should be the nominee of one of the great parties for the Presidency of the United States."

REUNION COMES AS ARREST.

Wife Hails Husband as Bigamist at First Sight In Six Years.

After waiting for days at Broadway and 156th Street in the hope of getting a glimpse of her husband whom she had not seen for six years, Mrs. Lillian Grassgreen of 1,120 Fox Street, the Bronx, saw him last night in the passing throng. She called Patrolman Spillane and had the man arrested on her charge of bigamy.

Mrs. Grassgreen told the police that she and Adolph Grassgreen were married in a synagogue, in Delancey Street, in 1907, and that they lived together for seven years. In 1914 she went to visit relatives in Europe, and, caught there by the war, was unable to come home or communicate with her husband. She said she was unable to find him upon her return early this year and, after living for several months with relatives in the Bronx, learned that Grassgreen had married again.

Asserting that she had verified her information at the County Clerk's office, she told the police of the West 152d Street station that Grassgreen had married a second wife last year in the same synagogue where he was first wed. Grassgreen will have a hearing in the Washington Heights Court this morning.

ACTOR SUING 26 PLAYERS.

Trial of R. B. Kegerreis's Action for $100,000 Damages Is Begun.

Trial of the suit instituted by Robert B. Kegerreis, an actor, against 26 members of The Players for $100,000 damages on a charge of conspiring to annoy, harass and disgrace him, was begun yesterday before Federal Judge Sheppard. Among the defendant members of The Players are John Drew, Francis Wilson, Oliver Herford, Otis Skinner, Nicholas Biddle and Harry Rowe Shelley.

Kegerreis avers that in 1916, aspersions were made against the plaintiff's loyalty to this country, threatening epithets used and statements made that he was eager for German success in the war. Mr. Kegerreis was finally expelled from The Players but was reinstated by the voluntary action of the members.

Stedman Condemns Action of New York Legislature — Confirm Internationale Delegates.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—The Socialist Party of America went on record as opposed to the Socialist Party of Poland, according to a statement issued here today by the party's Executive Committee in answer to the appeal of the Polish Socialist Alliance of the United States, asking for support of the Polish cause.

The Polish Socialist Party is regarded by the American party "as an organization that is serving the Chauvinist régime in Warsaw," the statement said, and continues: "There can be no understanding with such an organization that has so grossly betrayed the ideals of international socialism. It has become a tool of the imperialist victors of the entente."

Seymour Stedman of Chicago, candidate for Vice President on the Socialist ticket, urged the election of Socialist candidates at the special elections to be held in six New York Assembly districts, Sept. 16 in a statement issued through the Executive Committee. He condemned the ousting of the Socialists from the New York Legislature and appealed to Socialists throughout the country to lend aid in obtaining the election of the Socialist Assemblymen candidates.

Selection of the three men designated at the party's convention at New York last May to act as tentative delegates to the Third Internationale was reconfirmed during the committee's session today. They are James Oneal and Algernon Lee of New York, and Joseph E. Cohen of Philadelphia. It was announced that these men, in company with Alexander Trachtenberg of New York, would go to Russia to study conditions there if passports could be obtained.

BOOTLEGGERS USE HEARSES

Instead of Corpses, Westchester Coffins Hold Liquor, Shevlin Is Told

Hearses are being used in Westchester County for the illegal transportation of whisky, according to a report which reached James Shevlin, Federal Supervising Prohibition Agent, yesterday. Instead of corpses, the coffins contain liquor, it is reported. Mr. Shevlin said the situation was difficult for him to handle, because it was not practical to hold up all funeral processions to search for contraband liquor. However, he instructed his agents to investigate.

In official circles in Brooklyn yesterday it was reported that William D. Allen, Jr., who is in charge of the dry enforcement squad in Brooklyn, will begin immediately an investigation of the reports that certain of his agents have been guilty of "shaking down" saloonkeepers and winking at violations.

Three arrests for violations of the prohibition law were made in Brooklyn. The men arrested gave their names as Harry Strachan, 1,116 Manhattan Avenue; Patrick Keegan, 232 Sands Street; Lewis Barba, 168 Hamilton Avenue. They were held in $1,000 each for further examination.

Several chorus girls from Arthur Hammerstein's company were examined before the Grand Jury relative to the alleged distribution of small souvenirs at the opening performance last Tuesday night. It was understood that additional witnesses would be examined today.

WILL QUERY SHIPBUILDERS.

Leo Oppenheim to Take Testimony In Hunt for National's Assets.

Federal Judge Mayer yesterday appointed Leo Oppenheim as a special commissioner to take testimony in an inquiry to be instituted to locate assets of the National Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., which became involved in bankruptcy proceedings on Saturday. Saul S. Myers, counsel for three creditors, filed the petition. It was said William J. Kelly, president of the corporation; Alexander McAdams, vice-president, and Annie Noack, a stenographer, would be questioned.

A charge of fraud has been made against the corporation because of allegations to the effect that it obtained contracts for building ships on misrepresentations as to its ability to carry out the contracts. The liabilities of the corporation are placed at $2,000,000.

COLLISON'S $244 ATTACHED.

Playwright's Bank Account Tied Up in Breach of Contract Suit.

An attachment for $40,000 against the property of Wilson Collison, co-author of the plays, "The Girl in the Limousine" and "Up in Mabel's Room," was granted in the Supreme Court yesterday in a suit of the Punch and Judy Theatre Company for breach of a contract by which Collison agreed to produce his plays in the plaintiff's theatre for a year. It is alleged that Collison has written a new play, "Up in the Haymow," which is to be produced by Al H. Woods. The attachment was obtained on the ground that Collison is a resident of Columbus, Ohio.

A copy of the attachment was served on the Harriman National Bank, which reported to Sheriff Knott that Collison had a balance of only $244 there.

PRINCE SUES TO GET AUTO.

Murat Says Car Is Held Unjustly by Garage for Storage Bill.

Prince Michel Murat, who lived here for several years until he returned to his home in Paris last Spring, filed suit in the Supreme Court yesterday to get possession of a touring car worth $8,500 which he says is now held by the Amsterdam Garage, at 133 Amsterdam Avenue, for a storage bill. He contends he owes nothing to the garage company because a man he had employed as chauffeur, but had discharged, took the machine from the garage in which it was kept and, after using it without permission, put it in the Amsterdam Garage on his own responsibility.

Prince Murat said he has been sued by Herbert E. Watson for furs sold to his wife, and Watson got an attachment against the car, but the garage company refuses to give up possession either to the Sheriff or to himself as owner. He says the amount claimed is less than $200.

Berthold Bendheim Dies Suddenly.

Berthold Bendheim of 771 West End Avenue, a retired pipe manufacturer and brother of Adolph Bendheim, President of the Metropolitan Tobacco Company, died of heart disease in a taxicab in front of his home last night. He was born in Germany and came to this country fifty years ago.

Complete desk equipment

When the army acquires a thousand new men, everything about them is ill-matched. But the uniform rubs out differences big and little. It gives them smartness, tone, swank.

No big business can afford to have ill-matched desks in its offices, general or private. Woods which do not match in color or finish, and designs which do not harmonize, express anything but success.

Cutler Desks are designed to express success and are made in complete lines so that roll tops, flat tops and typewriter desks may be had in the same harmonious designs. # FREE EGYPT TO KEEP BRITAIN AS ALLY

Milner Commission Reported to Have Accepted Change Under Binding Treaty.

LONDON HEARS DETAILS

Washington Embassy and State Department Await Confirmation of the Decision.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—While no official pronouncement is yet forthcoming regarding any treaty of alliance which would recognise Great Britain's privileged position in a future independent Egypt, it is generally assumed by the English press that an agreement along this line has been reached as a result of conversations between the mission headed by Viscount Milner and Egyptians.

A violent anti-English agitation and a demand for freedom began among Egyptian extremists with the inauguration of a British protectorate during the war, and in recent months this campaign has culminated in serious demonstrations and assassinations.

During the war, military rule in Egypt tended to keep down the demonstrations, but once peace was declared the Egyptian Nationalists came out in full force.

The Nationalists had a large delegation in Paris during the Peace Conference, who worked assiduously to overthrow English power and to spread propaganda including allegations of British atrocities and misrule.

The failure of the Nationalists in Paris was followed by the adoption of desperate methods in Egypt. British officers and soldiers were assassinated and attempts were made on the lives of prominent members of the Egyptian Government under the protectorate.

Even now the trial is under way at Cairo of the so-called "vengeance gang," composed of Egyptian extremists, who, it is alleged, got together for the avowed purpose of assassinating British and pro-British Egyptians.

Conditions in Egypt finally became so bad that the British Government some months ago sent a commission under Viscount Milne to investigate.

Egypt's Independence Forecast.

If the Government has really decided to grant Egypt independence, it will be because of the work of the commission, which delved into all angles of the problem religiously and became informed on both sides of the question.

Negotiations incident to the recognition of the independence of Egypt by Great Britain will take place between this country and the World Powers as soon as a final agreement is signed by the Egyptian and British Governments, says the London Times. The final convention will be submitted for confirmation to the British Parliament and the Egyption Assembly.

It is probable that the Egyptian Assembly will be asked to pass a new organic law embodying the new agreement and laying down the future constitution and relative responsibilities of the Ministry and sovereign.

Treaty of Alliance to Follow.

The Times adds that details will be worked out for a treaty of alliance which, it is hoped, will be negotiated as soon as the Egyptian delegation here returns home and reports the agreement to its country.

Features of the agreement, as outlined by the newspaper, include a guarantee by Great Britain of Egypt's integrity against outside aggression. The present system of placing advisers in different ministries will be discontinued, but British officials will be appointed to take over and carry out the operations of the Public Debt Commission and look after legislation regarding foreigners.

The British officials who may be retained in the Egyptian service, or appointed in future, will be responsible to Egyptian heads of departments. For the present Egyptian foreign diplomatic agents will probably be confined to countries where Egypt has commercial interests, and British representatives will act elsewhere for her. Legislation affecting foreigners may be vetoed by the High Commissioner.

Washington Awaits Confirmation.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—News dispatches from London today stating that The London Times had announced that it understands that Great Britain has agreed to recognize the independence of Egypt have not been confirmed in official and diplomatic quarters in Washington.

State Department officials asserted that they were without official information regarding the reported decision of the British Government.

The statement was also made at the British Embassy that that diplomatic establishment had received no official advices regarding the reported intention to recognize the independence of Egypt.

THE PLAY

By Alexander Woollcott

A Rinehart Mystery Staged.

THE BAT, a melodrama in three acts, by Mary Robert Rinehart and Avery Hopwood. At the Morosco Theatre.

Lizzie.....May Vokes
Miss Cornelia Van Corder.....Effie Ellsler
Billy.....Harry Morvil
Brooks.....Stuart Sage
Miss Dale Ogden.....Anne Morrison
Dr. Wells.....Edward Ellis
Anderson.....Harrison Hunter
Reginald Beresford.....Kenneth Hunter
Richard Flemming.....Richard Barrows
An Unknown Man.....Robert Vaughan

You know the mystery stories that Mary Roberts Rinehart writes for relaxation when she is tired of Tish and Aggie and cannot, for the moment, think of any more hospital romances to stage against a background of diet kitchens and clinical thermometers. The scheme is to coop up a handful of miscellaneous people, as on a boat or in a quarantined house, and there to let loose theft and arson and murder, to the accompaniment of crashing lights, mysterious knockings and sliding panels. The general impression created is of a madhouse just before the end of the world, the while the finger of suspicion moves steadily along the list of characters, reading from left to right. She is happiest when a sharp-tongued, self-possessed woman with iron gray hair is present to dominate the scene, especially if a comic maid servant can also attend, to scream and fall downstairs at inappropriate intervals and appear at the climax in curl-papers and a flowered kimona, muttering "Drat the man!"

Mrs. Rinehart has taken one of these stories—in book form it was called "The Toll of the Secret Room" or "The Circular Staircase" or some such thing—and turned it into a play, with the assistance of her old-time collaborator, Avery Hopwood. His touch is nowhere recognizable in the result and probably all he brought to the joint product was a consultant's special knowledge of the stage, its tricks and its manners. As an expert with a growing reputation he appears to have been called in merely to keep an eye on her the while she wildly wrote her play. No doubt he called his part of the work the watch on the Rinehart.

Their new piece is called "The Bat" and it arrived last night at the Morosco Theatre, where it was competently staged and mounted by that same firm, Wagenhals & Kemper, that gave us their "Seven Days" some years ago and their "Spanish Love" just the other evening.

"The Bat" is a wild mystery melodrama, considerably wilder than any seen in these parts for a long time, and it is quite thoroughly interesting. If it were only half as complicated and fantastically improbable its tinkerers would doubtless fret themselves sick in the effort to make it as plausible and genuinely exciting as some of its forerunners have been, but it is so far past that point that it becomes a sort of mad game to the "button, button, who's got the button" antics of which it is very easy to surrender one's idle attention.

Those great folks who, in their effort to escape the perplexities and strains of their burdensome days, turn to detective stories of only the most unreal and preposterous sort would have the time of their lives at "The Bat," which is no end of fun if you let yourself go.

The perfect Rinehart servant is present in the person of the changeless May Vokes, whose performance, strongly reminiscent of Miss Dooley's carrying-on as the baby in the "Follies," would protrude fom any ordinary play but is quite all right amid the didoes in progress at the Morosco.

The perfect Rinehart heroine should be 58 years old and have a tart tongue. Something of the tang and acridity of Lucile Watson is needed. Indeed, Miss Watson herself would be a boon to "The Bat"; but in her absence the part is passably managed by the seasoned Effie Ellsler.

Then, of course, Harrison Hunter, in the guise of a detective, and Edward Ellis, as a mannerly crook, keep the piece from being too startlingly unlike other melodramas of our time. There should be a word for a fine bit of violent work by Stuart Sage, who plays one of those Rinehart nephews, the kind that get patted on the back and married off in time for the final chapter.

All these, and for that matter the others, serve acceptably in a piece that amounts almost to a travesty on the mystery melodrama of its day and is immensely amusing if you don't pucker your brow and take it seriously, if you don't keep saying: "Come, come, that's a bit thick" or embarrass everybody by asking questions like: "After all, why was the missing necklace and the head of the decapitated doctor put in the old Fleming punch bowl?"

OTOKAR BARTIK RETURNS.

Metropolitan Ballet Master Says Kubelik, Violinist, Is Coming.

Otokar Bartik, ballet master of the Metropolitan Opera Company, returned yesterday from Italy and a visit to his home in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and said that Kubelik, the violinist, would come here for fifty concerts under his direction and would be accompanied by his twin daughters Annie and Marie, 16 years old, who had become expert violinists under their father's teaching. Professor Otokar Sevcik, the teacher of Kubelik, will come here to give lessons, and Oskar Nedbal, former conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra, will return for the Winter season.

Mr. Bartik added that Destinova will sail from France on the Mauretania on Oct. 2 for her concert tour and later to join the Metropolitan Opera Company. There will also be a new coloratura soprano for the Metropolitan, Mme. Selma Kurz of the Vienna Opera Company. She will go on a concert tour and appear in three operas at the Metropolitan. Mr. Bartik said that he had brought with him the score of a new opera by Karel Weiss, a Czechoslovak, entitled "The Polish Jew," which will be heard at the Metropolitan in February.

LAMBS INQUIRY CONTINUES.

Shevlin Still Investigating Contradictions About Liquor in Club.

Prohibition enforcement agents still were working yesterday to find out what alcoholic beverages were in The Lambs on the morning of Sunday, Aug. 8, when John J. McGraw, manager and part owner of the Giants, came off second best in a bout at fisticuffs with William H. Boyd, leading man in Broadway theatrical productions. They also were trying to find out how the alcoholic drinks got into The Lambs.

Supervising Federal Enforcement Agent James Shevlin said that statements from various persons, although given in good faith, contained contradictions about these important points.

The condition of John C. Slavin, comedian, who was taken from in front of McGraw's apartment to St. Luke's Hospital suffering from a fractured skull, after he and Winfield Liggett had escorted McGraw home in a taxi from The Lambs, was reported to be steadily improving last night.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Walter Hampden will make a production of "Julius Caesar" this season. He will play Brutus, Cassius and Marc Antony on alternate nights.

Beatrice Noyes has been engaged for "Marry the Poor Girl," Owen Davis's farce.

The Celtic Players will end their engagement at the Bramhall Playhouse on Sept. 11.

"Pitter-Patter" was played for the first time in Long Branch last night.

Joe Keno has succeeded George McKay in "Honey Girl."

Maude Fulton's comedy, "The Humming Bird," will be produced here about Nov. 1 by Oliver Morosco.

"Democracy, the Vision Restored," a motion picture directed by William Nigh, will open at the Casino Theatre tonight. The idea of the picture was conceived by Lee Francis Lybarger and the scenario was written by Nina Wilcox Putnam.

THE SCREEN

"While New York Sleeps," a melodrama, or, rather, three melodramas that might correspond to one-act plays on the same bill, followed "If I Were King" into the Lyric Theatre on Sunday. It is a Fox presentation.

The three photoplaylets have no connection except that their principal parts are acted by the same persons, and they were all directed by Charles J. Barbin. Also, they deal with three different levels of metropolitan life, as it is seen through the red eye of the motion picture camera.

The last of the three stories is the best. It is called "A Tragedy of the East Side," and its interest is largely in the performance of Marc MacDermott, as an old paralytic who can see and hear, but cannot speak or move any of his limbs. In the shabby little tenement in which he lives his son is killed by a gangster who has won the affections of the son's wife. The two throw the dead man through a trap door into a drain, and proceed to occupy the room together. The body is found in the river and detectives, suspecting nothing, come to notify the wife. By the use of his eyes and facial expressions the old paralytic arouses their suspicions and finally succeeds in giving them the clue by which they learn the truth. In a pistol battle that follows the gangster and the girl are killed.

It's all rampant melodrama, but it has the substance of an idea and Mr. MacDermott carries out his part so effectively that the spectator's interest is held. He is also the principal player in the other two stories, "Out of the Night," in which a wife with two husbands alive, a desirable and an undesirable, is saved by the opportune appearance of a burglar, and "The Great White Way," in which the familiar "badger game" is worked on a detective, to the misfortune of the crooks.

Estelle Taylor, Harry Sothern, Earl Metcalf and William Locke are the others in the casts of the three pictures and, following the broad and exaggerated style of melodramatic acting, acquit themselves satisfactorily. There is nothing subtle in any of the stories, nothing genuine. They are simply "thrillers."

WINS $1,000 MUSIC PRIZE.

Francesco Malipiero Submits Best String Quartet Composition.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Aug. 23.—Francesco Malipiero, an Italian composer, today received the $1,000 prize for best string quartet composition offered by Mrs. Frederick S. Coolidge of New York and Pittsfield. One hundred and thirty-six manuscripts were submitted from eleven countries in open competition and Mr. Malipiero received four of the five votes of the jury, composed of Ernest Bloch, last year's prize winner; Felix Borowski, Louis Svenski, formerly of the Kneisel Quartet; Emmeran Stoeder, of the Berkshire Quartet, and Ugo Ara, formerly of the Flonzaley Quartet.

The prize-winning composition is entitled "Rispettie Strambotti," the name of two ancient forms of Italian poetry.

It will be played for the first time in public on Sept. 23, the third and last day of Mrs. Coolidge's music festival in her temple of music on South Mountain in Pittsfield. The composer was born in Venice thirty-six years ago. He is now living in Capri and is a prominent figure in uropean musical centres. Thirty-six manuscripts failed to reach the jury on time.

$5,000 IN TRAFFIC FINES.

Magistrate Mancuso Hears 315 Cases —16 Chauffeurs to Workhouse.

Three hundred and fifteen cases, a record number, were handled yesterday by Magistrate Francis Mancuso in the Traffic Court, and more than $5,000 in fines was paid. It was the busiest day since the court was established in June, 1916.

Among those who came before the Magistrate were 125 speeders arrested for their first offense. The fines ranged from $25 to $50. Sixteen chauffeurs were sent to the Workhouse in default of payment of fines. Other offenders were violators of the corporation ordinances. It was said Commissioner Enright had added ten additional motor cycle men to the Traffic Division.

'Blue Bonnet' at Princess Saturday.

"Blue Bonnet," a comedy by George Scarborough, with Ernest Truex as its leading player, will open at the Princess Theatre on Saturday night of this week. The company will include Mona Thomas, Helen Lowell, Edgar Nelson, Richard Taber, Paul Everton, Maria Ziccardi, Mattie Keene and Neil Burton.

MUSIC NOTES.

Gilbert and Sullivan's "Yeoman of the Guard" is represented in the Rialto's instrumental program this week.

Balfe's "Bohemian Girl" furnishes popular English opera airs for the singers at the Capitol.

Record Scores

This is the peak of the Summer—the pulse of sport is coursing at record speed.

Your best round at golf—your best set at tennis—your best catch of bass—your best score at the traps—it is the psychological moment!

That one extra piece of equipment should now find its place in your outfit.

Replacements and repairs mean lower scores and the inestimable satisfaction of having done your best.

Let Abercrombie & Fitch experts tune your sporting kit up to its highest pitch for this most enjoyable end-of-the-summer period.

Shore Bird Shooting

Birds are as plentiful as apples in the orchard.

The suit, hat and waders you should wear—the gun you should shoot—the Abercrombie & Fitch recommended loads you should use, await your approval.

Shotguns of all the representative American, English and Continental makers, fitted to you by recognized experts.

No such assortment is available at any other spot in the world.

A repair shop employing Belgian gunmakers, prepared to restock your shotgun or rifle.

Your military Springfield promptly fitted with a sporting stock.

Snipe decoys and calls, gun cases, ammunition cases and game bags.

College Spirit Reawakening

In a fortnight the campus will be astir—the new rooms will be occupied.

Abercrombie & Fitch outfit the college girl completely, from head to foot—suits, riding habits, topcoats, raincoats, boots, shirts and hats.

With college men and boarding school boys the name is pre-eminent—for golf suits, tweed and cheviot lounge suits, riding and shooting clothes, footwear, shirts and caps.

BRITISH COAL STRIKE PREDICTED SEPT. 18

Smillie Says Government Must Grant Demands of Miners or Stop Industry.

WANT BIG DROP IN PRICES

Wages of Men and Cost to Public Cited at Town Meetings — Expect 'Triple Alliance' to Act.

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The coal crisis which has been threatening for some time past has now reached a point where the most sanguine observers regard a strike of the miners as almost inevitable.

Robert Smillie, the miners' leader, today prophesied a stoppage of work in three weeks' time unless the Government agreed to the demands of the union or proved their claim to be unjust.

Put in brief form, the demands of the miners are that the men should receive another 2 shillings per day in wages and that the Government should take off the cost of coal the 14 shillings and 2 pence per ton which, under existing regulations, is bringing into the National Exchequer some 60,000,000 pounds sterling per annum.

The Government's response is that the increased wages cannot be paid, any more than the revenue which the National Exchequer draws from coal can be abandoned without creating a necessity of raising new taxes, which would be equivalent to a coal subsidy.

The miners' extra wages and the reduction in the selling cost of coal would, in other words, both have to be met out of the taxpayers' pockets. The miners are now in process of balloting whether or not to declare a general strike and the voting so far shows a strong majority in favor of the strike.

The final result will be announced next Monday, and on Aug. 31 representatives of the Triple Alliance, in which the railwaymen and transport workers are partners with the miners, will hold a meeting to decide whether all three branches of the alliance shall make it their common cause.

Smillie, judging by his speech today, apparently believes that all the members of the Triple Alliance will be behind the colliery workers, and that, willingly or unwillingly, other constituent bodies of the industrial system will be drawn into the vortex.

So far reaching, in fact, would be the effect on organized labor that there is hardly a trades union that would not suffer unemployment in these circumstances. The view is gaining ground that the Triple Alliance, before committing itself, will try its hand at negotiation.

Meanwhile the country generally is realizing what is implied in a general cessation of coal production. Evidence received by the Government from day to day from industrial districts shows what a feeling of apprehension is spreading, not only among the employers, who realized the situation long ago, but among the workers, too.

As the holiday makers return to find themselves faced with the certainty of early disemployment, they convey their fears to their managers and trade union leaders, among whom there is already movement in some districts toward joint consultation as to what can be done to avert or remedy the damage with which all are threatened.

The most practical indication of public concern that has reached Whitehall is the proposal, made by more than one Mayor, to call town meetings to protest against the threatened action of the miners. This is regarded as the most effective way of expressing the fears of the workers, and, at the same time, of demonstrating to the miners the enormous amount of suffering and loss which a general coal strike would cause.

The town meeting is a time-honored and constitutional way of giving voice to the popular view, and if this procedure were to be adopted, generally, it is declared, nothing but good could come of it.

In many industries in Lancashire and Yorkshire there is reported to be at no time more than two or three days' supply of coal on hand. So narrow is the margin that short time or stoppage of work has been caused by weather conditions affecting the movement of railway stock.

Stoppage of production at the pits means that these industries will be wholly paralyzed within a week. It is doubted by those in authority whether the miners fully realize what a deadly blow they would thus be inflicting on helpless millions of workers, whom their action would deprive of the opportunity of earning a livelihood.

If the miners stick to their determination strike notices will be issued on Sept. 2 and will call for action on Sept. 16. During the interval between now and then the whole question is going to be thoroughly ventilated and upon the outcome it will be possible to form a definite opinion as to the power which the labor extremists hold in this country.

A worthy lady from the South where she lived for a long time, spoke of the drinking water, saying that she always strained it through little pieces of gauze, because there were tiny little worms or bugs in it, hardly perceptible by the human eye.

We need to be careful of what we drink with our mouths and take in with our ears.

Better far to run away from a companion who pours out upon us the contents of a bad book he has read, and better stop going to movies that speak to our eyes of the worst sides of lives that have gone down in failure.

A crooked tree, warped when it was little, is to be pitied, but infinitely more is it to be deplored that a young fellow should form a taste for things that will stunt his life and disappoint his parents and friends.

You mend your automobile on the spot when something breaks.

Don't let your life be going on with something crippled in it.

Let us drive out of our lives, homes and business whatever intrudes that would compromise us.

(Signed)

John Wanamaker

New Fashions
for Women and Young Women

Paris is the watchword

Long loose lines;
Long collar lines;
Lanvin sleeves;
Brilliant embroidery;
Use of knife-plaiting and side panels.

—you'll find these in the new frocks for young women.

That frock of navy blue tricotine illustrated shows the influence of Paul Poiret in the brilliant embroidered vest-like design on the front. Copenhagen blue and red are the colors favored in this embroidery, which is repeated in a strip at the hem of the skirt and on the three-quarter length sleeves. $69.50.

Beautiful tailoring is evidenced in these dresses—markedly so in a frock of Poiret twill whose wide knife-plaited panels on each side are restrained by a narrow panel-strap. $75.

Prices of serge, tricotine and Poiret twill frocks range from a charming model at $47.50, made gay by touches of red and silver on pockets, sleeves and neckline, to those at $95, which favor such differing silhouettes as that of the "snake model" and a knife-plaited panel frock, combined with satin.

fashioned of satin and kitten's ear satin likewise show a penchant for knife-plaiting, Lanvin sleeves, and the lines which give a slim silhouette to the young woman.

Particularly *chic

is the cape of one frock—an inspiration from Paris. The gay swing of cape is followed by the full, knife-plaited skirt. The long waist and string girdle are further fashion points conspicuous this season. $79.50.

An apron, knife-plaiting and tying on either side is the fetching point of another frock. $95.

Three accordion plaited tiers form the skirt of a frock of Georgette crepe whose waist is embroidered in its own colors. New colors favored by this frock are mahogany and bark and of course the ubiquitous navy blue. $47.50.

Rust and blue

COLOR is the note of a frock of navy blue kitten's ear satin, whose Lanvin sleeves, narrow side panels and panel in the front of the blouse are fashioned of rust color Georgette crepe embroidered with blue silk. $63.50.

Color

Color strikes a brilliant note in the embroidery used on women's gowns this season. This is particularly true of silk gowns—as demonstrated by the one illustrated. It is fashioned of a sand-colored heavy crepe de chine, embroidered in greens, blues and orange, and is likewise trimmed with an orange leather applique.

The wide Lanvin sleeve, too, is a 1920 fashion note—which is gorgeously embroidered in this dress.

Knife plaits hold their own this season and are used on the front of this gown. $185.

The combination of silk and wool

is favored of Fashion. One beautiful gown combines a skirt of navy blue duvetyn, with a blouse of heavy pretty color crepe de chine, long of waist, short of sleeve. A narrow panel from neck to hem is embroidered with gay colors. $135.

attain an extraordinary degree of luxury and beauty this season.

The cape and the dolman have largely influenced the lines of the wraps—as the model illustrated shows.

It is fashioned of navy blue silk duvetyn. Strips of softest mole are so put on that they follow cape lines, and a high convertible collar of mole-skin is used. Dolman-like sleeves are favored. $465. Another beautiful cape of saddle brown marvella cloth follows straighter lines, accentuated by hand embroidered panels, though dolman sleeves are favored. The collar is edged with a strip of taupe wolf, which is repeated as cuffs. $475.

Second floor, Old Building.

To-day---and the five business days following---will be

Half-Price Days

closing, in accordance with our custom, the

August Furniture Sale

During these Half-Price Days, odd pieces and incomplete suites of furniture, pieces and suites which we cannot re-order or are not re-ordering—everything which would not fit in with the well-rounded collection of furniture at regular prices, which will be assembled for our customers' choice in September, will be marked at half normal prices, and will go out, first come, first serve.

ready this morning.
But no quantity of any one kind
So come early

There will be chairs for the living-room and the bedroom, but while there may be half a dozen of one style, there will be only one of another.

The same is true, also, of the suites, for bedroom, dining-room and living-room.

And small novelty furniture, so appropriate for gifts, and so appreciated.

Don't think that because it is half price, this furniture is in the least degree undesirable. It is not. There isn't a piece of furniture in the Sale that hasn't got a place waiting for it in some thoughtfully planned home.

If every home-maker of good taste and a proper sense of the value of money realized this, there wouldn't be a piece of furniture left on our floors this evening.

The August Sale has been—as it always has been—a good sale, satisfactory to our customers and to us.

It was marked by a larger variety of grades and styles than is included in our regular stocks. These must be pruned down before the sale closes.

It included special groups which sold well, but of which a few pieces and suites remain. These must be closed out before August 31.

Then there is other furniture which the manufacturers are not duplicating—they like to change their product a little every year. And, because we cannot get any more just like it, we must let go what we have.

Half price will do it.

There's something else to be borne in mind

Certain of the furniture bought for the Sale arrived late—only a few days ago. It went into the sale at greater reductions than we had planned—a quarter and a third less instead of ten per cent., to move it out quickly and to avoid a congestion of furniture which would have inconvenienced our customers and hampered them in making their selections.

A lot of it has been sold.

But there was more than $140,000 worth, and some of it is still to be had, at a quarter and a third off—fine, upholstered over-stuffed two and three piece suites for living-room and library, easy chairs to match, dining-room suites, one very good design of walnut, mahogany and enameled bedroom furniture to be sold en suite or in separate pieces, and a remarkable 4-piece bedroom suite of walnut at $195.

And, back of this and the half-price furniture, is every piece of home furniture, including the exclusive Belmaison reproductions—at a reduction of at least 10 per cent. from normal prices—

—for today and five days after,

—and for no longer.

On September 1st all Wanamaker furniture will be at normal prices.

NOTE—The Half-Price Furniture will be grouped by itself on the west side of the Rotunda on the Fifth and Sixth Galleries, New Building—living-room and library pieces on the Fifth, bedroom and dining-room pieces on the Sixth.

MODERATION.

Our Government urges, or warns, the Poles not to seek any military triumphs beyond their own borders. Similar advice has gone to them from London. It is good advice. The Poles ought to be moderate in the hour of victory. But what about their enemies? It is reported from Minsk that the Soviet terms of peace are even more drastic than they were supposed to be when the Soviet Armies were at the gates of Warsaw. All the moderation cannot be on one side. The Poles might well protest that it is time for Messieurs les Bolsheviki to begin being a little moderate. And Poland also may be excused for thinking that the wishes and counsels of England and America seem a little pale beside those of France. While Washington was talking about "all available means," the French produced some very effective means. It will not be strange if, for some time to come, Poland should, as our Paris correspondent intimates that she will, look mainly to France for direction, as well as for aid and comfort.

GOVERNOR M'CALL ON THE SENATE.

It is a pity that Mr. HARDING, before he delivered his panegyric on the Senate, could not have read the article by ex-Governor MCCALL of Massachusetts in The Atlantic Monthly for September. It is a sober and informed critique of the recent development of the Senate's functions and pretensions. Mr. MCCALL does not hesitate to speak of attempted "encroachment of the Senate" upon both the House and the President. The practice has grown up of Senators thinking of themselves as "original negotiators of treaties." This is one reason why they go to work to oppose or eviscerate any treaty in which they have not had a hand in advance. The obstruction and mischief have become so notorious that Governor MCCALL thinks there should be an amendment of the Constitution to transfer the power of ratifying treaties from the Senate to the House.

Without going into this highly debatable question, attention may be called to what the Massachusetts observer has to say of the debates in the Senate upon the Versailles Treaty. He can see in them only a proof of the "moral decadence" of the Senate. Readers of the speeches would find a few of "real eloquence and analytical power," but would see "a "cause of colossal importance brought "down to the level of the hustings." They would also "see it too much "disfigured by hate and marred by "the raven's croaking note." Altogether, this Massachusetts Republican concludes that "the moral tone "of the debate as a whole fell far "below the sublime level of the "theme." One hopes that Senator LODGE will be too busy campaigning to read this.

The particular passage which Senator HARDING should note is the one in which Mr. MCCALL sticks a sarcastic pin into the swollen complacency of certain Senators. It runs as follows:

> In order to succeed at his trade, a member of an oligarchy must become a highly artificial being. He must cultivate the illusion that he is exactly the opposite of what he is; for a self-confessed oligarch would be compelled to abandon the profession at once. In poses and mummery he must rival a Roman augur. It is not difficult to produce illusions when on each new day we may look upon a newspaper hero in the making. But the times are not now propitious for a few men to run the Government and parties of the United States and to cherish the illusion that we are having popular government.

It will, of course, be easy for resentful Senators to assert that Governor MCCALL is a sour-grapes critic. He tried hard enough, they will say, to break into their charmed circle. But the real question is whether his little picture of their absurd self-satisfaction is not to be regarded as both true and amusing. Puffed-up Senators may call it sheer impudence, but the general verdict will be that it is a timely shot sent home.

PLATFORM AND PRISON.

According to a Washington dispatch to The World "a member of the President's Cabinet" has framed and sent to the Governor of every State, for introduction into the Legislature, a bill making a legislator whose vote upon any measure is "in violation of "any principle or policies set forth or "declared for in the party platform "upon which he is elected" guilty of a felony. If convicted he is to be confined "in the penitentiary for any "term not to exceed ten years, and in "addition thereto shall forfeit his "rights as a citizen to vote."

If such a bill has been prepared by a member of the Cabinet he has taken a solemnly and delightfully humorous way of focusing public attention upon the interminable scrap-bag and omnium-gatherum platforms that have too long been the political fashion and are growing more and more intolerably superfluous. To assume that this mass of policies calculated for all attitudes is, in every jot and tittle, a law to the party that puts it forth, and that any legislator voting against any bill not consonant with some statement in the long beadroll of bids for votes shall languish in a prison cell, is a delicious stroke of satire. Probably the wag was afraid to suggest that "the deaf and desperate head" of the platform-breaker should be visited by the State with something lingering, like boiling oil.

Of course it would be difficult for a member of a Legislature to vote at all if he had to wade through the vast waste and muddle of his platform to find out whether he was about to commit a felony. Sometimes pledges made for political purposes in a platform have had to be broken in the public interest. Presidents have urged and Congress has consented to the violation of "party pledges"; and almost every platform is crowded with "pledges" that can't be carried out and that nobody expects to be carried out. The length and verbosity of party platforms are deplorable; but the voters, most of them unequal to the task of penetrating these jungles of words, find out by their own instinct what the cardinal policies and promises are. On them or on one of them the result of the election usually depends. A platform ought to be short, clear, definite. It ought to be possible when one party is victorious and the other defeated to tell exactly on what the people have pronounced judgment. Thus responsibility would be established. The party managers and platform makers prefer to befog the public as much as possible.

Even if this "member of the President's Cabinet" be an allegory from the Potomac, the thrust at the monstrous balloons sent up into the inane by political parties every year and every four years, is commendable. It is good to tell the truth laughingly. The satirist may have had a subsidiary object, too. Gravely pretending to manufacture a new felony, he may be gibing at the modern mania for inventing and punishing new offenses.

AN INDUSTRIAL CODE.

The United States Chamber of Commerce announces the result of its referendum on twelve propositions embodying an employers' code for the regulation of relations with labor. Naturally a commercial or capitalist view is reflected and the votes cast are important chiefly as an indication of the current of opinion from that point of view. The twelve propositions cover the most contentious points in this thorny subject, but the negative votes were below 54 as the maximum in a total running between 1,079 and 1,564. The proposition which polled only two negative votes and nearly the maximum ayes was that law alone could limit the right of individuals to make individual labor contracts of a lawful sort. There were only four negatives on the principle that shops should be open or closed as the result of agreement between the workers and the employers. The employers concede and demand the right of collective action on the part of both workers and wage payers, under the regulation of law, with mutual responsibility for the observation of obligations and without duress over those wishing to co-operate or to refrain. The restriction of output by either labor or capital with a view to the creation of artificial scarcity and increase of prices is declared anti-social, and the wage should be proportioned to the production of the worker. The declaration which commanded the negative maximum of 54 votes was that, when workers and employers deal with each other through representatives, the representatives "shall not be chosen "or controlled by, or in such dealing "in any degree represent any outside "group or interest in the question at "issue." The remaining declarations are of less interest and the votes run through all with singular uniformity.

There were votes taken separately upon proposals that there should be laws against strikes on public utilities and that there should be provided legal methods of adjusting such disputes. These votes commanded 1,571 ayes as a maximum and a maximum of 100 noes. It seems odd that the members should be more united on questions of private than of public interest, but on the record there was most agreement with labor where complete instead of approximate unanimity against it might have been looked for. Strikes by Government workers were condemned on the ground that allegiance should not be divided between Government and unions, and the principle was asserted that public welfare should control labor relations of public service corporations, but there is a disclosure of a considerable minority of even capitalist sentiment against compulsion in labor disputes.

There are points of distinction between this capitalist sentiment and sentiment in labor circles on the same subjects. One difference is that the capitalist sentiment recognizes that there are two sides to these questions and that the proposals are made in a balanced form, with recognition that the public interest is paramount over either side. Another difference is that the employers stand for the enforcement of law, whereas unions often are reckless in defiance of law, contracts and awards made under mutual submissions. The coastwise strike, the coal strike, the several outlaw strikes are current examples. There are critics of the laws and their enforcement in all camps, but labor would be prudent not to allow capital to claim an advantage in respect for law and good faith. One with the law is a majority against all opponents.

NO CROMWELL IN SIGHT.

The somewhat futile Irish debates in the House of Commons had at least one interesting result. They drew Lord MORLEY from his studied political retirement. In a letter to The London Times he refers to the fact that "the great name of Cromwell" has made its appearance in the Irish controversy for the first time since 1895, when MORLEY was Irish Secretary. At that time the Government proposed a vote of $2,500 toward a public statue for OLIVER CROMWELL. Of course, the Irish Nationalists took fire. A section of the Liberals revolted. The Unionists greeted the plan with "thick-witted gibes," forgetting that CROMWELL was the greatest Unionist of them all. The upshot was that the Government surrendered, putting it tactfully on the ground that if a national memorial was so objected to it was best not to proceed with it. This capitulation was greeted, writes Lord MORLEY, "with "wild cries of aboriginal joy from our "Irish friends."

MORLEY's reference to the "reappearance" of Cromwell refers, it is to be supposed, to a recent passage at arms between Mr. ASQUITH and Mr. LLOYD GEORGE. When the Irish Coercion bill was before the House of Commons the former Liberal leader declared that it would require a Cromwell to make it work. He added sweetly: "I do not see a Cromwell sitting on "the Government benches." When Mr. LLOYD GEORGE came to reply he intimated that Mr. ASQUITH had himself tried to be a Cromwell, and had made rather a mess of it. Lord MORLEY so feels the wonted fires still burning in his ashes that he wishes he had been present in the House to give his own estimate of "CROMWELL'S Irish chapter." He finished his letter with a note of warning to any rash peer who might be disposed to take the matter up, saying: "If any Cromwell should "ever be sought and found in the "House of Lords, I shall there respectfully urge the perusal of Chap"ter 14 of Volume 2 of FIRTH'S 'Last "Years of the Protectorate.'"

THE LITTLE ENTENTE.

The Czechoslovak, Jugoslav and Rumanian Governments have now formally accepted the alliance which has acquired the name of "the Little Entente." According to Dr. BENESH, the Czechoslovak Foreign Minister, the purpose of the combination is "to "secure peace and order in Middle "Europe." Primarily this alliance was formed for defense against the reactionary Government of Hungary, which takes every opportunity to proclaim its purpose of recovering the territories lost by the Peace Treaty to the Czechoslovaks, the Jugoslavs and the Rumanians. At present Hungary is hardly a match for any single one of these States, but so long as they had no agreement, and such questions as the Jugoslav-Rumanian dispute over the Banat threatened to make trouble, there was a chance that the Magyars might find a favorable opportunity to start a new war.

The alliance doubtless also has a defensive purpose against a possible Russian attack. Rumania is more immediately exposed than the others, but if the Bolsheviki attacked Rumania there would be danger for the whole Danube area. The inclusion of the Czechs, whose quarrel with the Poles has inclined them toward sympathy with Russia, indicates that toward Russia the alliance is purely defensive; it will not make any trouble, but it greatly lessens the prospect of trouble from the East.

Vienna reports would have it that British and French officials are displeased at the action of the small States in making an agreement without consulting the great Powers. It is not unlikely that some French and British officials entertain such views. Particularly in the French Foreign Office there may be some dissatisfaction with an alliance which means the end of several optimistic schemes cherished in Paris—setting HORTHY's Magyar army against the Bolsheviki, or inciting the Czechs and Rumanians to join in the war on the side of Poland. These schemes could have done little good to France and little harm to Russia, but they might easily have ruined the Danube States. The Danube peoples are learning quickly what the Balkan States learned after a long time—that their salvation rests in their own hands and cannot be looked for from great nations at a distance, primarily concerned with their own interests. Czechs, Jugoslavs and Rumanians owe much to France, but the debt cannot profitably be paid by gratuitous suicide.

ORGANIZE THE ORCHARD.

The most sensational feature in the predicament of our State's apple crop is, so to speak, its normalcy. With a bumper yield of some 40,000 carloads, the market price of $1.50 a barrel scarcely pays the cost of picking. The prospect is excellent for cider on the farm, but even when every allowance is made for rustic bibulosity tons of fruit will rot beneath the trees. And while the grower is offered about 1 cent a pound, apples are selling in the city for 10, 15 and even 25 cents a pound. This is no new phenomenon; the situation differs from last and every other year only in the abundance of the crop.

Loud cries are raised against the middleman, and he is probably no nearer perfection than the rest of us; but the true source of this hideous waste lies in the fact that the farmer is not organized to meet a purely business situation on a business basis. The apples we eat come mainly from the Western grower — who is organized. They are grown in districts where every tree is systematically and scientifically sprayed against injurious insects and fungi; where the apples are picked by hand and marketed without any bruise; where all fruit with the least blemish is discarded and the remainder packed in uniform grades and sizes. When an Eastern buyer orders Western apples he knows precisely what he will get, and when the consumer puts his teeth into them he knows precisely what he is biting. They are true apples of Eden, and few sons of Adam, having once sinned against their native State, are likely to take a chance with the home product. If the primal Garden had been located in New York, the father of us all would have stopped, looked and possibly listened for the serpent—with the result that we might still be living in a state of innocence.

Nevertheless the New York apple is, "simply of itself and undefiled," far more juicy and full flavored than the flawless beauties from the West—probably the most delicious apple in the world. More than that, it is as wholesome as it is delicious. The Western apple has generally an excess of fibre, which not only impairs its eating quality but which, unless each mouthful is ground to pulp, causes fermentation, with resultant indigestion. People who in their youth in the country ate apples ravenously and with impunity leave the modern apple to adorn the centre dish, and perhaps eventually substitute for it "property" fruit from the china shop, lamenting meantime that their digestion is no longer what it was.

The problem of the Eastern orchardist is not simple. Spray as he will, his labor is largely lost unless his neighbors spray likewise, for the codling moth has wings and the spores of fungi are borne upon the wind. Wherever there is an abandoned farm there is a more abandoned orchard, which is a menagerie of the most abandoned pests. And whereas Western orchards tend to concentrate in narrow valleys, easily controlled, Eastern orchards are scattered far and wide. Doubtless we shall never quite equal the apple that can be eaten, and often eaten only, with the eyes. Yet we have individual orchardists and not a few co-operative groups that grow apples of the soundest and find a ready market for them, not only here but in Europe. But their trade is mainly with individuals who know their wares. In the general market the prevailing commodity is a barrel with a layer or two of sound fruit that masks a chamber of horrors.

Thanks to the bill fathered by Senator CAPPER, the legal difficulties in the way of co-operation are likely to be soon removed. When the farmer reaches his full stature as a business man and a bargainer, he should make short shrift of whatever abuses are chargeable to the middleman.

ROUNDING OUT THE CITY.

The opening of a little more than three miles of double-track subway on one of Brooklyn's leading streets and a little less than five miles on another means more than the bare figures indicate. The new subways are crossed by nine lines of tributary trolleys. People riding on them now have to pay a dime to reach New York's chief centres. The same ten cents will enable them to ride in subways and save many minutes. All within walking distance of the new subway get a nickel fare. Thus many square miles of cheap residential land are thrown into a market ripe to take it.

Heretofore the opening of new subways has oversupplied the house lots, with depressing effect on Manhattan residences except of the costliest sort. But now there will be no surplus. The opening of these square miles affords hope of building homes or flats for the average renter. The owners of these lands have a profit which is the best sort of basis for the equity which must exist before there can be any mortgage or building loans. The proposal to exempt mortgage money from taxation will fail of its purpose to supply building funds unless there is a profit for the builder. There is no initiative in mortgage money. It never builds of its own motion, because it never takes any risk if it knows it. The builder's profit on his equity is the mainspring of construction and it is idle to exempt the mortgage money while the profits of the builder and landlord are reduced or destroyed. During the earlier stages of subway construction landlords bid for tenants by all sorts of concessions. Renters were wise to rent then. They see the wisdom of owning now.

All the east side subways reach Brooklyn through the old tunnel; the west side subways through the new Clark Street tunnel. Both the east and west side subways from Manhattan run through the same stations on part of the Brooklyn route. Thus Brooklyn subway patrons reach either set of express trains by transfer from the other by simply stepping across a platform. In Queens the Interborough and B. R. T. trains were planned to run through the same stations, but the B. R. T. cars were made too wide to pass the platforms. Brooklyn passengers want old-model cars used on these Queens lines until the platforms have been cut down. They also would like transfers granted where the B. R. T. elevated and subway trains cross or meet. The dual subway plan will be incomplete without a connection between these routes, giving a through ride for a nickel without change.

The Interborough system is now complete except for the extension of the Queens tunnel to Times Square. The B. R. T. system lacks the crosstown tunnel to Union Square in Manhattan. That tunnel contract has just been let at an additional cost to the city of two million dollars, the war having caused the default of the original contractor. The real loss to the city is greater than the contract price, through the lack of the house lots which would be brought within the nickel radius and the reach of the tax assessor, who is said to be looking for a billion dollars of new values. The failure of the city to make its expected growth of population is due more to the delay in completing the subway system than to war conditions. The inveterate critics of the dual subway have a task which grows more difficult every month.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

An Ungallant Motto of Maryland.

The State seal of Maryland bears the legend Crescite et Multiplicamini, "Increase and Multiply." According to a Baltimore dispatch, the motto on the State coat-of-arms reads "Fatti Maschi, Parole Femine," "Deeds Are Masculine, Words Feminine." If this be the case, the women folk are right in objecting to it. It isn't civil and it isn't a fact; and it is the lamest of explanations to say that in Italian a fact is masculine and a word is feminine. There must be a "new departure" and a "new deal" in mottoes to correspond with the new political position.

The Massachusetts State motto fortunately belongs to both sexes, Latin urbanely omitting the pronoun: "By the sword he or she seeks tranquillity under liberty." Some suffragists rather cruelly proposed that Maryland should adopt the Virginia motto, "Sic Semper Tyrannis." Under present and recent circumstances that might seem like a jab—too well deserved, alas!—at the dethroned tyrant, Man. Why not admit candidly the exact feminine status, domestic, social, political, and inscribe upon that coat-of-arms Dux Femina Facti, which may be concisely Englished as "Woman Is the Boss"?

"Aviation" in Sugar Prices.

Sugar at 10 or 11 cents a pound before New Year's is predicted by a Chicago committee that has been investigating the recent "aviation" of prices. What went up so spectacularly is evidently coming down on the heads of the aviators themselves.

The crisis was reached when the Federal Reserve Banks, scenting the profiteer in a price of 31 cents a pound, began calling loans that had been made on hoards of sugar. Then it appeared that our crop of sugar beets is 30 to 40 per cent. larger than ever before, while Europe is again in the market with beet sugar. In the Middle West farmers are already contracting to sell their beets at $11 and $12 a ton, which should mean ten-cent sugar. Meanwhile the Cuban sugar crop is estimated at 4,000,000 tons, which is three times the last crop before the war.

In some measure the late rise resulted from the buying of housewives who were anxious to lay in enough sugar for the season's canning. Such buying will doubtless continue; but the Chicago committee advises all possible moderation and delay. In the face of present conditions the price cannot make any marked advances, and the probability is that if housewives limit their purchases to the actual needs of the moment it will remain stationary or decline.

Vindication of the Rocking Chair.

There are no savants like the French. When they investigate a question they do it scientifically and without a trace of prejudice. For example, the French Academy of Sciences has just finished an exhaustive inquiry into that "American fad," as it has been considered in Europe, the rocking chair. The verdict is strongly in favor of it on every physiological ground. We in this country scarcely knew the scientific justification for the rocking chair. It was enough for us that it was comfortable. But now the French reveal to us that in our blundering rule-of-thumb way we had really hit upon a great truth. The rocking chair assures the "normal position of the skull on the spinal column," is most conducive to proper breathing and has Heaven knows what additional merits.

It is to be hoped that this authoritative decision will put an end to the wonder and ridicule excited by the few American "rockers" that find their way into benighted Europe. At home, it beseems us to take our vindication modestly. There will be some whom all the wise men in France cannot persuade that an acre or two of women on the piazzas of a Summer hotel, all rocking with a lamentable lack of unison or rhythm, is a pretty sight. But the candidate who sticks to his porch rocking chair will take fresh courage from this French scientific indorsement.

The Power of Anders Zorn.

ANDERS ZORN was an artist of the kind that is vigorously attacked and quite as vigorously praised—a highly valuable quality in a field in which, on the basis even of merit, publicity is almost impossible.

When a technical problem interested him, he solved it with an almost uncanny directness of masterhood; but the more ordinary and fundamental problems he sometimes quite neglected. From the pedestrian point of view the result is a certain unevenness of execution, not to say sensationalism. But the true spirit of the artist was far above the merely meretricious. His etchings abounded in native vigor and his portraits in that which, after all, is the true quality of portraiture, instinctive human nature and salient character.

Born in a country with no native school of note, he early left Swedeh and wandered over the earth, taking his own where he found it, but never descending to the merely eclectic or imitative. His virtues and his faults were all his own and he will doubtless be recognized as one of the most vigorous individualities of his time.

FACTS ABOUT WRANGEL.

Comment on an Article by Paxton Hibben.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The New Republic in its issue of Aug. 25 prints an article by Paxton Hibben under the title "Russia's Newest Democrat—Wrangel." As the article is replete with half-truths such as The New Republic specializes in, I will thank you for space for a brief reply.

Mr. Hibben starts his article by reproducing Wrangel's order against the Kuban Cossack "Rada." This "Rada," or Parliament, to begin with did not represent any considerable portion of the population, was not elected by general suffrage, and did not, therefore, speak in the name of a majority of the Kuban Cossacks. Its constituency was of the same ilk as Petlura's Ukrainian separatists, and they were just as dangerous to the regeneration of a united Russian State. As a soldier in the cause of Russia's re-establishment, Wrangel was justified in taking drastic measures, and I wonder what Mr. Hibben would do if he were in the place of Wrangel, let us say, in a similar civil war in America, when the State of New York would declare its secession from the Union.

But why should Mr. Hibben put the burden of the whole responsibility upon General Wrangel when General Denikin had already ten days earlier issued an order which read, in part, as follows: "I order that these persons [some of those mentioned in Wrangel's subsequent order] be brought before a court-martial for treason as soon as they appear on the territory of the South Russian armed forces." As Denikin was at that time Wrangel's superior the latter merely carried out a military command from his chief, as any good soldier will do. This is the most that could be said against Wrangel, and outside of the readers of The New Republic no sane person, and no patriotic Russian, will find fault with that.

As for the writer's demagogic attempt to prejudice his readers against Wrangel by pointing out his descent from the nobility, this will only cause a knowing smile among us Russians who don't forget the great fighters for freedom and democracy which have sprung from the Russian nobility ever since the days of the Decembrists and down to Count Leo Tolstoy. And, since the proof of the pudding is supposed to be in the eating, Mr. Hibben's terribly sinister old lady from Tiflis has proved a most unreliable source of information as to Wrangel's intentions, for it is only a day or two ago since we all read the glad news that no other but Wrangel himself brought the first sacrifice to the interests of a new Russia by dividing the 60,000-acre estate of his mother-in-law among the peasants.

Today's NEW YORK TIMES carries a dispatch telling us that a treaty has already been concluded between General Wrangel and the Kuban and other Cossacks, which proves that there is not any feeling against Wrangel in the Kuban, the people there evidently knowing better than The New Republic and Mr. Hibben what is good for them.

Corrections and Criticisms.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It is a pity that writers who are apparently totally unfamiliar with the spirit of Spanish and Hispanic American peoples and customs should continue to publish articles which are supposed to give authoritative pictures of our Latin neighbors. Such articles as the one published in today's TIMES under the title of "Raising Cain in Cuba" irritate rather than amuse by their amateurish flavor and exhibition of naive ignorance.

It would be interesting to learn the authority for the author's statement that most of us know so much more French than Spanish, and that it is so much more difficult to pronounce a Spanish phrase than a French one. An investigation of the comparative number of students of French and Spanish in our schools and colleges would perhaps have prevented such an erroneous remark. But when we find such words as "bodiga, malcon, frontal and Jai Alai" instead of "bodega, malecon, fronton and pelota" we realize the source of the idea.

Perhaps the most amazing statement made in the article, however, is that "Cuba, like Spain and South America, has her Government controlled lottery." It seems unfair to the more progressive of the ten distinct countries of South America to include them in such a sweeping and uncritical generalization as this.

REALITY.

Sophisticated sparrows on the dirty eaves
Quarrel noisily, darting in and out;
The rain drips dully as a hopeless woman grieves,
And gurgles from the evil-looking spout.

The naked trees, with bare arms, reach and pray
Unto the gray, unpitying fog of sky;
And in the dim light of a sodden day
A mangy, half-starved dog goes howling by.

The sun comes out. A robin clearly calls—
That lovely sound that challenges the soul;
The bare trees sparkle, and rare beauty falls

Must File Removal Requests Without Delay, Says Department.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Announcement was made by the War Department today that the return of American soldier dead is dependent upon definite requests of the legal next of kin being received in sufficient time for transmission to Europe prior to the completion of cemeterial operations in a particular area.

"Relatives of our soldier dead," read the announcement, "in many instances and sometimes repeatedly change their requests, vacillating between shipment to this country and permanent burial abroad. Obviously it is impracticable to revisit cemeteries where operations have been completed in order to disinter the remains that were previously requested to permanently remain abroad.

"Operations have practically been completed in the zone of Great Britain, and after the Graves Registration Service forces leave Great Britain no requests for the return of remains from that area will be favorably considered. All bodies left will have been at the request of relatives, thus terminating the obligation of the Government as regards transportation."

The War Department is daily in receipt of letters commending the army on the work of removing our soldier dead from France.

PASS TESTS FOR CONSULS.

State Department Announces 27 Successful Men in Examinations.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The State Department announced today that twenty-seven men passed the Consular Service examination held in June. The names and addresses of the successful candidates are as follows:

Austin C. Alden, Milton, Mass.; George Atcheson, Jr., Berkeley, Cal.; Charles A. Bay, Pittsburgh; F. Harold Brown, Leesburg, Va.; Harry E. Carlson, Joliet, Ill.; Culver B. Chamberlain, Kansas City, Mo.; Thomas Dickinson, San Antonio, Texas; Leon Dominian, New York City; Hooker A. Doolittle, Utica, N. Y.; Harold D. Finley, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.; Peter H. A. Flood, Nashua, N. H.; Walter A. Foote, Philadelphia; Ray Fox, Berkeley, Cal.; Arthur B. Giroux, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Donald R. Heath, Topeka, Kan.; Jack D. Hickerson, Temple, Texas; Clark P. Kuykendall, Towanda, Pa.; Arthur C. Millspaugh, Augusta, Mich.; P. Harley Moseley, Tampa, Fla.; James O. Murdock, New York City; Robert D. Murphy, Milwaukee, Wis.; Alexander K. Sloan, Greensburg, Pa.; Leland L. Smith, Portland, Ore.; Robert Lacy Smyth, Berkeley, Cal.; Leo D. Sturgeon, Chicago; Marshall M. Vance, Dayton, Ohio; Rollin R. Winslow, St. Joseph, Mich.

KANSAS CITY HAS 324,410.

Now Ranks as Nineteenth City, with an Increase of 30.6 Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. — Kansas City, Mo., whose 1920 population was announced today by the Census Bureau as 324,410, takes rank as nineteenth city of the country. Ten years ago it occupied twentieth place. The city during the last decade had an increase of 76,029, or 20.6 per cent., which was exceeded by the increase of two previous decades. Its percentage of growth was the smallest in its history, excepting the decade ending with 1900.

The 1920 census of only one city having 100,000 or more has not yet been announced. That is Richmond, Va., which ranked as thirty-ninth city ten years ago.

The country now has sixty-seven cities with a population of 100,000 or more. Ten years ago there were only fifty-Many changes in the rank of cities have occurred during the decade, the most notable being the advance of Detroit from ninth to fourth place and Akron, Ohio, from eighty-first to thirty-second rank.

Other census announcements of populations today were:

Santa Barbara, Cal., 19,441, an increase of 7,782, or 66.7 per cent.

Elyria, Ohio, 20,474, an increase of 5,649, or 38.1 per cent.

Petersburg, Va., 31,002, an increase of 6,875, or 28.5 per cent.

TO AVERT SHIP RATE WAR.

Benson Confers with French Line—High Coal a Factor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Entrance of French maritime interests into the transatlantic rate conference for the stabilization of overseas shipping charges was discussed today by Oscar Cauchois, general manager of the freight department of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, and Chairman Benson of the Shipping Board.

While no conclusion was reached, Admiral Benson said he believed that French shipping interests would enter into the proposed agreement designed to prevent a rate war. The Chairman added, however, that proposals for a division of tonnage by the different countries at various ports would not be considered by the board, because its policy called for absolute freedom of the seas.

The bunker coal supply is one of the problems facing the French Line in American ports, the Chairman said, adding that Mr. Cauchois had reported that the steamship La France required 5,000 tons to make each return trip and that the coal cost $18 a ton.

High coal prices were attributed by the Chairman to speculators taking advantage of the recent drop in ocean freight rates to contract for coal for export.

CAR SHORTAGE IMPROVED.

More Loaded and Fewer Stalled on Roads, Says Service Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The greatest improvement in the car shortage situation since January is now being accomplished by the railroads of the country, the Railroad Car Service Commission declared tonight.

Commercial freight loaded during the week which ended Aug. 7 comprised 942,000 cars, compared with 914,000 cars during the previous week and 872,000 cars for the corresponding period in 1919.

The car shortage for the week ending Aug. 6 amounted to 125,219 cars, compared with 132,370 cars for the previous week.

The roads during the week of Aug. 13 were unable to move 70,213 cars, while for the previous week the car accumulation was 84,949.

REFUSE KOREAN INVITATIONS

American Congressional Party Will Attend Only Two Functions.

TOKIO, Aug. 22.—Advices from Korea state that the American Senators and Representatives have decided to decline all invitations for entertainment except the official Korean reception and also a joint Korean-Japanese reception.

The members of the party plan to go directly to Fusan from Mukden and embark at Fusan on a special Japanese steamer. They will proceed to Kobe by way of the Inland Sea, stopping at the sacred island of Miyajima.

Arrests of Koreans continue. Three men alleged to be revolutionary leaders have been imprisoned at Pyongyang together with three other persons suspected of throwing a bomb at the municipal building recently.

New York Central Bond Hearing.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today set Aug. 30 for hearings on the application of the New York Central Railroad for authority to issue ten-year 7 per cent. collateral trust gold bonds to the amount of $25,000,000 and refunding and improvement mortgage bonds to the amount of $25,000,000.

SAYS POSTAL GAINS REFLECT PROSPERITY

WANTS THREE POST OFFICES

Year's Revenues in New York City Totalled $50,000,000—Redfield Speaks On Economy.

The growth of the postal business indicates that the country is in no danger of a panic, according to First Assistant Postmaster General J. C. Koons. Mr. Koons spoke yesterday at the second annual meeting and luncheon of the National Publishers' Association at the Waldorf. He devoted himself principally to advocating a Congressional authorization of $30,000,000 to make New York's mail handling facilities the finest in the world. William C. Redfield, former Secretary of Commerce, also spoke.

Mr. Koons said postal revenues amount to more than $450,000,000 annually for the whole country and are increasing at an unprecedented rate, having grown more than 20 per cent. during the March quarter while the average increase for the past fifteen years has been but 5.88 per cent.

"The postal service is the best known barometer of business," he continued. "Any stagnation of business is reflected quicker in the postal service than any other place. Judging by this standard, if any of you are apprehensive of the future of our business prosperity your fears are groundless, as the postal service is having an era of unprecedented prosperity. We transact a money order business of $1,200,000,000; handle and transport 1,250,000,000 pounds of second class mail matter; more than 3,500,000,000 pounds of parcel post and thousands of tons of third class matter each year."

Mr. Koons said the postal business of New York City proper last year amounted to approximately $50,000,000, an increase of 30 per cent. over the previous year and that, at the same rate it would double within a little more than three years. H said the problem here had been solved only in part by renting private buildings.

"There are three immense problems, of the utmost importance, which can only be solved by government-owned buildings," he added. "The amount involved is too large to be financed and handled economically as a rental proposition under present abnormal conditions. I refer to the Pennsylvania Station, the downtown Post Office and the Grand Central Terminal. More mail is handled between these three points than any three points in the world.

"The only solution of the problem is to construct a large Post Office building in the downtown or financial district, one in the rear of what is known as the Pennsylvania Terminal on the square of property belonging to the Pennsylvania Railroad, and one in the vicinity of the Grand Central; these three to be connected by an underground tunnel at least 15 feet wide and 8 feet high, of sufficient size to transport all the mail for years to come, the mail to be transported through the tunnel on cars automatically and electrically operated.

Ex-Secretary Redfield's subject was "What Is Public Economy?" He said there was much loose talk of Government economy by ill-informed persons and that many economies could be accomplished only by crippling or ending invaluable Government services.

Just as the executive officers of a corporation should not be excluded from direct statement to the board of directors, he recommended that members of the Cabinet and their subordinates be put where they could speak to Congress so it and the country might hear, and where Congress could ask questions without resorting to the "second hand method" of committee meetings.

H. M. Sweatland, President of the United Publishers' Corporation, presided at the business meeting and at the luncheon which preceded it.

LABOR'S PLAN TO END WAR.

International Committee Urges Universal Refusal to Ship Arms.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Organization of all workers in the world to fight against future wars is urged in an appeal to "the Proletariat of the Universe" issued by the committee of the International League of Trade Unions at Rotterdam and signed by a number of European labor leaders.

"One of the best methods of preventing future wars," says the statement, which is published in The Times, "is to refuse to transport troops or war materials. Organized labor should cease to be the accomplice of imperialism and militarism, and only the decided action of the people will save mankind."

Other recommendations made by the appeal to world workers include demands that no ammunition trains shall be run, no steamers loaded with war materials, not a single soldier transported, all food supplies be withheld and the manufacture of all war materials end immediately upon the declaration of war. A general world strike would be called if all other methods failed.

"Comrades," the statement concludes, "in 1914 our organization was too weak to resist war. It is now strong, having 27,000,000 members, but its strength rather lies in the spirit which animates it. This organization has in its own hands the power to save the world from a repetition of the cruelty which lies behind it. War against war!"

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 23.—The recommendation that workers cripple all industries in the event of future deportation was contained in a resolution passed by the Trades Union Conference, in session here, yesterday. The carrying out of propaganda among the men making up the crews of warships which might be used for the purpose of deporting individuals was also favored.

Minister to Santo Domingo, Who Resigned Unde arges, Dies in Ireland.

ONCE LEADER IN TAMMANY

Cousin of the Late Tim Sullivan, a Lawyer, Had the Support of Secretary Bryan.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 23.—James Mark Sullivan, the former New York lawyer, died at his home in Ireland last week, according to a message received here today.

Following his graduation from the Yale Law School, where he won the Townsend prize, speaking an original oration on Home Rule, he began practice in New York and became prominent in Tammany politics. He stumped the city for Wilson in 1912 and was made Minister to Santo Domingo. He encountered violent opposition because of his awards of contracts, and William J. Bryan, Secretary of State, defended his appointment on the ground that places had to be found for deserving Democrats.

Mr. Sullivan resigned and married an Irish heiress and went to Dublin to live.

It was his short but stormy diplomatic career that brought James M. Sullivan into the spotlight of public attention. He was appointed United States Minister to Santo Domingo on Aug. 12, 1913, through the influence of William Jennings Bryan, and he had been in office only a short time when charges were made against him that he was working not in the interest of this country or of the country he was stationed in, but his efforts were directed in advancing the interests of the Banco Nacional financiers in the matter of contracts and concessions.

The controversy over the fitness or unfitness of Mr. Sullivan as Minister was long drawn out and led, among other things, to the resignation of Walker Whiting Vick as Receiver General of Customs of Santo Domingo. Charges finally led to the appointment of United States Senator James D. Phelan of California by President Wilson on Dec. 16, 1914, as Commissioner to investigate Mr. Sullivan. No direct proof was brought to support the charges, but the testimony at the hearings resulted in a verdict that Sullivan was "unfit." He resigned on July 23, 1915.

Mr. Sullivan was born in Killarney, Ireland, on Jan. 6, 1873, and came to this country as a small boy. He grew up in Brooklyn. According to testimony given at the hearings, he was a cousin of the late Tim Sullivan. When a very young man Sullivan covered sports for a Waterbury paper and acted as press agent in the promotion of athletic events. Later he studied in Yale University, graduating in 1902. He began the practice of law the same year in Connecticut. In 1906 he moved to this city, and practiced until his appointment to the Santo Dominican post.

While interested in sports in Waterbury early in his life, Mr. Sullivan met Jack Rose, who was one of the star witnesses for the State at the trial of Charles Becker, the policeman who was convicted and executed for the murder of Rosenthal. It was Sullivan who acted as counsel for Rose at the time of the trial.

MRS. WANAMAKER BURIED.

New York Police Choir Sings at Services at Lindenhurst.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 23.—Mrs. John Wanamaker was buried this afternoon with simple but impressive ceremonies from Lindenhurst, her home in Chelten Hills, Old York Road. Rev. John A. Williams, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Chapel, Chelsea, where Mrs. Wanamaker was a worshiper, officiated at the funeral. Hymns were sung by St. Mark's Episcopal Church Choir and the New York Police Choir, consisting of thirty-two men in uniform. They came as a tribute to Rodman Wanamaker, Deputy Commissioner of Police of New York.

A delegation of thirty-five men and women from the Wanamaker New York store attended, led by Preston Lynn, manager of the New York store. There were also present many representatives of the employes and executives of the Philadelphia store.

Services were conducted on the second floor of the Wanamaker home, attended only by members of the family and immediate friends. Several hundred persons were on the first floor.

At the conclusion of the services the Police Choir of New York went to the second floor. As the body of Mrs. Wanamaker, in a silver and bronze coffin, was borne down the marble stairway the chanting choir formed an escort for the body, accompanying it to the driveway. The chanting continued until the coffin had been placed in a hearse to be taken to the cemetery of St. James, the Less, where it was laid to rest in a mausoleum.

The stone steps leading up to the vault, which is directly underneath the Wanamaker Memorial Tower, were lined on both sides with flowers.

The Rev. Mr. Williams officiated at the grave. After he had read the service the male choir from St. Mark's sang "Softly Now, the Light of Day." The chimes rang at the end of the service, playing "Abide in Me."

The active pallbearers were Major Barclay H. Warburton, Major Norman MacLeod, Captain John Wanamaker, Jr., Captain Gurnee Munn, Thomas B. Wanamaker, Jr., Rodman Wanamaker, 2d, and Edgerton Warburton.

Mayor Hylan of New York and Grover A. Whalen were among those present.

Tennessee Court Includes Legislative Clerks in Order Against Certifying Ratification.

NO DATE SET FOR HEARING

House Still Without a Quorum and Suffrage Opponents Claim Final Action Is Blocked.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 23.—Argument on the order restricting State and legislative officials from certifying to Washington Tennessee's ratification of the Federal Suffrage Amendment might be heard Wednesday or Thursday, it was thought tonight, though no agreement had been reached. The order was extended today to include the Chief Clerks of the Senate and House and was amended to cover the action of the House in transacting business Saturday, when it was not at any time constitutionally organized."

Meantime, the legislative machinery of the State has come to a complete standstill, the more than a score of anti-suffrage members who went to Decatur, Ala., remaining out of jurisdiction. Some of the suffragists in the House attempted today to dispense with a roll call and to work on local bills, but a roll call was demanded and, a quorum being found lacking, adjournment was taken until late tomorrow. This is expected to be the procedure for the next few days, at least.

Rumors today that an agreement had been reached between suffrage leaders and the bolters at Decatur to return to Nashville and proceed with legislation under a pledge that suffrage would not be referred to by either faction were denied in all quarters. Seth Walker, Speaker of the House, and the opposition leader, said he had no authority to speak for members at Decatur, but he was certain they would not agree to such a plan.

The suffragists still maintain their action Saturday was legal in every respect, and regard the temporary injunction as the only stumbling block in the way of certifying ratification to Washington. They were confident the injunction would be dissolved within the next few days.

The opposition, declaring the suffragists acted illegally, claim the House still has the opportunity to rescind ratification, and they are urging mass meetings against suffrage throughout the State, in the hope that some members who voted for ratification will reverse their stand when the expected time comes.

Governor Roberts, Attorney General Thompson and others hold that the amendment has been ratified and declare only the injunction stands in the way of certifying ratification to Washington.

Before the restricting order had been amended by the court the resolution ratifying the amendment as adopted by the House had been transmitted to the Senate, but the clerk of that body must report receipt of the resolution after which the usual course would be for the measure to be entered on the journal and ordered sent to the engrossing clerk. Then it would be signed by the Speaker and transmitted to the Governor for his approval.

DECATUR, Ala., Aug. 23.—Members of the Tennessee House of Representatives here issued today a formal statement addressed to the people of Tennessee setting forth their reasons for breaking a quorum in the House by leaving the State. It bears the signatures of thirty-seven members, of whom twenty-seven are Democrats and ten Republicans.

"We are convinced," the statement said, "that the methods which were adopted to secure the passage of the resolution were improper and not justified. We believe that the majority of the people of Tennessee do not favor the ratification of said amendment.

"It is our purpose to remain outside of the borders of the State for a reasonable time until the people of the State may have an opportunity to express themselves in the premises."

NOT ROCKEFELLER'S KIN.

Widow Seeking to Protect Daughter Denies She's Related to John D.

Mrs. Ellnore Rockefeller, a widow, of 1,129 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday obtained a summons in the Gates Avenue Police Court for William Marsh of 43 Downing Street, Brooklyn, on a charge of disorderly conduct. She said the charges arose out of Marsh's opposition to her desires that he should not accompany her daughter, Viola Rockefeller, 34 years old, to the theatre and on trips to the beach. Mrs. Rockefeller denied reports that John D. Rockefeller was a relative by marriage and said she had never claimed that relationship. Marsh, who is 62 years old, denied the disorderly conduct charges and said he had taken the daughter out because he was sorry for her.

occasion, while moving a shipment of whisky in Staten Island, been forced to pay tribute of $750 to one Federal agent and $250 to another.

"Eckert was a tool in the hands of clever men," Mr. Molloy said. "They probably were afraid that he was about to squeal on them, after he was released, and it was necessary for their own preservation to make away with him."

He added that he had learned that Eckert, when he took part in raids on whisky smugglers, sometimes represented himself as a Federal agent and exhibited a shield of the Internal Revenue Department.

"Among other things," said Mr. Molloy, "he showed a bogus telegram purporting to appoint him a Prohibition enforcement agent and signed 'Sheviin.'"

Charles Kane, owner of the automobile in which the murdered man was found, who was arrested on suspicion that he had reported the theft of the machine, before the murder was found, in order to mislead the police and disconnect himself from the case, continued yesterday to refuse to answer questions. William Molloney, proprietor of the Manhattan Hotel at South Beach, who was also arrested at South Beach, was also silent. The two men were represented by Albert Fach, ex-District Attorney of Richmond, who said yesterday:

"I have no statement to make on behalf of my clients except that they are innocent."

The two men are held on a short affidavit, whose effectiveness terminates this morning, when they must be taken before a Magistrate. An effort will be made by the defense to compel the prosecutor to free them there or to disclose his hand against them. Mr. Fach, when asked if the arrest of his clients did not conflict with the theory that prohibition agents had arranged the murder plot, said:

"I prefer not to go into that."

Mrs. Florence Eckert, the widow, produced yesterday the certificate of her marriage to Eckert in April, 1914. She said they were married at the Little Church Around the Corner and that her former husband, Harry K. Vail, had died several months before that date. The authorities, who had listened to the assertions of the family that Eckert was unmarried, were prepared to accept this evidence and deliver the body to the undertaker named by Mrs. Eckert when a Supreme Court injunction was served on them last night forbidding them to interfere in any way with the plans of Mrs. Margaret Eckert, the mother, for the disposition of the body.

District Attorney Molloy is investigating a report that Eckert left his garage on Friday morning after receiving a telephone message asking him to be at a saloon at Oliver and Madison Streets, Manhattan, at 8 o'clock that night. Mrs. Eckert said that she had an appointment to meet her husband that night at 9 o'clock, but that he did not keep it and did not send word to her as to his reason for canceling it.

DANCING MASTERS MOVE FOR UPLIFT

Would Have Government Fix Standards High Enough Even for Methodists.

The American National Association of Masters of Dancing, which opened a five-day session at the Hotel Astor yesterday, will continue its campaign to have the Methodist Church lift its ban on dancing. More than 100 delegates from different States attended the thirty-seventh annual convention of the association.

A plea for better dance music and the improvement of the general tone of modern dances was made in the opening speech of Fenton T. Bott of Dayton, Ohio, President of the association, who introduced a resolution suggesting that the Methodist and all other churches, likewise State and municipal authorities, help improve dancing conditions rather than maintain a ban which few church members obey. This resolution was unanimously adopted.

"Considerable progress was made in the last year to raise dancing in the eyes of the public to a position of which we can be proud," said Mr. Bott.

"Numerous influential groups have enlisted in our crusade for dance reform, including the Red Cross and other war agencies.

"We appeal to the composers and publishers of music to improve the rhythm of modern dance music and dancing will thereby be bettered. We believe that it is best for all concerned that music, both melodies and words, be raised to a higher standard, and we will endeavor to have all theatrical dancing censored so that the present high standard can be maintained.

"Although owners of public dance halls are not eligible to membership in our society, we are vitally concerned in the conduct of their places of business. It is the public dance hall, poorly run which receives and merits most public criticism. We believe that charts should be supplied by Government, State or local authorities, to fix the standard which must be followed. This has been done in Cleveland, Ohio, where public dancing is now on a much higher moral plane.

"We greatly appreciate the co-operation of so many organizations who are aiding us in our efforts to have the ban on dancing raised. We feel that we will succeed in our efforts very soon. There is much interest shown within the church now and it cannot help but have its result. Even the Methodist Board of Bishops has repeatedly urged a revision of the Amusement Paragraph, so hurriedly adopted in 1872.

"About one-third of the Methodist ministers of the United States this year likewise recommended a change. Most Methodists admit the rules are a legislative blunder and never should have been adopted.

"We adopt these resolutions not for business purposes, but because we are proud of our profession. Dancing is older than Christianity and will live as long as there is music."

WOMEN DIPLOMATS URGED.

Mrs. Maud Nathan Tells of Lady Astor's Plea for New Attaches.

The French liner Lafayette arrived yesterday from Havre with the greatest number of attractive-looking, well-gowned young American and French women that have been landed from any one vessel for a long time. The scene was so pleasing as they stepped down the gangway to the pier with their handbags that the longshoremen suspended work to look at them.

Mrs. Maud Nathan, a member of the American delegation which attended the International Suffrage Convention recently in Geneva, said that she visited Lady Astor in England, and the latter asked her to use her influence to arouse American opinion in favor of having an English woman attached to the Embassy in Washington. Lady Astor also hoped, Mrs. Nathan continued, that an American woman would be attached to the United States in London, and added that the establishment of women in such diplomatic positions would be of great advantage to the new voters of both nations.

Among others on board the Lafayette were M. T. Boyer, a French banker, who is counsel to the Government and comes here on official business, and Commander S. Pollock of the United States Navy, former Naval Attaché at the Paris Embassy. The Lafayette brought 248 first, 118 second and 722 third class.

NEW SUBWAYS POPULAR.

Eastern Parkway and Nostrand Av. Lines Carry 12,400 in Two Hours.

The prophecy of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company that the new Eastern Parkway and Nostrand Avenue extensions of its system in Brooklyn would carry an immense traffic was verified yesterday by reports showing that during the two hours between 7 and 9 o'clock the new lines carried 12,400 passengers. As the extensions did not begin operating until 12:40 o'clock yesterday morning and the habits of the people along the route have been fixed along other systems of transportation, the traffic is expected to grow heavier every day until it reaches the maximum.

Deputy Transit Construction Commissioner Daniel Ryan said that the new lines were working smoothly and that all of the stations would be completed within a few days.

Just what effect the new rapid transit lines will have on the surface line traffic will not be known for a week, but it was said that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company would suffer a distinct loss in its income from surface lines.

GUARDS PATROL RAIL YARDS.

Armed Men Protect Employes of the New Haven Against "Outlaws."

Armed guards of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad were brought here yesterday from Waterbury, New Haven and New London, Conn., to patrol the exits of the company's yards and protect their employes against attacks by "outlaw" strikers. Upon their arrival the police of the Alexander Avenue station, who have been stationed outside of the Mott Haven and Oak Point yards, were withdrawn.

The railroad company reported that no new disorders had occurred since Sunday afternoon, when one of the yard employes was sent to Lincoln Hospital with a fractured skull following an attack by five men with blackjacks. About thirty assaults of yard employes had been reported in the preceding forty-eight hours.

LAWYER JUST SAVES BAIL.

Forfeiture of $2,500 Bond Rescinded When J. J. Brady Arrives in Court.

Bail of $2,500 for John J. Brady, an attorney in the Bronx and son of a late Supreme Court Justice, was ordered forfeited for non-appearance in Judge Nott's part of General Sessions yesterday. The forfeiture order was rescinded when Brady and his attorney, Louis J. Fridiger, arrived several hours later and said the delay was due to an automobile accident.

Brady was tried in July on an indictment charging complicity with two others in the theft of an automobile from F. L. Cole, at Broadway and Eighty-second Street, but the jury disagreed. His second trial set for yesterday was postponed to Sept. 8. The other defendants, James Whelan and James Shields, have pleaded guilty.

Crex Carpet Has Record Year.

The Crex Carpet Company reports for the fiscal year ended June 30, net earnings, after depreciation, Federal taxes and charges, of $447,048, the largest in the history of the company. The amount is equal to $74.90 a share on the capital stock. In the previous year the company earned $307,256.

FAVORABLE WHEAT REPORTS

Australia's Acreage is 50 Per Cent. Larger Than in 1919.

ROME, Aug. 21.—Australia's wheat planting for the coming season is 50 per cent. larger than in 1919, and weather and crop conditions were reported good as late as Aug. 17, says a bulletin of the International Institute of Agriculture.

During July, the Indian monsoon was generally favorable, and the price of wheat at Karachi is lower than at any date since July, 1918. Exportation of wheat from India, however, is still prohibited.

The aggregate of wheat shipments from Argentina exceeds all estimates of available surplus during 1920, the bulletin says.

INQUIRY INTO CLOTHING COST

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Officials and employes of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, clothing manufacturers, were summoned today to appear before the Grand Jury investigating the high cost of clothing.

The clothing firm was asked to bring all books, records and bills.

The purpose of the investigation, it was said, is to determine whether retailers are charging undue profits.

Barnes Quits Grain Corporation.

The resignation of Julius H. Barnes as President of the United States Grain Corporation was accepted at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the corporation yesterday. This action followed the acceptance of Mr. Barnes' resignation as United States Wheat Director by the President in an Executive Order dated Aug. 21, 1920. By the same order the President terminated the United States Food Administration in all its branches, except the License Division with respect to sugar, now administered by the Attorney General.

A Message to the Business Men of New York

from Albert B. Ashforth

THE demand today, for office space, is for a permanent location on a fixed rental basis. A corporation, a firm or an individual can be placed in this enviable position by obtaining control of the property to be occupied.

The "high cost of renting" problem can best be solved at the present time by cooperating with others in the erection of the wonderful Park-Madison Building, at 46th to 47th St., Park to Madison Ave. Here is a building, the largest in the world, superbly located, with every known convenience, that is offered to a limited number of high grade corporations, business, and professional men.

The building is to be erected, without mortgage, by men who have only been indentified with successful enterprises in the district in which the building is to be located, and under a plan approved by a Committee of leading Attorneys and Real Estate experts.

It naturally has taken a little time for the business world to grasp the bigness, and potential advantages of this great project. The users of office space in large units have begun to appreciate the advantages of the low rental costs of the Park-Madison Plan and are now purchasing space. Other corporations, firms, and individuals must act quickly, unless they wish to lose this unique opportunity to procure office space in "New York's Newest National Landmark," supplemented by all the national advertising that attaches to such a slogan.

The Building, with its commanding height, exceptionally large floor area, and fine, highly centralized location, appeals especially to large corporations. It is, in my opinion, the best cooperative proposition that has been offered to the public.

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday.....8 per cent. for the best names
Saturday.....8 per cent. for the best names
The quotations are for six months' paper.

Imported English China.

There are beautiful dark effects, among others, in imported English china for table service for the first-class trade. One delightfully decorative design is of dogwood and roses, the flowers large, an all-over pattern of the dark background showing. There are also specially attractive pieces, vases and jars, brought out in the old Chinese mirror black with small border designs. There is said to be a scarcity of this ware, the importers declaring that orders are three and four years behind.

Children's Garments for Gifts.

When a drum or a doll isn't wanted by a child, a form of gift now made available is a garment in a fine material that is often embroidered with the figure of some animal, and other designs. A line includes rompers, aprons and dresses. These garments are more expensive, of course, than the ordinary variety, but, besides their use as gifts, the retail buyers have purchased them for the purposes of brightening up their lines. Two or three are bought for show-window display or to draw the eye to a shop case.

Use of Feathers.

To show the effects obtainable with feathers, one of the leading wholesalers of such merchandise has arranged a display of women's hats created by an American designer. Novel and unusual effects have been achieved with plumage, particularly with the permitted plumage, no paradise being used. One of the new ideas is the use of little wings, somewhat like diminutive butterflies. Although the tendency at present is for soft effects in plumage, wings are employed on several of the models shown.

Play Idea in Children's Wear.

The play or toy idea in children's wear is sustaining increased expression in merchandise of the sort. Thus, to make it a real pleasure for a small child to have its bootees put on, a manufacturer is showing an article which in place of a ribbon has a small bunny in front. Another has utilized the play idea in making children's comfortables. Elephants are worked out in embroidery, and in the centre is a large beast whose ears are sewn on to the comfortable, making it an article that ought to provide an attraction for the child to go to bed.

Conditions in Sweater Trade.

The National Association of the Sweater and Knitted Textile Industry is distributing a pamphlet analyzing conditions in the sweater trade. After reviewing the situation, the manufacturer who prepared the analysis states that there will be insufficient sweaters of the right kind to meet the actual needs of the consumer between now and the end of the year. The members of the association are receiving the pamphlet so that they may inclose it in correspondence with customers who are inclined to cancel orders, and also so that it may be consulted as a summary of conditions in the market.

Knit Goods from Second Hands.

Some knit goods selling agents would give something to know how much of the stuff they deal in is in the hands of speculators. They think it might serve as a guide for them in times like these when buyers are showing no apparent disposition to supply future needs. A number of these buyers seem to have no difficulty in getting goods from second hands, and these are invariably at below the prices which the selling agents can make. The later the period for openings the less will be the demand, as time offered includes rompers, aprons and dresses. These garments are more expensive, of course, than the ordinary variety, but, besides their use as gifts, the retail buyers have purchased them for the purposes of brightening up their lines. Two or three are bought for show-window display or to draw the eye to a shop case.

Small Woolen Business Received.

Business is not entirely dead in the woolen trade, and some manufacturers report quite a few small orders on Fall goods that in the aggregate amount to fair quantities. The price on the goods that are being sought, it is said, must be "right," by which is meant that they must come near to the buyer's idea of proper values. Some of the clothing manufacturers are getting anxious about goods they have ordered, but which are still awaiting delivery in consequence of the closing of mills. In the cancellations given not all the orders were wiped off, but the mills found the quantity of goods too small to make it profitable to operate.

No Waist Line in Gowns.

There is no suggestion of a waist line in many of the new gowns for women's Winter wear. In dark cloths they fall in straight lines, with only a suggestion of the skirt showing below. They are charmingly embroidered in beads and metal threads combined or in the beads alone. One gown shows simple designs in gold thread combined with embroidery in black beads. In other gowns where the beads alone are used, black will predominate, seemingly shaded with color, dark iridescent beads being used with good effect. These are the high-priced gowns and the embroidery, with which the gown is well covered, is elegant and entirely free from garishness.

Exhibits of Manufacturing.

At the coming convention of the retail clothiers next month there will be exhibits showing the manufacture of clothing and hats. All processes used from start to finish will be shown, so that the retailers may be fully informed concerning such merchandise. It has been frequently put forward by clothing and hat manufacturers that labor costs have been the chief expense, and the exhibits will serve to make this clear to the retail buyers. In other words, besides acquainting the retailers with the processes used in making hats and clothing, the exhibition will furnish an explanation why prices based on present costs cannot come down.

Seconds Hands Sell Gray Goods.

Practically all the transactions in the local gray goods market yesterday were from second hands. None of them was for any large quantity, and the prices gave further evidence of the softening tendency noticed for some time back. In the printcloths sales were reported of 38½-inch 64-60s for September and October delivery at 15 cents, while 15½ cents was had for spots of the same construction. Other printcloths disposed of were 38½-inch 60-48s at 14 cents and 44-40s in the same width at 9½, both for August delivery. In sheetings, 36-inch four-yard goods went at 16 cents for the same delivery. Spot 39-inch 64-104, 4.20-yard sateens sold at 16 cents, also for August.

BUSINESS NOTES.

A new jobbing business, the Malone Beall Dry Goods Company, has been started at Dothan, Alabama. Albert L. Casson, 43 Leonard Streeet, is the New York representative. J. F. Beall of the company is now in the market.

Buyers of notions and toilet goods connected with the members of the Dry Goods Alliance, 404 Fourth Avenue, will meet there today and tomorrow.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Air pressure is now high generally east of the Rocky Mountains, with the maximum pressure over the region of the Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi Valley. Pressure is low in Far Western districts and the Western Canadian Province.

There have been scattered local showers within the last twenty-four hours in the Middle Atlantic, South Atlantic and Gulf States and with these exceptions the weather remained fair during the last twenty-four hours throughout the country.

Temperatures are now below the normal in the Eastern and Southern States, the Great Central Valley and the region of the Great Lakes, and they are above normal over the Northwestern States and generally west of the Rocky Mountains.

The outlook is for generally fair weather Tuesday and Wednesday in the States east of the Mississippi River, except that showers are probably in Florida.

The temperatures will be somewhat lower Tuesday in South Carolina and Eastern Georgia, and it will rise Tuesday and Wednesday in the region of the Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley and Tennessee. Moderate temperatures will continue throughout Wednesday in the Eastern States.

FORECAST TODAY AND WEDNESDAY.

New England and Eastern New York—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday; moderate temperature.

New Jersey—Generally fair Tuesday and Wednesday; moderate temperature.

Western New York—Fair Tuesday and probably Wednesday; rising temperature.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at 11 P. M., taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

| | 1920 | 1919 | | 1920 | 1919 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 3 A. M. | 68 | 73 | 4 P. M. | 70 | 86 |
| 6 A. M. | 62 | 69 | 6 P. M. | 74 | 84 |
| 9 A. M. | 63 | 73 | 9 P. M. | 72 | 80 |
| 12 M. | 65 | 83 | 11 P. M. | 70 | 78 |

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 68; for the corresponding date last year it was 78; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 72.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 62, at 8 P. M. it was 73. Maximum temperature 74 degrees at 5 P. M., minimum 61 degrees at 7 A. M. Humidity 70 per cent. at 8 A. M., 62 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 29.99 inches; at 8 P. M. it stood at 30.05 inches.

This Season's Attendance Is Smashing Old Marks—Autos from Forty-five States.

PURSES ARE INCREASED

Horse Owners Will Divide $230,000 for August—Man o' War Draws Thousands to Course.

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Although racing at Saratoga has enjoyed a large measure of success for many years, it remained for the record crowds that poured through the gates Saturday, attracted very largely by the presence of Man o' War, to assure the officials of the Saratoga Association that this meeting would eclipse all others in the history of the course in the matter of attendance as well as for the general interest manifested in the sport. Officials of the association are free to admit that more persons have seen the racing at Saratoga this season than in any other, while the association, on the other hand, has done its share to attract such crowds by the generous purses offered.

Much as a record attendance was looked for on Saturday, the size of the throng that finally gathered was a surprise. The spacious plant was not equal properly to take care of the 35,000 persons who had come from all parts of the State for what was regarded as the biggest turf event of the season. As the automobiles began to congest the parking space outside and the overflow from the stands made such a dense mass on the lawns, the officials realized that but a small part of the great gathering would be in position to witness Man o' War race, unless some other space was opened to them. That was the reason that the infield was thrown open and it was made possible for practically every one present to see the champion in his race with John P. Grier and Upset in the Travers Stakes. It was the first time that the public had ever been permitted to cross the track to witness a race.

Climax to Great Season.

The record attendance on Saturday, however, was but the climax to three weeks of increasing crowds. The daily average attendance throughout the meeting has been above 10,000 for all days except Saturdays, when crowds ranging from 21,000 to the record crowd of last Saturday have turned out for the sport. Saratoga has been crowded throughout the meeting but the huge Saturday crowds are made up largely of visitors from nearby towns and cities, New York supplying a big percentage of the increase. It is estimated that 250,000 persons have attended the racing here so far this year.

In this connection, however, it has been interesting to note the number of States that are represented at the meeting, a number which indicates the widespread interest in racing this year. One of the attendants at the parking space outside the grounds, who has noted the various licenses on automobiles, is authority for the statement that every State but Nevada has been represented by an automobile license, in addition to some from Canada.

Cars from the Middle West and from the South have been quite numerous, but several from California and other Pacific Coast States are to be seen daily at the race track.

The Saratoga Association last year obtained a large plot of ground just in front of the main entrance, which it has turned into a great parking space capable of taking care of upwards of 3,000 automobiles. On Saturday this space has been generally well filled, but last Saturday it became so congested that many cars had to be parked on the grass plots at the side of the roads leading to the parking space.

Purses Greatly Increased.

Throughout the racing season there has been an apparent increase in interest in the sport and the Saratoga Association has had time to make plans in keeping with the greater public interest and promised support. Therefore, those who attended the Saratoga meeting found that the purses had been greatly increased in an effort to attract the very best horses in the country and supply a quality of sport that would be unequalled anywhere else this season. Not only were stake events raised in value, but no purse of less than $1,000 has been offered at the meeting. When the season comes to a close with the running of the rich Hopeful Stakes and the Saratoga Cup, more than $230,000 will have been distributed among horsemen racing here. The Hopeful, richest of the Saratoga stakes, will this year be worth about $36,000, $30,000 being guaranteed by the association.

There is no doubt that Man o' War is largely responsible for much of the enthusiasm that has been displayed at various tracks on the Metropolitan circuit and he has been a big factor in the success at Saratoga this year. His name has been heralded so far and wide that it has come to have a magic effect upon box office receipts. This great colt has attracted to the race track this season thousand of persons who had not before had an interest in the sport, and it is a pleasant commentary on racing that the greatest enthusiasm that has been manifested at any time during the season has been for a great horse on which speculation was almost impossible.

When Man o' War went to the post in the Travers Stakes there were thousands among the throng who did not know the name of the stake event, had no idea of the odds at which the horses were being quoted and had no other interest except to see this wonderful horse perform. It was estimated that Man o' War was directly responsible for at least $30,000 of the total receipts of last Saturday, and he received slightly less than $10,000 for his victory.

IDENTIFY DEAD IN BUS CRASH

Driver, One of the Ten Victims, Blamed for Accident.

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 23.—Identification of the bodies of ten persons killed Sunday night when a motor bus with fifteen passengers bound for Fairview was struck by a Pennsylvania electric train from Millville, was completed tonight. Eight were instantly killed and two died in local hospitals today. Three others are at the point of death tonight.

The authorities place full blame for the accident upon the bus driver, Vincenzo Stratton, who is reported to have ignored the warnings of the flagman at the grade crossing. According to the coroner the flagman jumped in front of the approaching bus waving his red lantern. He shouted that a train was coming, but apparently could not make himself heard. Coroner Rently has not completed his investigation.

The dead are Vincenzo Strattoni, Camden, N. J., driver of the bus; Percy Gunn of Fairview; Kenneth Stafford, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stafford of Fairview; Mrs. C. M. Hyatt and her infant son, of Fairview; Mrs. Hazel Dalton of Fairview and her eighteen months' old daughter, Eileen; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Streeker, and their three year old daughter, Dorothy, of Fairview.

A large crowd of anxious persons appeared at the morgue today to aid in the identification of the bodies. John Myers, 24 years old and Martin Herold, 17 years old of Fairview were injured, and although their condition is not reported as critical, both were unable to tell of the accident today.

PALMER ORDERS CURB ON COAL PROFITEERS

Federal District Attorneys to Investigate All Cases of Resale or Price-Fixing.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Attorney General Palmer, continuing the Government efforts to put an end to profiteering in bituminous coal, today issued instructions to all United States District Attorneys to investigate all cases where prices to the consumer had been enhanced through repeated resales or conspiracies to increase the price of coal.

The letter of instructions sent to prosecuting officers by the Attorney General reads:

"To all United States Attorneys:

"In connection with previous instructions to investigate and institute prosecutions in cases where unreasonably high prices have been exacted in the sale of bituminous coal, you are instructed to investigate cases where the price to the consumer has been enhanced through repeated resales by dealers successively buying and selling the same coal, and to institute prosecutions against such dealers, where the facts warrant, for engaging in an 'unfair or deceptive or wasteful practice or device,' or a 'conspiracy, combination, agreement, or arrangement' to enhance the price of coal by such practice or device, in violation of Section 4 of the Lever act, as amended by the act of Oct. 22, 1919. Respectfully,

"A. MITCHELL PALMER,
"Attorney General."

The Attorney General has for some time been investigating charges involving profiteering on the part of the coal operators and wholesale dealers.

Hoover Orders Relief to Poland.

Herbert Hoover has directed the American Relief Administration, of which he is the head, to spend $500,000 in caring for war refugees in Poland, in addition to sums necessary to continue feeding a million Polish children. The American Committee for the Defense of Poland announced last night it had received a telegram to this effect from Mr. Hoover.

PLOTZ SAYS TYPHUS MENACES THE WORLD

Physician Fears Pandemic Unless Plague Is Stamped Out in Central Europe.

SAYS NATIONS MUST ACT

Will Ask U. S. to Join Project—Death Rate in Poland Is Now 25 Per Cent.

The typhus plague raging in Poland and other parts of Central Europe is a world problem, and unless other nations take measures to stamp it out the disease is bound to spread beyond their borders, according to Dr. Harry Plotz of the staff of Mount Sinai Hospital, who has returned from Poland, where he made a survey of conditions for the Joint Distribution Committee. In an interview at the Biltmore yesterday, Dr. Plotz outlined a plan which he will present to the Government for joining with other countries in fighting the menace.

Dr. Plotz is credited with having been the discoverer of the typhus germ in 1913. While in Bulgaria in 1915 he was captured by the Germans under General Mackensen, who at once utilized his services in studying cases among the German troops. When the United States entered the war, Dr. Plotz joined the Medical Corps in the United States Army with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He had charge of the hygienic measures taken to prevent returning soldiers from bringing back vermin on their bodies.

"The seriousness of the typhus situation in Poland cannot be overemphasized," Dr. Plotz said. "With a death rate at present of 25 per cent. and a greater mortality is certain to occur during the coming Winter, as typhus is a Winter disease, the Poles are in no position to combat the scourge. Help must come from the outside. If the epidemic spreads to other countries, and I am not inclined to minimize the possibilities, there will be a pandemic, just as in the case of influenza. And, speaking of influenza, if this disease had been stamped out in Southern Russia, where it originated, 10,000,000 people throughout the world could have been saved.

"Some idea of the suffering in Central Europe from typhus may be gained when I tell you that in one hospital I visited in Vilna, Lithuania, the medical staff did not have even such essentials as iodine, bed padding and bandages with which to aid the sufferers. Poland purchased all the machinery used by the A. E. F. in removing vermin from the troops, but I understand the Bolsheviki have captured all of the units. In stamping out the typhus it is absolutely necessary to have such plants, since the disease is spread by lice.

"The people of other countries must recognize the fact that the epidemic can only be stamped out at the source. Other nations must join together in cleaning up the plague spots of Central Europe. If we don't join we will have the plague here. England is ready and willing to co-operate.

"The plan which I will lay before the authorities is that money should be raised either by Congress or by private subscription to send physicians and workers from the United States to join with the representatives of other countries in fighting the disease. I estimate the cost of the project at $75,000,000. I believe each country would have to send 100 physicians to the plague zone."

Dr. Plotz said the first step toward stamping out the typhus in Poland would be to submit the entire population to a treatment to rid them of vermin. There was a noticeable indifference among the poorer classes to the presence of vermin on their bodies, Dr. Plotz said. He told how a British authority had counted 30,000 lice and 200,000 units on one man. Dr. Plotz favored innoculation. Medical supplies in great quantities would have to be sent into the region, he said.

HARRIMAN SHIP CO. BUYS A BUILDING

American Ship and Commerce Lines Get Gaston, Williams & Wigmore Structure.

$2,125,000 REPORTED PAID

New Owners Will Consolidate Offices of All Enterprises in Five-Story Structure.

SELLERS TO MOVE UPTOWN

Gaston, Williams & Wigmore to Occupy Three Floors in New Buckley-Newhall Building.

Following closely the announcement by the United States Shipping Board that an agreement has been reached between the Hamburg-American Line and the American Ship and Commerce Corporation, headed by W. A. Harriman, came a report yesterday of the purchase by the Harriman shipping interests of the Gaston, Williams & Wigmore Building at 35 to 39 Broadway for a reported consideration of $2,125,000. Possession will be taken by the new owners in about sixty days when the shipping enterprises of Mr. Harriman and his associates will be consolidated in the building using part of the ground floor as a freight and passenger office, and the entire second and third and one-half of the fourth floors for general offices. It is a five-story structure with a frontage of 89.7 feet on Broadway and a depth of about 195 feet, running through the block to Trinity Place.

Joseph P. Day and George R. Read & Co. negotiated the transaction.

Gaston, Williams & Wigmore will move their establishment to the Times Square section. The organization has leased the ground floor, the second and third floors and the basement in the new Buckley-Newhall Building at Sixth Avenue and Forty-first Street, for fifteen years. Possession will be taken about Oct. 1. The broker in this transaction was Joseph P. Day. Gaston, Williams & Wigmore have occupied one-third of the ground floor and the second and third floors at their present location, or a total of about 39,000 square feet. At their new home they will have a floor area of 40,000 square feet.

Change Pleases Directors.

H. S. Kimball, of the firm of Gaston, Williams & Wigmore, said the uptown move long had been contemplated by the directors, who believed that from the standpoint of economy and operating expenses the present headquarters on lower Broadway could not be consistently maintained.

"By virtue of the removal," he said, "a large sum of money which has been tied up in real estate ownership will be released for use by the company for trading purposes. And besides, we have become identified with the new trading district near the Bush Terminal Building. We believe that the new location is now in the uptown import and export centre and is admirably suited for our needs. The directors are all greatly pleased with the proposed change."

The building at 35 to 39 Broadway is one of the most impressive of downtown structures. Parts of the ground floor are occupied by the Philippine National Bank and the Asia Banking Corporation. The top floor is used by the Oriental Navigation Company and one-half of the fourth floor by W. & J. Hoey and Wrenn Brothers. The remainder of the building has been occupied by Gaston, Williams & Wigmore and is sumptuously fitted.

The purchase by the Harriman interests emphasizes the strong trend of large corporations to purchase their own homes. Millions of dollars' worth of property in the financial section has changed ownership during the past year. This is particularly true in the cases of banks, trust companies and other large financial institutions.

Service to Hamburg Soon.

The attorneys who represented the W. A. Harriman interests in the transaction were McKinstry, Taylor, Patterson & Ellis. Stetson, Jennings & Russell represented Gaston, Williams & Wigmore, and Babbage & Sanders represented the Buckley-Newhall Company.

The new home of the Harriman enterprises adjoins the Hamburg-American Building, which was bought last December by the United States Shipping Board.

At the offices of Livermore, Dearborn & Co., general managers and operating agents of the American Shipping and Commerce Corporation, it was said yesterday that the first steamer for Hamburg under the new arrangement would be berthed about Sept. 1.

JURY'S PETITION DENIED.

Judge Refuses to Grant New Trial in $1,000,000 Will Contest.

Surrogate Wingate of Brooklyn yesterday denied the application of Mrs. Margaret Bain, accompanied by a petition from the jurors who had sat in the case, for a new trial of her suit to break the will of her mother, Mrs. Martha Brasher, who left an estate estimated at more than $1,000,000. The bulk of the estate went to the Church Charity Foundation Society of Long Island and personal friends of the testatrix. To the daughter $50,000 was left.

Alleging that her mother was not of sound mind when the will was made, Mrs. Bain brought suit to have it declared invalid. The jury upheld the will. When the jurors, however, discovered that a clause in the document cut off any beneficiary who might contest the will they signed the petition for a new trial.

The Surrogate decided that the jury had to decide only the question of whether the testatrix was competent.

TO DISCUSS TUBE PLANS.

Work on New Tunnel Under Hudson May Start in Six Months.

At a meeting today of the New York and New Jersey Tunnel Commission, Chief Engineer C. M. Holland will submit plans for the sinking of the two shafts at Canal and Spring Streets. If the commission approves, bids will be advertised for at once and contracts let within six weeks. The work will cost about $500,000.

It will take about a year to finish the shafts, but in about six months, it was said, the work would be far enough completed to enable the drive to begin on the tunnel. The work so far is only a short time behind schedule. This delay is expected to be made up before the end of the year. The estimated cost of the tunnel is nearly $29,000,000.

Lack of space compels the omission today from The New York Times of 16 columns of advertisements.

Forced Release of Sugar Stocks Expected to Lower Prices More

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—With the forced release of sugar stocks through tightened bank credit, Department of Justice officials today forecast a further tumble in sugar prices. There were indications, officials said, that the unloading of stored stocks might glut the market and bring a substantial drop in addition to the present decline.

The department has received appeals from many dealers who seek relief from the drop which has already taken place. The Attorney General, however, will follow a hands-off policy in regard to this, it was stated today by his assistant, Robert T. Scott.

REFINERS QUOTE SUGAR AT 17 CENTS

FURTHER DROP PREDICTED

Large Quantities Now Being Retailed at Loss — American Refinery Withdraws from Market.

Both the Federal Sugar Refining Company and the National Sugar Refining Company yesterday quoted granulated sugar at 17 cents a pound, less 2 per cent., which is the lowest refinery price since the sugar shortage became serious months ago. The Arbuckle refinery for more than a week has been selling sugar at 17.10 cents a pound, less 2 per cent., or 16.76 cents net. The American Sugar Refining Company, whose last quotation was 22.50 cents a pound, announced its temporary withdrawal from the market. Raw sugar was unchanged at 12.04 cents for Cuban centrifugal sugar, duty paid.

The general impression is that, while there was an apparent shortage of sugar a few months ago, there is now an oversupply, and in some quarters still lower prices are predicted. Many dealers and speculators who had made big purchases of sugar with the expectation that high prices would continue and perhaps go even higher became panic-stricken some days ago, with the result that the retail prices in many stores were actually lower than the prices of the refiners, except Arbuckle Brothers.

A large quantity of the sugar now being offered at retail at prices varying from 17 to 21 cents means a loss of 5 cents a pound or more. One sugar importer said he knew that sugar sold by his firm for 22½ cents a pound was being distributed at 17 cents a pound.

A large wholesale house found itself last week with considerably more sugar than it could readily dispose of. Members of the firm called in their salesmen and asked each man to dispose of as much sugar as possible. The salesmen pledged themselves to sell a certain amount. One salesman, in asking a grocer to take a 145-pound sack, said he expected to make a similar request of all of the more than 100 customers on his list. The grocer didn't need the sugar, but took the sack because the salesman had helped him to get sugar when the commodity was scarce.

The National Sugar Refining Company had been selling sugar at 22 cents until yesterday. The Federal Refinery had not quoted sugar prices for some time.

A representative of the Federal said one reason for the low quotation of 17 cents was a decrease in demand, combined with a decline in the price of raws. The slump in the sugar market, he said, was due largely to big importations from foreign countries which had never before shipped sugar to this country. He said large quantities of sugar sold to foreign countries were reshipped to the United States, as the prices here were higher than in the countries of original destination. He predicted that the sudden drop in prices would mean that a large quantity of the sugar shipped back to this country would again be shipped abroad.

Workers Stage a One-Day Demonstration Against the Increase Demanded.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Today more than 300,000 workers in Scotland took part in a one-day strike as a protest against higher rents and passed resolutions pledging their refusal to pay the increases. A demand for further action was also made. In Glasgow alone 60,000 people stayed away from work to attend the demonstrations, and the Clyde shipyards, engineering shops and other large establishments in the surrounding industrial districts were closed. Car services were suspended generally.

However, the movement is reported to have fallen far short of the organizers' hopes, and in most places there appeared little enthusiasm. Industrial Edinburgh was practically at a standstill, although a number of trades had decided not to participate in the stoppage. Street car and bus employes were among the strikers, but some of the branches of the railwaymen's union, which last week passed strike resolutions, thought better of it, and on the railways work was carried on as usual.

DENIES HAMMER APPEAL.

Judge Rules Against Doctor Sentenced for Illegal Operation.

Supreme Court Justice Richard H. Mitchell in the Bronx yesterday denied the appeal for a certificate of reasonable doubt for Dr. Julius Hammer, of 1,448 Washington Avenue, the Bronx, convicted of manslaughter and sentenced June 15 by County Judge Louis D. Gibbs to serve not less than three and one-half years nor more than fifteen years for performing an illegal operation on Mrs. Marie Oganesoff, of 261 Riverside Drive. Mrs. Oganesoff, who was the wife of a Russian Attaché in Washington during the war, died July 11, 1919, a week after the operation was performed.

Justice Mitchell denied exceptions as to expert medical testimony taken during the trial and also statements as to alleged irregularities in the trial. Dr. Hammer asserted that a juror reported to the Court that he had been approached. Justice Mitchell ruled that "No motion to withdraw the juror or for a mistrial was on record, and it would have been error had the Court not proceeded with the case. Subsequent proceedings made the procedure perfectly proper. The jury was the sole judge in the case."

VOLUNTEER FOR WAR IN MESOPOTAMIA

OFFICERS OFFER TO SERVE

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—That Great Britain has a new war on in Mesopotamia is only slowly being realized by the country, and, although hundreds of ex-officers of the great war are volunteering daily for service in the East, there is no symptom of popular excitement over the prospects of a new campaign.

Major General Sir Frederick Maurice writes in a London paper that the picture of the situation in Mesopotamia presented by the War Office communiqué is not a pleasant one, for it shows Arab bands in the field over a great stretch of country extending from the Persian frontier northeast of Bagdad, far down the Euphrates. These bands number from 4,000 to a few score.

They have plenty of rifles and ammunition, but only a dozen machine guns, captured when the Manchesters came to grief near Hillah, and no artillery. Sir Frederick adds:

"We are in for a long and costly bout of guerilla warfare in a country with a damnable climate against an enemy who has no capital to be occupied and no main body to be routed.

"It is pitiful that we should have to call the Allies, to protect whom we accepted a mandate from the League of Nations, enemies, but it is no use blinking at the facts. The Arabs of Mesopotamia have become our enemies, and, willy-nilly, we have now to treat them as such. We cannot withdraw now without endangering interests which extend far beyond the confines of Mesopotamia.

"In the East it pays to make concessions when they are obviously not induced by fear. To retire before trouble is to start an avalanche. It is for this very reason that all wise men have deprecated the extent of our commitments in Mesopotamia. Now we have to see a most unpleasant business through and to convince the Arab with bombs and shells that we are his best friends.

The radical Daily News says editorially that "British forces are scattered over an immense area which the Government had determined to hold for the sake of the Arabs and its material riches," and "Mesopotamia" and "Mosul Oil" are likely to be hurled as terms of contumely at the heads of the administration.

The official view, as voiced by The Daily Chronicle, is that the British Empire's interest in Mesopotamia existed long before oil was thought of and would exist if no oil were there.

"The jugular artery of the Empire is the Suez Canal," the paper continues, "and the passage of India is dominated to only a less extent by the Persian Gulf.

"The Middle East countries dominating the three seaboards—Palestine, Arabia, Mesopotamia, and Persia—are countries which we have never tried to rule in the past, but which it has always been important for us to prevent from falling under the domination of a great power hostile to ourselves. Till the war Turkey ruled most of them, and till twenty-five years ago Turkey was our friend.

"The prewar phase of Turco-German friendship associated with the German construction of the Bagdad Railway was indeed fraught with immense danger to us. Fortunately it had not fully ripened when the war broke out, though its possibilities were then made terribly clear.

"Our aim must still be not to annex these countries, but to foster local free States in them. In Persia we have been and are practically the sole factor which keeps an independent State alive. In Palestine we hope to develop a free Jewish State. In the greater part of Arabia we are looking to Hussein and Emir Feisal.

"It has been suggested that we should hand Mesopotamia to Feisal. It might be a good solution, but the issue is not a task, but that condition needs to be very carefully examined. Failing him, there is no visible alternative but either to undertake it ourselves under the international mandate conferred on us or to leave it open for future aggression by others.

"This latter course may appear cheap and easy at the moment, but if we are really anxious to avoid future wars—real wars, not local operations like those now in progress—we shall not take it."

REFUSE TO BAIL A RADICAL.

Two Surety Companies Decline Bond for Man Convicted of Sedition.

Two surety companies in Newark yesterday refused to go on the bail bond of Walter A. Gabriel of 50 Hofson Street under conviction of violating the New Jersey sedition law. Gabriel was State Secretary of the Communist Party and was the only citizen caught in the Federal raids in New Jersey last January.

Miss Rose Weiss, attorney for Gabriel, had the bail reduced from $10,000 to $5,000. Arrangements had been made by Miss Weiss with the Fidelity and Deposit Company, of Maryland to furnish a $5,000 bond. The representative of the bonding company was about to sign the papers when he noted the words "hostility to the Government" in the charge against Gabriel, and then announced that the company would not go on the bond.

Arrangements were then made with the American Surety Company to furnish the bond and John F. Clark, resident Vice President, and Frank L. Rusby, resident Secretary, signed the papers. In reading them over Mr. Rusby noted the charge and after a consultation with Clark tore off the signatures and announced that his company would not "bail a traitor." Gabriel went back to jail.

WOMAN HOTEL BEAT JAILED.

Alleged Film Actress Gets Penitentiary Term for Defrauding Club.

A 24-year-old prisoner arraigned under the name of Mrs. Henry Eppler of Baltimore, who said she had recently been engaged as a motion picture actress at a salary of $500 a week, received a penitentiary sentence of from six months to three years yesterday from Justices Freschi, McInerney and Edwards, in Special Sessions, for defrauding the Town House Club at 71 Central Park West, of a board bill amounting to $210. This claim represented board bills for Mrs. Eppler, her 5-year-old son and her mother, it was said.

Miss May A. Mangan, Probation Officer, testified that Mrs. Eppler owed more than a total of $1,000 to hotels, including the Biltmore, Belmont, Sherman Square, Great Northern, Chatham, Hamilton and Seville of this city; St. James and Ritz-Carlton in Philadelphia, and the Copley Square in Boston. Mrs. Eppler asked the Court to suspend judgment, declaring she intended to pay all claims from expected earnings in another theatrical engagement.

K. of C. Visitors Greeted at Strasbourg In Banquet Hall Built by the ex-Kaiser

NANCY, Aug. 23.—The Knights of Columbus party which is touring France visited Nancy today from noon until 3 o'clock, leaving the city at 3:15 P. M. for Strasbourg.

They were received here with the same enthusiasm which has marked their progress through other cities of the country.

STRASBOURG, Aug. 23.—The visiting Knights of Columbus, who arrived today from Nancy, will leave here tomorrow for Lucerne. They will remain in Switzerland two days, also visiting Basle, and will then proceed to Milan.

At the conclusion of their Italian trip, the Knights will accept Cardinal Mercier's invitation to journey through Belgium and will return to England by way of Ostend.

Large numbers of the Knights will go to Ireland from England.

General Lyautey, Governor of Morocco, and General de Castelnau greeted the Knights upon their arrival here. High Commissioner Alapetite extended the official welcome of the French Government.

Five thousand troops were reviewed by General Castelnau in honor of the Knights, while 30,000 people, among them many girls and women in Alsatian costume, filled Kleber Square.

The Knights first visited the Cathedral, where they were received by Bishop Ruch, the youngest Bishop in France.

At a banquet this evening at the Orangerie in the municipal concert hall, built by William Hohenzollern, General Lyautey, who is visiting Strasbourg for the first time since 1869—he having made a vow never to visit Strasbourg while it was held by the Germans—addressed the diners.

"America loves France because no colony ever seceded from France," he said, "and America knows that France is practicing democracy as it is known in America."

Supreme Knight Flaherty presented to General Lyautey a gold statuette of Winged Victory. Mr. Flaherty has received a telegram from Cardinal Mercier thanking the knights for their gift to Belgium and extending a formal invitation to them to visit that country.

PRINCE CAROL HERE FOR WEEK'S VISIT

IS TRAVELING INCOGNITO

Early-Morning Commuters at Grand Central Fail to Recognize Smiling Royal Visitor.

A young man who might have been taken for one of the commuters hurrying from the suburbs to business walked briskly up the ramp leading from the trains into the main waiting room of the Grand Central Terminal yesterday morning, and the 200 men and women who were grouped behind a rope inclosure broke into cheers. Had any of the travelers in the waiting room known that the arrival was no less a person than Crown Prince Carol, heir to the throne of Rumania, no doubt they would have gathered around to have a look, but as the Prince had little of the appearance of royalty they continued on their way.

The train bearing the Prince and his suite arrived at 7 A. M. Clad in a gray suit, over which he wore a belted tan raincoat, Prince Carol was standing on the platform of the car, apparently eager to begin his program of sightseeing in New York. As the Prince is traveling incognito, the Federal and city Government provided no official welcome.

The royal visitor is about twenty-seven years of age and about five feet ten inches in height. He is slim in build and wears a closely cropped mustache.

The Reception Committee appointed by the Rumanian colony in the city to welcome His Highness unofficially, included I. Tileston Wells, Consul General of Rumania in New York; John Kordee, Vice Consul; Major Livius Tunishann, Rumanian Military Attaché at Washington; Basil Stoica, Commissioner of the Rumanian Government; I. Heiger, Commissioner of the Marmorash Bank of Bucharest, and William Nelson Cromwell, Chairman of the Rumanian Relief Commission during the war.

Accompanying Prince Carol were Nicholas Filodor, chief of Rumania's diplomatic mission; N. Lahovary, Secretary of the legation in Washington; General Brigodes Gavanescu, Lieutenant Colonel Condescu, Inspector Costescu, Captain Lazaar and Ingenieur Posmanthier.

Although his visit is unofficial, Prince Carol was carefully guarded, Secret Service men, in charge of "Bill Nye," keeping a close eye on the royal visitor. Few got within speaking distance of him. The Prince and his suite were escorted to the Waldorf-Astoria, where he will stay until he sails for home, on Saturday.

In the latter part of the afternoon, Prince Carol left the hotel in an automobile, accompanied by Consul General Wells and members of his suite, for a tour of the city. He wore a navy blue suit, light green shirt with soft collar to match, a rather loud reddish necktie and a brown soft hat, which he wore with brim well over his forehead.

As the party proceeded along the Rialto section, Prince Carol asked many questions regarding the sights. If it is a fact that he embarked on a tour of the world to forget the annulment of his marriage to Mlle. Zizi Lambrino, who is not of royal blood and for whom he temporarily renounced the throne, he gave no signs of melancholy, for he laughed continually.

While driving along Riverside Drive the Prince seemed particularly interested in the Atlantic fleet, which is lying at anchor in the Hudson. He requested that the automobile proceed slowly, so he could get a view of each ship. The party continued northward to the ball park, where from the heights he looked down on the thousands who were watching the game. He was then whisked to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, where he was received by Bashford Deane, curator of the armor section. In his tour of the museum, Prince Carol lingered the longest in the section devoted to Egyptian mummies. Leaving the museum he was taken to Prospect Park, Brooklyn, and then back to the Waldorf.

Last night he was the guest of former Ambassador James W. Gerard at a private dinner in the Ritz-Carlton. Among those invited to attend the dinner were Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Otto Kahn, Bernard M. Baruch, Clarence W. Mackay, H. H. Rogers, District Attorney Swann, former Ambassador Abram Elkus, Henry W. Taft, Police Commissioner Richard Enright, ex-Senator James A. O'Gorman, Walter C. Teagle, William Nelson Cromwell and Allan Ryan.

LATVIA RECALLS NAGEL.

Proceedings for His Deportation, Therefore, Are Abruptly Closed.

Proceedings before the Board of Special Inquiry at Ellis Island in the case of Alfred Nagel, who arrived Friday from Sweden as Secretary to the Latvian Legation at Washington and was detained because his papers were not satisfactory, were ended yesterday when the Immigration authorities were informed by Walter M. Chandler, legal adviser of the new republic, that Nagel would return to Europe of his own accord. Mr. Chandler said Mr. Nagel's appointment had been canceled by the Latvian Government with a request that he return to Riga at once.

Nagel probably will sail for Gothenburg on Saturday, Aug. 28, on the Swedish-American liner Drottningholm, on which he came here with his wife, a German, whom he married in Hamburg while the war was in progress. Mr. Nagel will be spared the humiliation of deportation.

SIX HURT IN FIRE; 20 FAMILIES SAVED

BATTALION CHIEF SAVES 4

David J. Oliver Finds Them Unconscious, and Lowers Them Down Swaying Ladders.

Twenty families trapped in a burning tenement at 47 Essex Street at 2:30 o'clock this morning were led from the house by the quick work of firemen who reached the building less than three minutes after a patrolman had turned in the alarm.

Six persons were injured in the blaze, two of them suffering broken legs by leaping in efforts to escape the blaze after it had cut off their escape by the stairways.

First to reach the fire, David J. Oliver, acting battalion chief, rushed through the hallways of the six-story structure, shouting to wake all the sleeping persons, so that they would be able to reach the open air. On the top floor he found what seemed to be a vacant apartment. No one answered his calls or his knocks and he forced the door. He found there four members of a family, all unconscious from the heavy smoke in their apartment.

Calling out of the window for the firemen to rush up their extension ladders, Chief Oliver moved the members of the family near the exits so the fire fighters could get them out of the building quickly. He was joined in a few minutes by Lieutenant Anthony Poggi of Engine Company 17, one of the honor legion of the department who has aided in several thrilling rescues in the last few years, and by the battalion chief's chauffeur, Edward Hagewall.

Lowering the unconscious persons through the window was a difficult job, and several other firemen had to be called up the swaying ladders before the job could be finished. The members of the family were Eli Naizrahi, his wife Rachel and their two daughters, Lillian, 19, and Sarah, 12. All were taken to the hospital after Dr. Archer, the fire department surgeon, had attempted to give them first aid.

The two persons injured in leaping from windows were Joseph Schmay and Philip Nauborn. Nauborn leaped from the second story despite warnings of firemen to wait for a ladder. Both, aside from broken legs, suffered probable internal injuries.

After the rescues had been made the firemen put out the fire in a half hour's fight, most of the first danger being because of the heavy smoke. The loss was slight, athough none of the families was able to go back for the night. The police said they would find sleeping places for the women and children.

CHILE INCREASES NAVY WITH BRITISH SHIPS

Buys the Canada and Four Cruisers—Britain Is Selling Vessels Carrying Small Guns.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The Chilean Government has bought the battleship Canada and four light cruisers from the British Government, and it is rumored that six more British destroyers of the 900-ton type are to be purchased by Chile. The balance of power in South America has been badly dislocated by these additions to the Chilean fleet and it is already evident that Brazil, Argentina and Peru are taking a decided interest in the matter of increasing their naval strength.

Word has been received here that the Commanding Admiral of the Chilean Navy has sailed with his staff from Valparaiso for Arica on the battleship O'Higgins. The Tacna-Arica boundary dispute has been a source of controversy between Chile and Peru for years and there are indications of another conflict between the two countries over it. Chile has 12,000 troops in Arica and is making preparations to receive 5,000 more there. Arica is being prepared for the reception of 10,000 Chilean troops.

In quarters where all international moves are watched with interest the sale of British warships to Chile is not construed as showing any effort on Great Britain's part to assist Chile in preparations for war. The news of the sale of the Canada and a number of destroyers to Chile is chiefly interesting to observers of international affairs as showing a new naval policy on the part of the British Admiralty.

All the information at hand indicates that the Admiralty has decided to sell all battleships and battle cruisers, including those of dreadnought types, that carry main batteries of guns of less than 15-inch calibre.

THINK BANDITS LIVE HERE.

Portland (Conn.) Robbers Dropped Coat Sold in This City.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 23.—The belief of the local police that the five automobile bandits who robbed the Portland, Conn., National Bank Saturday, and who escaped in the wooded district east of this city, where they abandoned their car, are New York gangsters, was strengthened today by the finding of a coat near where the car was left. This coat bears the mark of a New York merchant.

The automobile, now in a local garage, which was claimed by Arthur Waldman, who runs a garage at 100 West 126th Street, New York, has not been turned over to him and will not be until it has been thoroughly investigated by Captain R. T. Hurley of the Connecticut State Police. Waldman declares that the car was stolen from him and came here with two men who said they were New York police officers but had no credentials.

PRIZES AWARDED FOR HOUSING PLANS

Two Architects' Designs for Remodeling a Typical Tenement Win $1,000 Each.

TO MAKE OLD BUILDINGS FIT

Competition Conducted by Legislative Committee and Reconstruction Commission.

Sibley & Fetherston of 101 Park Avenue and Robert Gilbert Ecob received prizes of $1,000 each at the headquarters of the Architectural League yesterday at 215 West Fifty-seventh Street, for their plans for remodeling a typical tenement house block to make it "a decent place to live in." The competition was held under the auspices of the Joint Legislative Committee on Housing and the Reconstruction Commission of the State of New York.

Additional prizes were awarded as follows: Murphy & Dana, 331 Madison Avenue, $500; Eugene Klaber & Edward F. Washburn, 101 Park Avenue, $500; Sibley & Fetherston, a second prize of $500; Schenck & Mead of 105 West Fortieth Street, women architects, $250; Ford, Butler & Oliver of 105 West Fortieth Street, $250.

The block bounded by Rutgers, Monroe, Jefferson and Madison Streets was chosen for the competition—a typical east side hive of tenements, which presented a maximum of difficultics to any attempt at reconstruction.

The importance of the study lies in the fact that the statistics of the State Reconstruction Commission show that it is the old, unsanitary firetrap tenements that are the slowest of all buildings in the city to yield before the wreckers. Thousands of housing structures have been razed in the last three years to make room for business buildings, but very few of the oldest and worst tenements have been among them.

About the only progress which has been made in the way of destroying the ancient semi-slum tenement has been by fire, often attended by loss of life.

Modern Buildings Razed.

A large number of the buildings razed for the needs of modern business have been comparatively new. Often they have been built within the last fifteen or twenty years. The greatest mortality has been among the old one-family brownstones, which housed the entire population of solid middle-class New Yorkers in the pre-apartment house days. In their growth the commercial districts have been chiefly cutting their way through the first-class residence districts of other days, but have scarcely encroached at all on the poorer living areas.

The Reconstruction Commission figured out that at the present rate of destruction from all causes the ramshackle tenements of the east side have a longer life ahead of them than any except the very modern apartment and business buildings. Their study indicated that it will be 100 years before fire, deterioration and decay, and the encroachment of modern buildings have wiped out the last of these ancient warehouses of population.

Because there is no ground for hoping for their speedy disappearance, the Reconstruction Commission and the Senate Committee felt that the practical remedy for the worst housing conditions must be sought in a cheap method of reconstructing the present tenement houses.

The jury which awarded the prizes considered the plans in three aspects—the decency of the accommodations provided, the cheapness of the reconstruction work called for, and the number of persons that could be properly housed under the new plans. Light and air for every room, individual sanitary facilities for each apartment, privacy, ease of access from convenient and well-lighted staircases were other primary factors.

Cost Figured in Making Awards.

In making the final awards the only plans considered by the jury were those that would not call for such capital outlay or make necessary such an increase in rent as would drive out of the neighborhood the people then living there.

The committee also announced that among the plans were many good suggestions for the improvement of present wretched conditions in the old-law tenements. No complete solution was found in any one plan, nor did any single plan provide a combination of good housing and low alteration cost that would make an investment for a whole block practical at the present time.

The two plans to which the highest awards were made offered radically different solutions of the problem. That of Sibley & Fetherston provided for a maximum of good housing without complete reconstruction of the buildings themselves, while the Ecob designs promised less advancement in living conditions, but a low cost of reconstruction, which might tempt a practical landlord. Another good point about the Ecob plans was that their scheme of remodeling is applicable to small units as well as to blocks.

Forty-two sets of plans were submitted. The money for the awards was donated by Vincent Astor, Alfred E. Marling and the New York Foundation. The Judges were D. Everett Waid, Allan Robinson, Alfred E. Marling, Edgar A. Levy, Clarence S. Stein, Andrew J. Thomas, Burt Fenner, Robert D. Kohn, Alexander M. Bing, Commissioner Frank Mann, Senator Charles Lockwood, John J. Dunnigan, Mrs. Henry Ansoorge and Miss Lillian D. Wald. The plans will be on exhibition at 215 West Fifty-seventh Street today and tomorrow.

NEW BUILDING LAWS URGED.

Suggestion for Many Changes to be Received at Housing Conference.

Laws allowing the building of higher apartments and tenement houses, permitting the conversion of old residences into housekeeping apartments and limiting the life of old law tenement houses will be suggested before the conference called at the City Hall tomorrow by Senator Charles C. Lockwood, Chairman of the Senate Housing Committee, to harmonize the many interests involved and gain general support for a broad program of legislation to be introduced at the special session of the Legislature next month.

Substantial old residences which formerly gave spacious dwelling accommodations to a single family and a few servants, are now being made the homes of four, five or six families by their conversion into so-called "bachelor" apartments. The term "bachelor" is applied to them to intimate that they are non-housekeeping and therefore within the law, but the investigation of the Mayor's Committee on Housing showed that most of them were in fact equipped with kitchenettes of pillbox proportions and intended for housekeeping. Officials of the Mayor's committee will urge a repeal of the prohibition against housekeeping apartments in this type of building, so that real kitchenettes and kitchens may be installed in them.

Changes along this line in the present laws were urged yesterday in a letter to Tenement House Commissioner Frank Mann by M. Morgenthau, Jr., who also argued that a municipal housebuilding program would probably produce better results than the speculative builders. It has been an axiom of the speculative builders, according to Mr. Morgenthau, that it is foolish to build a good house, and a rule of the business to run up slipshod structures and sell them quick, while they look good. Mr. Morgenthau also urged a change of the Tenement House law to allow higher buildings so that tenement houses could be erected the same height as hotel or loft buildings.

Gold Diggers and Eskimos Flock to Nome to Await Fliers

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 23.—Miners, prospectors and Eskimos from many places in Northern Alaska are in Nome to see the arrival of the four United States Army airplanes at the finish of their long flight from New York.

Advices today were that the four planes were at Ruby, 300 miles distant, awaiting favorable weather before "hopping off" for the last leg of the northern flight.

HOLD UP WATCHMAN; FAIL TO CRACK SAFE

Masked Robbers Enter Coney Baths, but Flee, Leaving Tools and $9,000.

SCARED BY CARD PLAYERS

Burglars Make Fourth Attempt in Few Months to Steal from Loft on Houston Street.

There were all the elements that delight a screen audience in the holdup of a watchman and the unsuccessful attempt to rob the safe of the Washington Baths in Coney Island early yesterday morning. The would-be robbers came in an automobile, they donned masks as they approached their victim and they fled, leaving behind them their kit of tools, frightened away by a noisy demonstration by card players in a nearby bathing office.

The Washington Baths are at the foot of West Twentieth Street. Saturday and Sunday had been good days at the Island, and David Friedman, the proprietor, had locked $9,000 in the safe when he closed on Sunday. Edward Smith, a watchman, was making his rounds shortly after 2 o'clock when he saw an automobile draw up in front of the baths. Two of the seven occupants remained with the car while the others walked in his direction and put on masks.

The watchman was seized and trussed up in wire. He was then thrown into an adjoining room. Smith could hear the yeggs at work on the safe and he also could hear the men playing cards near by. After a while the noise made by the robbers stopped and he heard their automobile depart. An hour later he managed to get free and told the card players what had happened.

The safe had not been unopened. Two holes had been drilled in it, one below the combination and one near the hinges. On the floor were a set of burglar's tools, several pairs of gloves and a crowbar. Mr. Friedman said he believed that it was not the noise of the card players that frightened the safe blowers away, but some other cause.

The police are looking for a gang of burglars who have developed a fondness for visiting the building at 100 and 102 West Houston Street. There was an unsuccessful attempt to rob the office of the Conway Importing Company, on the ground floor of the building, some time on Sunday, and this latest attempt gave publicity to three other visits by burglars to the same building within the last few months. It was their third call upon the Conway Company, importers of olive oil.

The attempt to rob the safe was discovered when Samuel Donash, a bookkeeper, opened the office yesterday morning. Half of the outer door of the safe had been blown off, but the other half resisted their efforts. A jimmy had been used in the attempt to pry open the inner door leading to compartments containing $250 and some papers. The burglars had given it up as a bad job.

A month ago considerable oil was stolen from the premises. The first attempt was unsuccessful as the thieves were frightened off. About six weeks ago the offices of John Russi, a manufacturer of overcoats, in the same building, was entered and overcoats valued at $7,000 taken. Later the police recovered all the coats except eighteen in a vacant loft.

TRANSFER GEN. EDWARDS.

Northeast Commander Will Head Second Brigade at Dix.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Orders assigning Brig. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, commanding the Department of the Northeast, to command of the Second Brigade, First Army Division, at Camp Dix, N. J., were received at department headquarters here today. He is expected to report for his new duties about Sept. 1.

General Edwards came here in 1917 as commander of the new Northeast Department. He established Camp Devens and organized the Twenty-sixth (Yankee) Division from National Guard troops within his jurisdiction, led the division overseas, and directed it in action in several important battles. Preceding the division home, he was again made commander of the Northeast Department, and in this capacity supervised demobilization of the Twenty-sixth.

The orders relieving him from the departmental command follow a reorganization of the army system, by which an army corps organization is created, with Major Gen. David C. Shanks in command, in this section.

Governor Coolidge issued a formal statement regarding General Edwards's departure from the Northeast Department, in which he said:

"As a soldier and a citizen he has endeared himself to all who have come in contact with him," and added that General Edwards having established a home in a suburb of Boston, he could feel that if he exercised the privilege to retire he would be welcomed as a fellow-citizen of this State.

DENTISTS MEET AT BOSTON.

5,000 Attend 24th Annual Convention—Form College in Chicago.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—The 24th Annual Convention of the National Dental Association was opened here today with 5,000 delegates present and will continue through Friday. It marks the 62d anniversary of organized dentistry. A meeting of the Board of Trustees and two sessions of the House of Delegates were included in today's program.

The formation of the College of American Dentists, which will promote research work in dentistry and confer degrees on those who have made notable advances in their profession, was announced this afternoon. The college will have headquarters in Chicago. Dr. John V. Conzett of Dubuque, Iowa, was elected President.

The Board of Trustees of the National Association voted to recommend to the House of Delegates that the association meet at Milwaukee next year.

AUTO HITS WOMAN AND BABY

Infant in Carriage Is Killed and Grandmother Injured.

Mrs. Frances Siegler, aged 75 years, was struck by an automobile truck last night while wheeling her baby granddaughter, Mary Baffleur, in a baby carriage. The infant was killed and Mrs. Siegler was taken to the hospital suffering from cuts and bruises.

The driver of the truck, Myron Bush, a negro of New Haven, Conn., was arrested on a charge of homicide.

De la Huerta Orders Them to Annihilate the Whole Rebel Band in Jalisco.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 23.—Pedro Zamora has released six of the Americans who were kidnapped recently by him in the State of Jalisco, but is holding one American, W. A. Gardiner, superintendent of the Esperanza Mining Company, for 100,000 pesos ransom, and W. B. Johnson, a British subject, for 50,000 pesos, according to advices received here today.

Charles Hoyle, manager of the Esperanza Mining Company at El Oro, said to be a nephew of John Hays Hammond, and Mrs. Hoyle have been released and are now safe at Penas, on Banderas Bay. The names of the other four Americans set free by Zamora are given as Dietrich, Gillis, Culvert and Nels. These four are at Mesa del Corazon.

The dispatches announcing the release of the Americans were somewhat confused, but they apparently show that Gardiner and Johnson are the only hostages still in the hands of the outlaw.

Following a conference at the British Legation, two representatives of the legation left yesterday for Jalisco with the purpose of attempting to arrange with the bandits for the payment of the ransom for Johnson.

J. C. Bryden, representing the Esperanza Company in Mexico City, said today that nothing regarding a ransom for the Americans captured had been received, but that the money was ready for payment when the demands were presented.

MAYS RETURNS AND BLANKS THE TIGERS

Submarine Twirler Greeted with Applause as He Reappears on the Mound.

YANKS HAVE EASY TIME

Homers by Pratt and Ward Lead Barrage Against Detroit Pitchers —Score Is 10 to 0.

Carl Mays returned to the pitching peak yesterday for the first time since he figured in the unfortunate accident resulting in the death of Ray Chapman a week ago, and he registered a shutout victory over the Detroit Tigers at the Polo Grounds. Brilliant defensive work by his supporting cast, coupled with the timely hitting of Del Pratt, made the game easy for the underhand pitcher. He was reached for ten hits besides yielding three passes. The score was 10 to 0.

If there remained any doubt in Mays's mind as to the feelings of the fans concerning the accident this must have been dispelled by the reception he received. About 4,000 persons were in the stand when Mays made his way to the New York dugout before the game. It was the first time he had been near the bench since the day of Chapman's injury and the crowd took occasion to express encouragement by means of applause. This was renewed when Mays went out to warm up, when he was announced as the New York pitcher and again when he went to the box.

It was an odd shutout that went to the credit of the underhand pitcher. He did some very effective work with runners on the bases, but he was anything except a puzzle at other times. In seven of the nine innings a Detroit base runner got around to second or third base and in only two innings was Mays able to retire the side in order. He did not strike out a batsman during the game and among the ten hits which he yielded was a triple. In the seventh inning the Tigers got three hits and in the ninth they bunched two. With all this hitting and three passes they were unable to score a run. It was the most peculiar shutout uncovered at the Polo Grounds this season, being entirely devoid of the features usually associated with runless games.

Freak Play Spoils Run.

Even a freak play served to keep the Tigers from scoring. With first and second bases occupied in the seventh inning and two out, Cobb connected for a solid smash to the right-field wall. There wasn't a chance of Ruth stopping Young from scoring with a throw to the plate and Pep knew it. Ty turned first base at top speed and Young turned third at the usual gait of a base runner who feels there is no hurry to progress plateward. Just as Young was about to dent the plate with his spikes Cobb was called out at second on Ruth's fine throw to Pratt and Umpire Nallin ruled that the inning had closed before Young's foot came in contact with the plate.

Pratt gave the best exhibition of timely hitting shown this year at the Harlem meadow and his performance probably stands as the best of the year in the major leagues. He drove in seven of New York's ten runs and he played a part in the scoring of two others, though he cannot be credited with chasing them over. The only run of the game in which Pratt did not play a part was the home run by Ward into the left field bleachers in the fourth inning. Pratt started the Yanks on their way to victory in the first inning by hitting into the left field bleachers with two runners aboard and each of his three subsequent hits drove one or more runners home.

Two fine throws by Babe Ruth helped in the taming of the Tigers. In the first inning Bush attempted to go from first to third on Cobb's single to right, but Babe's throw to Ward was so sharp and accurate that the play wasn't close. In the seventh Ruth caught Cobb at second with another great throw and on two other occasions his returns to second base turned back ambitious base runners who had designs of getting an extra base on drives to right.

The entire Yankee team did strong defensive work behind Mays, with Peck and Pratt leading in the activity. The Yanks went through the game without an error. It was one of those games in which the team hit well, fielded brilliantly and got good pitching in the pinches. Such co-ordination has been infrequent in Yankee games of late.

Pratt Drives Out Homer.

After Ruth's throw to Ward had cut down an incipient Detroit run in the first inning the Yanks got busy with Dutch Leonard. With Peck out of the way on a foul, Pipp singled to centre and Ruth drew a pass, the first of three which he collected during the afternoon. A wild pitch advanced both runners, but that was hardly necessary, as Pratt immediately poled a home run into the left-field bleachers and three runs drifted over the plate.

In the third inning Pipp got another single off Leonard and Shorten made the hit good for two cushions by a fumble. Everybody expected that Ruth would get another pass, but Leonard pitched to Babe and struck him out. Babe disturbed a lot of atmosphere with his futile swings. The strikeout brought Pratt to the scene and he responded with a double to left field, the ball taking a high bound over Jones's head. Pipp scored easily on the hit, but Pratt was left.

Ward started the fourth inning with a tremendously high fly to left field which finally settled in the left field seats, disturbing the foul line on its way down. This was the lone marker of the game which was scored without some aid from Pratt. Ruel followed Ward's homer with a single and Leonard gave way to Oldham.

Two more runs developed in the fifth inning and there was nothing like a hit to assist in their manufacture. Ruth drew a pass to start the inning and on a hit and run play Pratt grounded to Jones. The Detroit third baseman threw the ball past Heilman and Ruth raced all the way to the plate, Pratt stopping at second. Lewis advanced Pratt to third with a ground sacrifice and Bodie chased the run in with an aerial sacrifice to Cobb in deep centre.

Yankees Add Two More.

Oldham did some fancy pitching in the sixth inning, but he could not curb Pratt, and two more runs were added to the New York total. Mays opened with a pass, and then the Detroit sidewheeler proceeded to set Peck and Pipp down on strikes. Ruth followed with his only hit of the game, a double to right field, and Mays stopped at third base. Pratt shot a single to centre, and the two runners scored.

In the seventh, with Morrisette pitching, the Yanks were retired in order, this being the one inning of the game in which they failed to get a runner aboard the cushions. In the eighth Pratt got his chance at the new pitcher, and another run developed. With two gone, Pipp and Ruth drew passes. Pratt singled to centre and Pipp scored, Ruth going to third. Pratt tried to reach second on the throw-in, but Jones shot the ball back to Young and retired Del.

ATHLETICS DIVIDE TWO.

Split Even with Browns, Winning First Game and Losing Second.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—Philadelphia and St. Louis divided today's double header, the locals winning the first game, 2 to 1, and the Westerners the second, 5 to 1. Dykes's infield hit, Gedeon's two-base wild throw and C. Walker's sacrifice fly scored the winning run in the eighth of the first contest.

The second game was loosely played, St. Louis hammering Moore in the fourth for the victory. Smith had seven hits and a base on balls in eight times in the two games.

Curves and Bingles

The Tigers make their last appearance of the season at the Polo Grounds today. Shawkey and Ayers are the probable pitchers.

The Hugmen have won twelve of their eighteen games played to date with the Tigers. They have three more to play at Detroit, besides the game here today.

Cobb continues to advance toward the leaders in the batting stakes. In his last two games Ty has made seven hits in nine times at bat. He is now some distance above the .300 mark.

The Yankees gained on both the White Sox, who were idle, and the Indians, who broke even, yesterday. Huggins's men are now three games behind the leaders and about a game behind the Indians.

Ruth has solved all the tricks of playing carroms of the right-field wall, and his throwing is deadly. He is a real marksman in throwing to the bases.

Bill Morrisette, who finished the game for the Tigers, was at one time the property of the Giants. His latest major league experience before joining the Tigers was with the Mackmen. He has been pitching brilliantly this season at Hamilton, Ontario.

Alex Ferguson, who has been on the Yankee payroll on two previous occasions, is to get another chance. He has been repurchased from the Jersey City team of the International League, and will report next week to Manager Huggins.

Ward has been getting on the bases frequently since he was dropped to seventh place in the batting order. It was because of repeated failures in this particular that Huggins removed Ward from the lead-off position.

The Yankee kick is again showing some of the activity and strength of early season games. If the pitching only measures up to its former standard the chase after the White Sox and the Indians may not be a futile one.

CARD BOXMEN BADLY BRUISED BY GIANTS

New Yorkers Club Ball All Over Lot and Take Opening Game in St. Louis, 10 to 3.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—The Cardinals were soft as a half-minute egg for the Giants in the opening game of the series here, New York winning, 10 to 3. After their clean sweep in a series with the Braves, the Cards were expected to furnish formidable opposition, but they curled up like lettuce leaves bitten by the frost and proved easy victims.

Both pitchers were strong at the start. George Burns led off with a hit in the first inning, but sparkling play afield by Johnny Lavan checked the Giants. His two stops of hard grounders by Bancroft and Young were tidy bits of defensive play, and both were good for forceouts at second base.

The Giants rose on their haunches in the third inning and unbelted a bruising drive. Earl Smith, who is developing into one of the best catchers in the major leagues, led off with a sharp single to left, and Nehf followed with another to centre. Burns then forced Nehf at second, Lavan to Hornsby, and Smith moved to third.

Speed is winning many a game for New York as their drive expands, and at this juncture this quality in their play was utilized with fine effect. Smith and Burns tore off a double steal and Smith scored, beating Lavan's throw to the plate by the margin of a gnat's goatee. Bancroft then struck out, and Burns was out at the plate trying to score from second on Young's short single to left, McHenry to Clemons.

Hal Janvren, who is playing first during the absence of Jack Fournier, produced the first hit off Nehf, a whack that almost tore Frisch's arms away in the third inning. Frisch dived at the ball, but it bounded out of his mitts. Schultz followed with a single to centre, and the Giants tightened up their defenses. Stock forced Schultz at second, Frisch to Doyle, on an easy roller.

Smith here showed his calibre as a catcher. Stock lit out for second, but Smith's throw went down like the shell from a rifle, and Stock was nipped cleanly by Doyle. Meantime Janvrin was left flat at third, like the commuter who missed the five-fifteen.

Frisch Hits Into Bleachers.

The Giants added another run to their total in the fourth, when Frisch lifted a home run into the right-field bleachers. Spencer tekked to first on Lava's error. Doyle sent an easy fly to Heathcote for the second out, but Spencer took second when Janvrin let Haines's throw get away from him. McHenry's fine catch of Smith's fly in left centre stopped the Giants for the moment.

The Cardinals came up with a rugged punch in their half of the fourth. Hornsby led off with a single to centre. McHenry blazed a wicked bounder at Bancroft, and the little shortstop made a magnificent stop. He threw to Doyle an instant too late, however, to force out Hornsby, and McHenry beat Doyle's relay to first. Lavan inserted a neat sacrifice, Frisch to Kelly, and both runners moved along a base. Doyle saved a big part of the Giants' bacon at this turn by a marvelous one-hand stab back of first. Heathcote's sharp drive, Hornsby scoring and McHenry taking third. The rally ended when Clemons filed to Young.

Spencer's infield out to Lavan, following a walk to Young and a single by Frisch, enabled Young to score Yorke's third run in the sixth. Then followed a weird error by Janvrin on Doyle's bounder. This scored another run, and a home run into the right-field bleachers by Smith scored Doyle.

McHenry Also Gets Homer.

The Cardinals were not to be denied, however, and returned to the assault in the sixth. A single by Hornsby, a home run by McHenry into the left-field bleachers, and another single by Lavan to right combined to give St. Louis two runs. There was a freakish break to McHenry's home run. He hit the ball high and far. Burns backed up against the bleacher fence and leaped to make the catch, but the ball bounded out of his outstretched mitt, popped over the wire netting, and fell among the spectators. The rest of the game was something approaching a promenade for New York.

Poll Perritt, formerly pitcher of the Giants, rejoined the club here today, prepared to demonstrate to John McGraw that he is fit for duty in the majors. Poll has been pitching with much success in the Texas League this Summer, and is convinced he is in good enough condition to help the Giants in the final dash for the pennant. McGraw will give him an early opportunity to show what he can do. If the angular right-hander is ready, McGraw will give him a contract. Perritt is the picture of robust health. He has filled out considerably, and a week of hard work should prime him for the test.

St. Louis, like Chicago, is somewhat harassed by the most changeable weather in years. The Mound City has just been having its share of oppressive weather, but today dawned drab and cold, and was anything but conducive to good condition for ball players who but recently were alternately sizzling and broiling in the heat of old Manhattan. Several of the players have colds.

INDIANS GET EVEN BREAK AT BOSTON

Defeat Red Sox in First Game, 2 to 1—Lose Second in 13 Innings, 4 to 3.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Boston and Cleveland divided a double header today, the visitors winning the first game, 2 to 1, and the home team capturing the second, 4 to 3, in thirteen innings.

Manager Speaker returned to the game as a pinch hitter in the first game and played for a few innings in centre field in the second game but he did not seem to act like himself and was replaced by Evans. Speaker arrived at the park while the first game was in progress, having come direct from Cleveland.

Gardner won the first game for Cleveland with a single that scored Wambsganss in the eighth inning. The second game was warmly contested, Boston twice coming from behind to tie the score. The break came in the thirteenth inning when Scott's single to centre scored Hendryx with the winning run.

CHAMPIONS BEAT PHILLIES.

Meadows's Wildness Gives the Reds Winning Lead in 5 to 3 Victory.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 23.—Meadows's wildness in the second inning today gave the champions a winning lead over Philadelphia in the first game of the series. He walked four men in the inning before being relieved by Enzmann, who pitched well for the rest of the game. Ruether was hit freely and gave way to Fisher after the first two men up in the fourth had driven out a single and a double. The Phillies staged a rally in the ninth, but their pinch hitters failed them. Rawlings was put out of the game in the fifth inning by Umpire Quigley for disputing a called strike.

RICHARDS DOUBLE WINNER ON COURT

Junior Champion Displays Brilliant Form in Southampton Tennis Tourney.

OTHER FAVORITES ADVANCE

Washburn, Hardy and Clothier Among Successful Players in Early Matches in the Singles.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Aug. 23.—The annual invitation tennis tournament of the Meadow Club, the traditional warming up for the national singles championship, got under way here today with an exceptionally strong field of sixty-four entries. With the California delegation not yet here, although the national titleholder, William M. Johnston, is expected tomorrow, the interest of the early rounds centred in Vincent Richards, who is making his first appearance in an Eastern tournament since his departure for the West early in the Summer. The junior champion has since that time won the national clay court doubles with Roland Roberts, finishing second to his partner in the singles, and has also annexed the Illinois State title, defeating Walter Hayes, the ninth ranking player of America, in both tournaments.

Today Richards advanced beyond the Southampton field by winning two matches, first defeating that steady veteran, G. A. L. Dionne, with surprising ease, at 6—2, 6—1, and then eliminating Allen J. Lowrey, another West Sider, in a far closer battle, scored 8—6, 6—4.

Among other winners in the first round were Watson M. Washburn, Samuel Hardy, William J. Clothier, Ralph Burdick, Willard Botsford, G. Colket Caner, and Hugh Kelleher.

The tennis at Southampton is just a little different from that of any other centre in the August circuit. The entire environment is unique among the varied settings provided by the active season.

Concentrated Tennis Atmosphere.

The concentrated tennis atmosphere in and around the hospitable old clubhouse, the colorful flower gardens that flank the green courts, with the old windmill in the background, the subdued sound of the ocean just behind the rolling sand dunes, the pond and the swans in the distance, near the famous "tea house," now turned into practical barracks, all this combines to make the tournament of the Meadow Club a delightfully individual event. The gallery is not so large as at some competitions, but it is exclusively a tennis gathering, and every stroke is watched with an appraising eye by those who sit on the clubhouse porch or wander down on the grass for a closer view.

Young Richards, a flash of maroon and white, in his Fordham Prep sweater, aroused immediate enthusiasm today by the wonderful accuracy of the volleying game which he displayed against Dionne. The latter is a terror to most opponents, because of the persistency of his returns, and his steadiness has worn out many a hard and brilliant hitter, rewarding him last year with a set against Johnston in the national championship.

Today, however, Dionne's comparatively soft shots seemed set up for Richards at the net. The University Heights youngster cut them off at sharp angles from one side to the other, and soon had the veteran running desperately all over the court. Continuing his forcing tactics through two decisive sets, Richards was soon ready for another opponent.

Real Battle for Richards.

This time, however, he had a real battle on his hands, Lowrey coming in fresh, with a default to his credit, and hitting very accurately down the side lines. Richards soon found that he had to reach the net with unusual speed to get his racquet on these drives, and even then a great many of his returns failed to land in fair territory. Lowrey actually led him up to 5—3 in the first set, needing only two points to put the session to his credit. But a few errors spoiled his opportunity and, after Richards had pulled up to 5-all, he eventually saved the situation by an 8—6 count, taking three games in a row after the score once more stood against him at 6—5. The second set was almost as close, with Lowrey hanging on stubbornly and losing only by a 6—4 margin, after a single break in service.

Washburn produced some of the well-rounded tennis today that recently won him all the honors at Seabright, going through Commander W. S. Anderson to the tune of 6—1 in the opener, but being much harder pressed by the left-hander to win the second at 6—4. Washburn did most of his scoring from deep court, going in close only when the finish of a rally was assured. The loser's best shots were consistent troublemakers, once they got under way, but he mixed in too large a proportion of errors to force so experienced an opponent to his limit.

Stiff Match for Hardy.

Samuel Hardy, who represented the Davis Cup team in solitary glory today, met with some real opposition in the first round at the hands of Stanley Mortimer, the well known racquet player, who was runner-up for the national racquets title last Winter. Mortimer soon showed that he knew a lot of lawn tennis in addition to the indoor game and had the veteran Hardy working his head off from the very start. Fast driving and good service kept the Tuxedo man right in the game until the score of the opener had reached 6-all, when Hardy brought all his resources into play to gain an 8—6 decision. The second set came somewhat more decisively, the Davis Cup Captain forcing the net position for some effective volleying and eventually breaking through for the lead that gave him the match at 6—3.

Cecil Donaldson, the Brooklyn junior, put up another fine battle against Ralph Burdick, one of the Western doubles champions, who made a remarkable record in this tournament two years ago. The youngster required a full set to get the hang of the turf, but after that he played the Chicagoan on even terms, hitting hard and confidently and frequently passing his rival as he came to the net. Burdick, however, was steadier in the pinches, with particular strength overhead, and finally pulled out a long deuce set at 10—8, landing the final game after Donaldson had twice saved the match point.

Clothier's Decisive Victory.

William J. Clothier, the 1906 national champion, proved the abiding value of his game today when he disposed of William J. Gallon, the hard-hitting west sider, by the decisive count of 6—1, 6—2. He was in full command of the deep drives that have caused so much trouble to his opponents this season, using his long reach for spectacular recoveries, and keeping the ball in play until the inevitable errors came to his aid.

Among other versatile wielders of the racquette two well-known squash tennis players were eliminated in the first round, A. E. Ellis succumbing to Hoffman Nickerson in a well played match, 7—5, 6—2, while Wallace Rowe fell more quickly before the hitting of Arnold Jones, the national boy champion. Both of the Baggs brothers won their opening encounters, Fred, the chopper, easily putting out Goddard Saunders at 6—0, 6—1, while Ralph took a close decision from Alex Iler, 10—8, 6—3. Alfred Dabney outsteadied Donald Keresey in straight sets, while Fred C. Inman, former metropolitan champion, went through Vice President E. F. Torrey of the National Association in similar fashion.

G. Colket Caner, the Massachusetts title holder, opened with a love set against the Yale alumnus, E. W. Peaslee, but had to work harder for the second at 6—4. Young Richard Hinckley had to be satisfied with a total of three games against Hugh Kelleher, and Henry Bassford could not make his left-hand drives produce more than two games in each set against Willard Botsford.

The doubles event is scheduled to begin on Wednesday.

Following is the summary:

Invitation Singles—First Round—Samuel Hardy defeated Stanley Mortimer, 8—6, 6—3; R. L. Baggs defeated Alex Iler, 10—8, 6—3; A. S. Dabney defeated H. D. Keresey, 6—1, 6—4; Arnold W. Jones defeated Wallace Rowe, 6—1, 6—2; Hoffman Nickerson defeated A. E. Ells, 7—5, 6—2; Allen S. Lowrey won from Richard Emmett by default; Vincent Richards defeated G. A. L. Dionne, 6—2, 6—1; Dr. William Rosenbaum won from Axel Gravem by default; D. P. Robinson won from Coleman Jennings by default; William J. Clothier defeated W. J. Gallon, 6—1, 6—2; F. C. Inman defeated E. F. Torrey, 6—3, 6—2; Dean Mathey won from H. L. Johnston by default; G. C. Caner defeated E. W. Peaslee, 6—0, 6—4; F. C. Baggs defeated Goddard W. Saunders, 6—0, 6—1; Watson M. Washburn defeated Commander W. S. Anderson, 6—1, 6—4; Robert Leroy won from Robert Crawford by default; Hugh Kelleher defeated Richard Hinckley, 6—2, 6—1; William M. Johnston won from Samuel Carruthers by default; Ralph H. Burdick defeated Cecil Donaldson, 6—1, 10—8; Willard Botsford defeated H. H. Basford, 6—2, 6—2.

Second Round—Richards defeated Lowrey, 8—6, 6—4.

MRS. MELVIN JONES LEADS.

Makes Low Score of 88 in Medal Round of Western Women's Golf.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Melvin Jones, Glen Oak Club, Chicago, made low medal score in the qualifying round of the Women's Western Golf Association today, shooting 44 in each half for an 88. Her score was one stroke above women's par for the Oak Park course and five strokes better than her nearest competitor, Miss Elizabeth Klotz of Indian Hill.

Mrs. David Gaut of Memphis, Tenn., considered one of the strongest of the southern amateurs and medalist at Indian Hill two years ago, had a 97, which placed her in a tie with Mrs. K. G. Starbuck of Columbus, Miss Frances Hadfield of Milwaukee and several local players for seventh position, and one stroke behind Miss Marion Burns of Kansas City.

Mrs. Perry Fiske of De Kalb, Ill., title holder, played through the round, although not required to do so, finishing seventeenth with 101. She would have been placed in the championship flight any how by virtue of being the champion.

The pairings of the thirty-two qualifiers for the championship flight and their scores today follow:

Mrs. Perry Fiske, De Kalb, Ill. (101) and Mrs. E. E. Harwood, Olympia Fields (100); Miss Frances Hadfield, Milwaukee (97) and Mrs. C. A. Rehburg, Olyphia Fields (104); Miss Edith Cummings, Onwentsia (105) and Mrs. L. E. Rein, Ridgemoor (103).

Mrs. U. S. Pritchard, Battle Creek (.08), and Miss Helen Tillotson, Toledo (106); Miss Elizabeth Klotz, Indian Hill (93), and Miss Marjorie Edwards, Midlothian (102); Mrs. K. G. Starbuck, Columbus (97), and Mrs. H. R. Kasson, Olympia Fields (105); Miss Marion Burns, Kansas City (98), and Miss Wida Llewellyn, La Grange (104); Mrs. B. C. Stevenson, Indianapolis (100), and Miss Edna Dixon, Oconomowoc, Wis. (106); Mrs. Melvin Jones, Glen Oak (88), and Mrs. John Worley, Jr., Aurora, Ill. (101); Miss Vera Gardiner, Glen Oak (97) and Mrs. L. C. Quentin, Edgewood (104); Miss Louise Fergus, Glenview (96), and Mrs. U. W. Douglas, Evanston (103); Miss Marie Powers, Glen Oak (99), and Miss Carolyn Bauer, Beverly (100); Miss Ruth Gellfus, Flossmoor (97), and Mrs. E. U. Jeffris, Edgewater (105); Miss Ernestine Pearce, Skokie (94), and Miss Dorian Kavanaugh, Chicago Golf (102). Mrs. David Gaut, Memphis, Tenn. (91), and Mrs. H. D. Sterrett Hutchinson, Kan. (94); Mrs. F. C. Letts, Jr., Onwentsia (100), and Miss Frances Kellogg, Indian Hill (106).

GOLF RECORD FOR HAGEN.

Lowers South Bend Figures to 69—He and Evans Tie Vardon and Ray.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 23.—Walter Hagen lowered the course record of the South Bend Country Club here this afternoon, when he registered a 69 for the last 18 holes of the 36-hole match, which he and Charles Evans, Jr., played against Edward Kay, American open champion, and his fellow countryman, Harry Vardon. The old record was 73, made a year ago by Evans. The two teams, playing best ball, halved the match, each winning 18 holes. The approach of train time made it impossible to play off the tie.

Vardon registered the only eagle score of the day when he made a three on a 450-yard hole. Hagen was awarded a prize for the most birdies, his card showing that he had made eight holes under par. Evans had four and each of the Englishmen had six.

The totals for the 36 holes were: Vardon 145, Ray 145, Hagen 144, Evans 148.

I. S. C. REFUTES RUMORS.

Secretary Emple Gives Figures on the Club's Finances.

By way of denying alleged rumors concerning its financial condition, the International Sporting Club made public yesterday a general balance sheet of the I. S. C. Corporation, which controls and directs the financial interests of the club. The report covers the period between the date of incorporation, Sept. 6, 1919, to May 31, 1920, and is accompanied by a statement by Adam Emple, Secretary of the club, which said in part:

"As there have been rumors circulated by enemies of this enterprise that (a) it has been a stock-selling proposition, (b) that it has not been financially successful, and (c) that it has not acquired a site and building operations have not been commenced, I am sure you will be pleased to receive indisputable evidence to the contrary.

"No one connected with this enterprise possesses more than one $500 bond, and no individual, no matter what services he may have rendered, will receive any profits in excess of said holding.

"The amount of accounts payable ($2,645) and the fact that $135,216.67 (now nearly a quarter of a million dollars) is due from the holders of bonds who have not yet completed payments and the substantial sum at our bank of $45,497.42 are a conclusive refutation of this allegation.

"According to the statement, more than $80,000 has been paid for excavation to date for the new building and the foundation walls are well advanced. The number of founder members is 1,510, all of whom have purchased one $500 bond and agree to pay $100 annual dues.

"In addition to accounts payable, the bulk of the liabilities of the club, the statement shows, are 6 per cent. debenture gold bonds to the amount of $634,500 and real estate mortgages amounting to $438,500. The total liabilities are $1,100,645.01, which is balanced by the same total of assets. The latter are made up largely of real estate and buildings estimated at $739,428.18."

Toronto Dinghy Is Winner.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 23.—The Oulja, dinghy of the Lake Sailing Skiff Association of Toronto, won the twelve-foot championship of Lake Ontario here today, defeating the American boat Arrow by 7 minutes 35 seconds elapsed time, over the six-mile course. The Oulja won the first race a week ago Saturday. In addition to the championship the Oulja wins the Emerson Trophy.

PAHASKA CAPTURES ALBANY HANDICAP

Coe's Fleet Colt Beats Sedgfield and Ararat in Driving Finish at Saratoga.

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 23.—The Albany Handicap, a six-furlong dash for two-year-olds, which was the feature of a day of good racing, provided a surprise here this afternoon when W. R. Coe's Pahaska, which had never finished in the money in any of his previous starts, got home in front under a hard drive to win the $3,000 purse and defeat Sedgefield, Ararat and Touch-Me-Not, among others in the field of seven starters.

While Pahaska had never been able to earn a share of a purse, he had run some impressive races, but today he was held at 6-1 against such smart youngsters as Ararat, which had scored a few days before for H. P. Whitney in his first effort and had won easily, and Touch-Me-Not, which was regarded as one of the best of the season's two-year-olds when racing at Belmont Park. However, Pahaska took the track at the start and, leading all the way, lasted under a hard drive to win by half a length, while Sedgefeld was second, two lengths in front of the Whitney colt.

Ararat was an added starter, his name being posted but a short time before the race was run. This addition caused a good deal of confusion, for Ararat had run like a first class colt. He was made the favorite and was well supported, but Touch-Me-Not was also well backed because of his victory in the Great American Stakes and in spite of the fact that he had not been seen under colors this meeting.

Pahaska Breaks Quickly.

Pahaska broke quickly and was rushed along on the rail at a fast clip, closely attended by Sedgefield. Ararat broke so slowly that he was last to leave the post and the leaders were several lengths in front when he got under way. Rodrigues rushed the Whitney colt up on the outside and finally got into second position, a length back of Pahaska, but the effort to get up had taken so much out of him that he weakened in the drive through the stretch and Sedgefield came on to dispose of him handily and give battle to the winner. Pahaska had to be driven through the final sixteenth, but finished gamely and held his rival safe.

Touch-Me-Not has proved all season to be an unreliable colt despite the fact that he has a wonderful gift of speed. He had not trained well, but, once under way, showed good speed when he took a notion to run. He broke slowly also, but for the first furlong would not extend himself. It was not until he reached the head of the stretch that he began to move up, and then he had dropped too far out of it to get up for a place among the first three.

Sam C. Hildreth dropped his Mad Hatter into another spot which appeared to give him a chance for an easy victory and the Fair Play colt won his second race of the year, but not with as much in reserve as might have been expected from the company that opposed him. He went to the post in the Pittstown Handicap at a mile and three-sixteenths against Bluewrack, Carpet Sweeper, Tailor Maid and others of the cheaper class of horses and was accordingly made a 1 to 3 choice, but the finish he won by half a length from Tailor Maid, with Carpet Sweeper third.

Scare for Mad Hatter's Backers.

That Mad Hatter did not win by a greater margin was due more to the ride he received from Jockey Fator than to the horse himself. Fator rode as though he was confident he could move up from almost anywhere and win. He allowed Mad Hatter to drop back to next to last going through the back stretch, while Tailor Maid was far out in front and setting a fast pace with but 95 pounds in the saddle. Fator did not make a move on the Hildreth racer until he reached the head of the stretch and then ran right into a pocket. Fortunately for him, the horses spread out and he was able to slip through, rush up and catch Tailor Maid at the sixteenth pole and win. The victory was an easy one, once Mad Hatter caught the leader, but Fator gave the backers of the Hildreth horse a scare until the wire was reached.

Mrs. R. L. Dresser's Red Scot, which has been gradually rounding into form, was an easy winner of the opening event, a seven-furlong sprint in which he took the measure of Dodge by nearly two lengths, while Redmon was third in the field of ten. Jock Scot had little opposition and received a well judged ride from Jockey Johnson. The boy kept his mount in second position and permitted Redmon to race himself to pieces in the early part of the contest. When he reached the turn into the stretch he moved up and took the lead with little difficulty and was never pressed for the remainder of the distance. Dodge finished with a rush and easily disposed of the tired pacemaker, but Redmon was able to save third by a neck from Manoeuvre.

Steeplechase favorites have been defeated with regularity during the meeting and another one was added to the list today when Dorcris, at 4 to 5, finished last among four starters. The race went to Flight Captain, which led all the way, jumped nicely and lasted through a hard drive to lead home Rhomb by a length. Surf was third. Dorcris was up for a turn of the field, but made a bad landing and practically broke down. He made a game effort until his rider saw that he was hopelessly beaten.

Tenons Bon, which had scored four victories in succession, went down to defeat in the fifth race at a mile and five-sixteenths, in which he failed to finish in the money. The race was won by Lord Herbert, which beat Natural Bridge two lengths. King Agrippa was third. Tenons Bon found the distance too much for him. He raced in front for a mile and a furlong and then tired badly. Lord Herbert finished with a rush and disposed of Natural Bridge, which had taken the lead at the head of the stretch.

OFFERS COURSE FOR RACE.

London Club Would Provide Track When Cornell Visits Britain.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Expressing pleasure over Cornell's acceptance of the invitation to meet Oxford and Cambridge in a dual cross-country race in England some time next Winter, Evelyn A. Montague, Captain of the Oxford Hare and Hounds Club, and W. R. Seagrove, President of a similar club at Cambridge, have forwarded to Graduate Manager Berry of Cornell their suggestions for details of the meeting. The Thames Hare and Hounds Club has offered its cross-country course at Rochampton, near London, for the international race.

This course is used for Cambridge-Oxford Hare and Hounds' races but for no other college contests. It is seven and a half miles long and consists of two miles of road, one mile of plowed ground and the balance of rough grass land. Two hurdle and ditch jumps are included. Neither of the jumps can be cleared. The record for the course is 41 minutes and 55 seconds, and it will be a much more difficult course than Americans are accustomed to run.

Subject to approval, the cross-country teams will be made up of seven men each, five to count on a side. In view of the fact that the English university students must do a lot of reading during the Christmas holidays, Montague and Seagrove express the hope that the race may be run as early in December as possible.

U. S. ATHLETES WIN TITLE IN OLYMPICS

having scored nine to ten for Sweden. The Americans scored ten fourths, twice as many as their nearest rival. They outranked the other teams in taking fifth places, but did not score quite as many sixths as Sweden.

There will be considerable rechecking of figures in the athletic events before they can be considered official. The Belgian press today put out a list that was extremely full of errors which they called official. All the records were gone over tonight and rechecked unofficially.

The final official figures for the Decathlon place the men as follows:

Loveland, Norway, 6804.335; Hamilton, United States, 6770.86; Ohlsson, Sweden, 6570.305; Halmer, Sweden, 6533.15; Nielsson, Sweden, 6434.53; Wiceholm, Finland, 6406.46.

The track and field events, just closed, were notable in the fact that only three athletes were able to win two first places. These were Frigerio, the Italian walker, who won the 3,000 and 10,000 meter walking events; A. G. Hill, the English middle distance runner, who won the 800 and 1,500 meter runs, and Nurmi, the Finn, who was first in the 10,000 meter run and in the cross-country race today, which it is admitted was considerably short of the advertised 10 kilometers.

Several Olympic swimming records were smashed today. Three Americans—Mrs. Frances Schroth of San Francisco, Irene Guest of Philadelphia and Ethelda Bleibtrey, Women's Swimming Association—chalked up new records in winning their heats in the 100-meter free-style swim. Duke Kahanamoku repeated his record-breaking performance of yesterday by covering 100 meters, free style, in 1:01 2-5. Pua Kealeha of Honolulu tied the Olympic record when winning his heat in the same event.

This makes a total of eight Olympic swimming records broken by American entries in two days, one world's record bettered and two Olympic records equaled.

In the events today J. Howell, San Francisco, won his heat in the 400 meters, breast stroke, in 6:55. In the 100 meters, free style, Kahanamoku and W. W. Harris, Honolulu, were first and second, respectively. George Vernot, the Canadian, failed to qualify. Norman Ross, Illinois A. C., was second to Kealeha in his heat in that event.

In the 100-meter free-style swim for women, Mrs. Schroth won the first heat in 1:18, Charlotte Boyle, Women's Swimming Association, finished second. Irene Guest won the second heat in 1:18 4-5. Ethelda Bleibtrey won the third heat in 1:14 2-5. (The previous record was 1:19 4-5.)

Warren Kealoha, Honolulu, won the final honors in the 100-meter back stroke, with his teammate, R. Kegeris, Los Angeles, second, and the Belgian, Blitz, third. The time was 1:15 1-5, a new Olympic record. The Olympic record was 1:20 4-5, made by J. J. Hebner in 1912. Perry McGillivray, Illinois A. C., and Harold Kruger, Honolulu, finished fourth and fifth, respectively.

Norman Ross, Illinois A. C., and P. K. Kahele, U. S. Navy, qualified in their heats in the 1,500-meter free-style swim, Ross winning his heat, and Kahele finishing second to Beaurepaire of Australia.

America enters the boxing finals tomorrow night with three survivors from the preliminary contests. These are Edward Egan, Yale University, light heavyweight, American Expeditionary Force champion; Samuel Mosberg, Pastime A. C., lightweight, and F. de Genero, Paulist A. C., flyweight.

W. Spengler of the New York Police Club defeated Crusen of Belgium in the heavyweight contest today. Later forfeited to Petersen, Denmark, on account of an injured hand. Egan won his way into the finals by defeating Frank of England, and Mosberg, the New York lightweight, gained the right to fight for the championship of his class by knocking out Ireland of South Africa in fifteen seconds with a right uppercut.

The American tug-of-war team and the Dutch and Belgian teams have been ordered to meet next Sunday to contest for second place in the tug-of-war. The first place was won by England.

The summaries:

Decathlon.

Official Figures—Won by Loveland, Norway, 6804.335 points; B. Hamilton, United States, 6770.86 points, second; Ohlsson, Sweden, 6579.305 points, third; Halmer, Sweden, 6533.15 points, fourth; Nielsson, Sweden, 6434.53 points, fifth; Wiceholm, Finland, 6406.46 points, sixth.

MISS COWLES A WINNER.

Paces Mile in 2:08¾ in Newark Matinee—Two Other Races.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 23.—In the unfinished matinée of the Road Horse Association of New Jersey, carried over from Saturday to this afternoon, Miss Cowles, the chestnut pacing mare owned by H. Stacey Smith and driven by Will Strang of Brooklyn, broke the track record, going a mile in 2:08¾. Miss Cowles's time by quarters was 0:32, 1:04, 1:36¾, 2:08¾.

Jessie Watts had little trouble in winning the 2:15 tret in straight heats. She trailed Devine's Glory in the first heat to the three quarters pole. Here Boylan started his drive, followed closely by Miss Worthy. The Watts mare out-trotted Grace Worthy through the stretch and beat her to the wire by a half length. In the second heat Jessie Watts went to the front at the word and was never headed, Grace Worthy finally reaching her at the half pole to be outrotted down the homestretch.

Harry Stengel annexed the 2:30 class with little difficulty with Harvest Star. Vincent McKinney was the contending horse in the first heat, while Rosina Hall gave chase all the way in the second, but was unable to stave off the relentless brush of Stengel's horse in the stretch.

Buffalo Polo Club Beats Toronto.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—The Buffalo Polo Club today turned the tables on the Toronto Hunt Club in the second and final game at the Woodbine track, winning by 10 to 3. The home team was penalized a point toward the finish. The Toronto Club won on Saturday by 10¾ points to 5.

Winner of Famous Latonia Stakes Will Earn Over $50,000

The best horses of East and West, barring the great Man o' War, will clash in the Latonia Championship Stakes, which Mad Hatter won last year, thereby drawing down one of the greatest purses of the year, $44,000. The famous Latonia event will be even richer this season, for between $50,000 and $60,000 will go to the winner. Best Pal seems to be the leading Western entry, while the East will pin its hopes to John P. Grier, On Watch and other notable horses. The following twenty seem to be the best of the eligible list: John P. Grier, On Watch, Upset, Wildair, Pankhurst, Peace Pennant, Sandy Beal, La Rablee, Best Pal, Cleopatra, Rouleau, Alex, Jr., King Albert, Westwood, Make Up, King Thrush, Constancy, Sterling, Dresden and Fair Gain.

POUGHKEEPSIE HAS A VALENTINE DAY

Columbus Driver Pilots Three Winners in Opening of Grand Circuit Meeting.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Charley Valentine took the lion's share of the honors at the opening day of Poughkeepsie's 1920 Grand Circuit meeting this afternoon, piloting three winners in four events. He drove Bogalusa to a victory in the Dutchess trot for two-year-olds, winning the second and third heats handily after following Favonian home in the first. He also scored with Red Lancelot in The Hudson Valley, and with Peter Coley in the Knickerbocker.

The fourth event on the day's card, the Union, 2:16 class trot for three-year-olds, went to Lucile Harvester in eyelash finishes with Emma Harvester in the last two heats. Great Britton, the favorite, behaved poorly, placing seventh in the first heat and being distanced in the second.

The weather was a little cool for racing and the track not at its best, but the three-year-olds recorded three heats at 2:10 or better, Lucile Harvester stepping the final mile in 2:08¼. Red Lancelot made the best time of the day, 2:04¼, in the second heat of the 2:08 pace.

A break cost Peter Coley victory in the first heat, E. Colorado slipping through to win, but the Peter the Great gelding came back impressively in the next two-mile heats without urging.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Industrial Stocks Recede, Reflecting Business Conditions —Rail Issues Firm.

Railroad stocks pointed the way yesterday for a general recovery of stock market quotations, but buying in this department failed to attract any following among the industrial issues. On the contrary, traders in the manufacturing, petroleum and miscellaneous shares were not prevented by the firm to strong railroad price tendency from putting out new short lines which resulted in a highly ragged appearance of the list at the close of business. Steel stocks receded more than a point in several important cases and only moderate resistance was afforded the pressure of sales elsewhere. Call money stood at the rate which has become accepted as low, this being 7 per cent. The stability of the demand loan rate was rather encouraging in view of the sharp fall of excess reserves among the Clearing House banks last week and the extensive movement of interior bank deposits back home, but then the sluggish state of the stock market brought no burden upon money. The true credit reflexes just now are to be found in the detailed figures of the Federal Reserve system. Rediscounts have been rising rather steadily of late, the aggregate being more than $860,000,000 higher than a year ago. Large advances were made last week by the Reserve Banks of New York, Boston and Cleveland to banks of the South, West and Northwest, and it would be in line with expectations if this movement went further before the Autumn demand for cash and credit has been met. The Autumn strain is on.

The stock market has been sentimentally depressed for many weeks by the credit outlook and banking measures to insure freedom from new inflation. Of late the small daily turnovers of stocks have indicated the absence of demand, and it has been evident that speculators were unwilling to buy extensively even with fairly large supplies of call money to borrow from. This fact gives basis for the supposition that factors collateral to a tight credit situation, although in part controlled by it, are having much to do in shaping the stock market's course. Looking for causes, one finds a highly nervous situation in the cotton market, where the quotations for futures have been falling with scarcely a respite for the last three weeks, while the record has to be searched back to April to find the year's maximum prices. Wheat has been pushed about erratically, disclosing the blind groping of traders for an estimate of what the cash article should be worth three and six months hence. Yesterday the December option fell nearly 5 cents and March 7 cents.

The stock market evidently believes that cotton and grain are not falling merely because large yields are looked for. The stock market, no less than the cotton and wheat markets themselves, appears to be affected by uncertainty over consumption at home and abroad. Persistent declines of cotton at Liverpool indicate that manufacturers at the great spinning centres are chary of contracting ahead, and retail price movements here disclose a hesitant demand among consumers of textiles which is hardly stimulating to mill managers. It needs be remembered, however, that the Fall season is at hand and within a few weeks the underlying strata of business will be easier of definition than at present.

Silver declined abruptly 2⅞ pence per ounce at London, bringing a fall of 4½ cents at New York. The resultant quotation of 97¾ cents for "foreign" metal left the field open again for the sale of American silver to the Treasury, as the Treasury's price continued at 90½ cents. Sterling exchange declined 2¾ cents, the final quotation of 3.57⅝ being approximately the same as ten days ago, the highest level during these days having been 3.64⅝. Continental rates moved down, German marks going to last week's lowest price of 1.92 cents for check transfers.

TO PREPARE FOR BUDGET.

LaGuardia Notifies Aldermen That Estimates Are Ready for Inspection.

To facilitate action on the city budget by the Board of Aldermen, when it comes time for that body to exercise its prerogative to reduce or eliminate proposed appropriations, F. H. LaGuardia, President of the board, notified every Alderman by letter yesterday that his copy of department and borough estimates would be available for inspection daily at his office. Mr. LaGuardia said that the Board of Estimate had agreed upon the following tentative calendar for work on the budget:

All departmental and borough estimates to be in before Aug. 1; all reports of examiners to be in by Sept. 20; copies of examiners' reports to be submitted to department heads by Sept. 25, and meetings of the Committee on Finance and Budget of the Board of Estimate to decide departmental requests to begin on Sept. 27.

Gold and Silver Imports.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Gold imports from England continued heavy during the first ten days of this month, figures made public tonight by the Federal Reserve Board showing imports from that source of $6,664,189. France, the only other European nation to export gold to the United States, sent $676,505 in the same period. Total imports of gold by the United States from all countries between Aug. 1 and Aug. 10 aggregated $8,071,045. Exports during the same time were $8,430,743. Silver imports exceeded exports in the ten days covered by the figures. Imports of the white metal amounted to $1,441,014, against exports of $854,862.

WIRELESS DEVICES PUT IN HUGE POOL

Bell Company, General Electric and Radio Corporation to Exchange Licenses.

WOULD DEVELOP INVENTIONS

H. B. Thayer, Announcing Agreement, Foresees Extension of Public Phone Service to Ships at Sea.

Some of the most important recent inventions, which make possible trans-continental telephoning, wireless telephoning at great distances, the transmission of words of command or public addresses by the loud-speaking telephone and the multiplex use of one wire, are pooled by an arrangement announced yesterday between the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the General Electric Company and the Radio Corporation of America.

The arrangement was made at the suggestion of the Bureau of Steam Engineering of the United States Navy, which pointed out the commercial advantages of the combined use of these patents and the improved field for invention and development which such an arrangement would create.

The unrestricted use of the various pooled inventions by the three great concerns involved is expected to speed the day of transcontinental and transoceanic conversation by wireless telephone and to make possible the maintenance of telephone systems with simpler plants and at lower costs than is possible today.

The statement, which was made public by H. B. Thayer, President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, was as follows:

"In January of this year both companies received letters from the Bureau of Steam Engineering of the United States Navy Department, referring to the wireless situation, and saying the bureau has consistently held the point of view that the public interest shall be best served by some agreement between the several holders of pertinent patents whereby the market can be freely supplied. The letter also urges the necessity of some such arrangement so that ships at sea can get the benefit of the latest devices, which would contribute to their safety and the safety of their passengers. The bureau states further:

"'In the past the reasons for desiring some arrangement have been largely because of monetary considerations.

"'Now, the situation has become such that it is a public necessity that such arrangement be made without further delay, and this letter may be considered as an appeal—for the good of the public—for a remedy to the situation.'

"Following this, negotiations were commenced between the two companies with a view to the exchange of licenses so that the General Electric Company and the Radio Corporation of America, with which it had become interested, would be able to further the development of the art of radio transmission and especially of wireless telegraphy, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company could employ in its present nation-wide system such radio apparatus as is adaptable to wire transmission and, further, could supplement its wire system with wireless extensions where particularly adaptable as between shore and ships at sea.

"Much has been done in radio communication by all parties of interest which can be made fully effective in the public service only by this co-operation of the several companies.

"The world-wide wireless system of the Radio Corporation and the universal service of the Bell system are thus brought into a harmonious relation that will facilitate the use by the public of the present wireless telegraph facilities of the Radio Corporation, and, as the art advances, will enable the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to extend its telephone service to ships at sea and to foreign countries.

"The public interest lies in the fact that by exchange of licenses, as suggested by the Government, the patents of each company will be utilized to greater advantage and the progress of the art of electrical transmission and communication will be accelerated in America as in no other country."

Income of Telephone Companies.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Operating incomes of seventy telephone companies for the month of March amounted to $7,309,970, an increase of $853,233 over March, 1919, according to reports issued today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. For the three months ending with March, 1920, the operating income of the companies amounted to $22,600,507, an increase of $4,803,763 for the corresponding period of 1919.

American Cyanamid Nets $1,525,877

The report of the American Cyanamid Company for the fiscal year ended June 30 shows a net income after charges and Federal taxes of $1,525,877, as against $1,048,751 in the preceding year. The net sales last year were $8,084,085, compared with $6,205,285 in the 1919 report. Sales in the present report include sales of the Amalgamated Phosphate Company.

PONZI JURY HEARING ASKED BY COUNSEL

CALL GIRL SECRETARY TODAY

Federal Receivers Seek to Uncover Hidden Assets—15,000 Named as Note Holders.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Legal measures to settle the finances of Charles Ponzi took a new twist late today, when an effort was disclosed to nullify the bankruptcy proceedings against him. Daniel V. McIsaac, former Assistant District Attorney, who is one of Ponzi's counsel, filed a petition with the Clerk of the Federal court denying that Ponzi was bankrupt and demanding a jury trial.

Ponzi was declared in default today in the Municipal Court, where he was scheduled for a hearing on the charge of larceny. Not even an attorney was on hand to represent him. Technically his $10,00 bail, furnished on the State's complaint by Morris Rudnick, was in default as well, but it was said that the court would not insist upon collection while Ponzi was in the East Cambridge jail, where he was surrendered by his bondsman for $25,000 in the Federal suits.

More arrests were expected today not alone in the Ponzi crash but in that of a rival concern, the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company. Thus far but two of Ponzi's agents and one of the rival concern have been taken into custody. A number of additional warrants are out.

The authorities are continuing their efforts to uncover Ponzi's missing assets, and tomorrow Miss Lucy Mell, the young woman who acted as Ponzi's private secretary during the several months of his operations, will appear on the stand to testify as to alleged hidden funds of Ponzi.

Mrs. Charles M. Brightwell, wife of the President of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company, was called before Receiver John E. Hannigan today and questioned regarding her husband's affairs. She was accompanied by Attorney Robert Gallagher as counsel. Her husband and two other officers of the Old Colony Company are still in jail, unable to secure $50,000 bail.

A considerable number of persons, including former agents both of Ponzi and the rival shop, are declared to have disappeared. Their absence is interfering not a little in the attempts of the officials to straighten out the affairs of the two companies. Ponzi continues to be defiant toward the authorities handling his case, it was said.

A list approaching 15,000 investors in the Ponzi foreign "postal coupon" exchange was shown today, including men and women of every walk in life. Many of those named denied they had put faith in the scheme. About half, it was said, had got their money back, with or without the promised 50 per cent. interest. The others now wait on the action of the Federal receivers.

It had been generally believed that not more than a dozen or fifteen persons invested more than $2,000 or $3,000 with Ponzi's concern. There was a sensation today when it was disclosed that hundreds had placed $1,000 or more in Ponzi's hands.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

A Nervous Market.

The uncertainty regarding the scope of the decline in commodity markets was chiefly responsible for the trend of industrial stock prices in yesterday's stock market, although the professionals were not slow to take advantage of the evident sentiment soon after the opening and sold some issues quite freely. Rails were the feature of the day and the group moved into higher ground, with gains running from fractions to more than 2½ points. Reading was the favorite and registered a substantial advance over the preceding closing, while news that a Southern Pacific subsidiary had brought in a big Mexican oil gusher served to stimulate interest in that issue as well, which closed ⅞ up at 93⅜, the high for the day. Some of the low-priced railroad issues gained considerable ground on exchanges of only a few hundred shares of stock, while in a few instances sales of no particular volume served to depress prices. The sugar shares moved off when it was reported that sugar futures were uncertain, and the general list lost ground when it was reported that there had been breaks in the cotton and grain markets. That the interest displayed was almost wholly professional was the consensus in commission houses.

The New Freight Rates.

Close attention is being paid to the Interstate Commerce Commission by railroad men in anticipation of an early and definite stand on the question of intrastate rates. So far nine States have unreservedly approved and allowed the increases in rates as reflected in new tariffs filed by railroads, and seven have either postponed action on the question or have granted freight increases but not passenger increases. The opinion still prevails in conservative quarters that the Interstate Commerce Commission will handle the situation with dispatch, and that what now looks like a mountain will soon have the appearance of a molehill. Some managers are emphatic in their individual interpretation of the paragraphs of the Transportation act regarding the commission's powers to nullify intrastate rates which are discriminatory or unfair to interstate or foreign commerce, and say that the opposition of some States will do nothing more in the end than to inconvenience railroads which are affected.

Railroad Labor.

It was the feeling in many conservative railroad and banking quarters that while there might be no definite results obtained as a result of the meeting of the Labor Committee of the Association of Railway Executives and representatives of seventeen of the railroad labor organizations, at the Pennsylvania Hotel yesterday, a discussion between the executives and the workers on nationalization of adjustment boards and nationalization of working conditions could do no harm. It has been the feeling of railroad operators generally that the roads were turned back to them for the purpose of making possible a decentralization of many of the labor activities which were brought together in Washington during the war. That the majority of railroad workers want the centralized idea furthered is admitted and this will probably be made an issue eventually. In the meantime, encouraging reports have been received regarding the efficiency of railroad labor generally. This, it is asserted in some quarters, has materially advanced since the roads were turned back to private operation.

One Government Railroad Record.

Official statements regarding the passenger train mileage on standard gauge railroads in Great Britain, which have been circulated in the financial district, show that in 1919 the total was approximately 69,000,000 miles less than the mileage of 1913, a loss of about 25 per cent. Coming from the Minister of Transport of Great Britain, these figures have been taken locally to show one of the phases of Government operated railroads in Europe. England's deficit of approximately $165,000,000 in 1919 has been referred to locally as one proof that Government operation does not pay.

German Emergency Measures.

One of the emergency measures adopted by the German Government to prevent wholesale unemployment has been the adoption of the socalled Arbeitlosenfürsorge, which provides that workmen be kept at work by the State or community, according to cable advices recently received in the United States. For example, a large shoe factory was about to close down when the community ordered 6,000 pairs of shoes for use within its boundaries and raised the funds for their purchase, thus enabling the factory to run on part time and providing employment for men who would otherwise have been idle. Unemployment, according to the same advices, is the big problem now facing Germany.

The Money Market.

Call money was easy yesterday, 7 per cent. ruling throughout the day. The situation with relation to time money, however, remains tense with no prospect of pronounced change in sight. The low rate on call funds is undoubtedly a reflection of any lack of expansion in brokerage loans. The inactivity of the market is the important factor making for this condition. Just how plentiful is the supply of call money is rather difficult to determine until there has been some advance in the stock market which would call for a greater use of funds. There has been something of an advance in stock market quotations over the last few days, but it has not been of a character to affect the call money market. In the minds of many the belief still persits that any sharp upturn in which there is public participation on a large scale will bring about soaring call money rates.

Government Oil Contracts.

The Government is continually signing contracts for the delivery of petroleum during next year. One that has just been closed shows to a marked degree the position which one of the newer oil companies has gained in the development of Mexican properties. The Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies Company has agreed to deliver to the Government some 15,000,000 barrels of oil, of which 6,000,000 barrels will be fuel oil. The price is to be $1.25 a barrel, taxes paid. In transporting the oil from the Mexican loading port the Shipping Board will supply the tankers. With such contracts as this being concluded it is easy to see why Atlantic Gulf is planning such a heavy expenditure of money in connection with its oil program.

American Linseed.

A report was current yesterday that something definite might be expected within a short time as to the purchase of the American Linseed Company by Lever Brothers of England. President Adams of the American Company has been in Europe for some time, presumably in connection with the deal. In the opinion of some, only a few details are to be cleared up before the way is open to a formal announcement. Until then, however, there can be nothing certain about the matter.

Industrials Soft.

In contradistinction to the rail group, the industrials, especially the leading issues, were soft yesterday. Many of them, in fact, had rather sharp declines. Even steel common eased off more than a point, and in the case of Mexican Petroleum, one of the leaders of the oil group, the decline amounted to more than 3 points. Those who have been a bit dubious about the market were inclined to read into the situation a doubt as to whether the readjustment which has been taking place has run its full course. There is no question that some of the industrials look cheap, but the comparison to determine cheapness is with the high prices of last year, some of which are not altogether reliable as indicative of real worth.

B. R. T. UNION DROPS CLOSED SHOP FIGHT

STRIKE THREAT ABANDONED

Company Says It Cannot Pay More Than Ten Per Cent. Increase in Wages—Men May Accept.

The committee of nine representing employes of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company yesterday withdrew its demand for a closed shop, and will begin conferences today with Lindley M. Garrison, receiver of the company, and several of the company's officials, on the questions of better working conditions, an increase of more than 10 per cent. in wages and other matters in dispute. Transit Construction Commissioner John H. Delaney, who is acting as mediator between Receiver Garrison and the employes, emphasized that neither the receiver nor the Federal Court, which appointed him, would consider the closed shop question.

The committee threatened to withdraw, with the understanding that a strike would be called on Aug. 28. Mr. Delaney told the men it was for the association to decide whether their interests would be served best by quitting work, but that he would waste no time in discussing the question of a closed shop with one side when the other side had announced that this question must be excluded from the conferences. The members of the committee consulted associates and agreed to drop the closed shop question. Almost immediately conferences were arranged between the men, Receiver Garrison and officials of the company, to begin at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the offices of the company, 85 Clinton Street, Brooklyn. Mr. Delaney will be present at the opening of the conferences, but will withdraw and will not attend again unless a basis of settlement cannot be reached without his help.

The withdrawal of the demand of the men for a closed shop makes it probable that the other differences will be composed. Mr. Garrison said he would discuss all other matters with the men and go as far as possible in meeting their wishes. While the matter of a greater increase in wages than the 10 per cent. offered by Mr. Garrison will be discussed, it has been determined that the company cannot afford to pay more than the standard rate of wages at this time. It is expected that the men will agree to accept the 10 per cent. and that a new agreement will be signed within a week.

MEAT PRICE INQUIRY LEADS TO CHICAGO

Flying Squadron Chief Is Continuing There Investigation Begun in New York.

NEW SLUMP IN VEGETABLES

Fruits at Retail Also Drop to Lowest Figures of the Season—Federal Agent Busy.

Following extensive investigations in this city at local branches of the big packing houses in his crusade against profiteering, Chief Armin W. Riley, of the Flying Squadron of the Department of Justice, is in Chicago where he is directing a corps of accountants and special agents in delving further into the affairs of the packers. It was said yesterday that it is not known here just how long he will be engaged in Chicago.

Investigation of the packers was begun here soon after the New York office of the Flying Squadron was opened early in the year and indictments were returned in Brooklyn against several packing companies and their local representatives. These cases have not yet come to trial. Several weeks ago, when beef prices reached heights never before known by local market officials, Mr. Riley detailed several of his best men to make a further investigation. When the work here was about finished they moved on to Chicago.

In some sections of the city there has recently been a decided slump in retail prices of fruits and fresh vegetables, and in all sections some reductions have been made from former prices. Some dealers near Washington Market were offering fruits and fresh vegetables yesterday at the lowest prices that have yet prevailed.

Peas were offered at 10 cents a pound; lima beans, 10 cents; basket of six and eight peppers, 15 cents; five and six cantaloupes, 25 cents; tomatoes, basket containing two to four pounds, varying in price from 15 to 25 cents; extra fine freestone peaches, 16 quarts, $1.35; potatoes, eight pounds, 25 cents; apples, gallon, 35 cents; oranges, five, 25 cents; lemons, twenty-five, 25 cents; California eating apples, eight for 25 cents.

Prices were also notably lower in Ninth Avenue.

Special Agent J. J. Price, of the Flying Squadron, said that he was continuing to watch the retail fruit and vegetable dealers to see that they give the consumers the benefit of decreases in wholesale prices. He said he considered that the work of such decreases in retail responsible for such decreases in retail food prices as have been made.

New York State apples are offered at retail at varying prices, depending upon the grade and section of the city. The wholesale prices, about which producers up-State have complained, show little or no change. William J. Gentes, Acting Director of the New York office of the State Division of Foods and Markets, in his daily review of the market situation yesterday, said of apples:

"Receipts moderate from up-river and other nearby producing sections. Shipments from Virginia also moderate. Wide range in quality and condition of stock arriving. The bulk of the fruit was mostly small-sized and lacked color. However, stock is continually improving in size and color. Slightly better demand and movement for best stock but ordinary dragging. Market fairly steady with prices about unchanged.

"Various varieties, grades and sizes, best hand-picked fruit, in bushel hampers, mostly, $1.25 to $1.75. A few small extra fancy stock, of large size and of both colors, $2 to $2.25. Ordinary, 75 cents to $1.

"Offerings in double headed barrels, various varieties, grades and sizes, best, per barrel, $5 to $6.50. A few small sales slightly higher. Ordinary, $3.50 to $4.50."

1,500 STRIKE AT NEWBURGH.

Boilermakers and Shipbuilders of Three Plants Walk Out.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Aug. 23.—At noon today the biggest labor strike ever known in the city was instituted by the members of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders Union, more than 1,500 men walking out. The men have been seeking an increase in wages, it is said, of about 25 per cent.

The employing shipbuilders have in the past declined to increase the pay, as under orders from the Shipping Board they were prevented, they claimed.

The establishments affected are the Newburgh Ship Yards, Inc., which has about completed its contract with the Government for twelve 9,000-ton freighters; the Tank Shipbuilding Plant, and the Delany Boiler Works. About 1,200 men went out from the Newburgh yards, 500 from the Tank yard and 100 from the Delany shop.

It is anticipated that the men of other establishments engaged in metal work, including those at the Turl Iron and Car Works, the Abendroth & Root Company, Alberger Pump and Condenser Company and the Coldwell Wilcox Company, will be brought into the strike if it is not settled in a few days, as all these plants employ large numbers of iron workers. The strike was ordered by a referendum vote, which was far from being unanimous.

There is no indication of violence, the men having worked this morning to show their employers their desire to act fairly, while the year's contract under old terms endede yesterday.

FARE INCREASE IS OPPOSED.

City Objects to Queens Lines Charging as Much as Do Buses.

When the hearing was resumed yesterday before Acting Public Service Commissioner Barrett on the application of the Manhattan and Queens Traction Corporation for an increase of fare, Assistant Corporation Counsel Fertig objected to even a temporary increase to 10 cents, the rate charged by the buses now operating along the company's route. It was understood that Mayor Hylan had instructed Mr. Fertig to make the objection. Mr. Fertig said the city insisted upon the company living up to its contract.

Commissioner Barrett asked Mr. Fertig whether the city would compel the buses to reduce their fare to 5 cents, and the latter replied that this question was not an issue in the hearing. The hearing went over until Sept. 22, when examination of the company's books will be completed.

DAY'S COTTON BREAK AVERAGES $8 A BALE

LOCAL SPOTS DROP TO 32.50

This Decline, with Recessions of Spot Figures in South, Disturbs Traders.

The selling movement in cotton gathered force anew yesterday after a fairly steady opening and trading was highly nervous all the way along. The over-Sunday weather map had disclosed considerable rain in parts of Texas and Arkansas, and it looked as though a little short covering was put through in the first quarter hour of trading. Another factor favorable to the buying side was the better than expected demand for cotton at Liverpool before business began here. However, Liverpool became an extensive seller at New York immediately after the opening, and there were further effects from Southern hedge sales.

The market recorded fairly definite waves of selling and partial recovery, but the pressure was heavy enough in the afternoon to carry the March, May and July contracts well through the 24 cent level. At the end of the day the average net decline from Saturday's last bid prices was about 160 points, or $8 per bale and more. October closed 144 points down, December 164, January 152, March 159, May 160 and July 165 points off.

The local spot quotation declined 100 points, to 32.50 cents a pound, and unsettlement for prices generally came from this development and from recessions of the Southern spot markets. The Savannah market, which had steadfastly kept its spot price at 35 cents during the heavy declines of last week, lowered it to 30 cents yesterday. Two weeks ago the price there was 39 cents.

The market found little new in outside developments to precipitate fresh sales on a large scale. Uncertain trade conditions continued to rule speculative sentiment at home, and the record at Liverpool indicated a similar process over there.

Yesterday's quotations follow:

| | Open. | High. | Low. | Close. | Previous Day. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER—Receipts yesterday, 6,700 packages. There were light early arrivals of fancy fresh creamery and the market here is firmer with asking prices generally higher. There is enough regular trading to absorb the offerings of fine extras at unchanged prices. Danish cask butter shows no improvement. Creamery, higher than extras, pound, 57@57½c; extras, 92 score, 56½c; firsts, 90 to 91 score, 54@56c; firsts, 88 to 89 score, 51¼@53c; seconds, 83 to 87 score, 48½@51c; lower grades, 47@48c; Danish casks, 52½@54½c; unsalted, higher than extras, 59½@60½c; extras, 58@59c; firsts, 54@57c; seconds, 51@53c; dairy, tubs, finest, 55½@56½c; good to prime, 51@55c; common to fair, 46@50c; ladies, current make, firsts, 46@48½; seconds, 43@43½c; lower grades, 42@42½c; packing stock, current make, No. 1, 43@44c; No. 2, 42@42½c; lower grades, 38@41½c.

EGGS—Receipts yesterday, 10,566 cases. High qualities of fresh gathered eggs continue in light supply and wanted rather beyond the quantity obtainable. Prices continue firm and in sellers' favor and some sales are being effected above the prices recently quoted. Undergrades quiet and irregular. Refrigerators firm, with a fair demand. Fancy qualities of nearby write eggs are in light supply and hardening, and there is rather a better clearance of the medium and lower grades, but these are selling at very irregular prices. Californias steady to firm for fresh receipts, but there is still considerable accumulation from previous arrivals, for which the demand is limited. Fresh gathered, extras, dozen, 59@60c; extra firsts, 56@57c; firsts, 50@54c; seconds, 45@49c; dirties, No. 1, 41@42c; cocks, good fair to choice, dry, 38@39c; refrigerator, special marks, fancy, 53c; firsts, 49@52c; seconds, 46@48c; State, Pennsylvania and nearby Western, hennery whites, extras, 71@73c; extra firsts, 69@70c; firsts, 62@65c; gathered whites, firsts to extra firsts, 62@70c; undergrades, 52@60c; Pacific Coast, white, extras, 70@72c; extra firsts, 65@68c; firsts, 62@64c; undergrades, 54@60c; Petaluma, small, 54@56c; other Western and Southern, gathered whites, 52@55c; State, Pennsylvania and nearby Western, hennery browns, extras, 62@66c; gathered brown and mixed colors, graded extras, 58@60c; firsts to extra firsts, 50@57c.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

E. H. Rollins & Sons and Stone & Webster, Inc., are offering at 100 and interest to yield 10.31 to 8.33 per cent., according to the date on which they are called, $3,500,000 Great Western Power Company of California general mortgage convertible 8 per cent. bonds.

W. C. Langley & Co. and Blyth, Witter & Co. announce that the entire issue of $1,000,000 Pacific Power and Light Company first lien and general mortgage 8 per cent. bonds have been sold.

YOU INSURE AGAINST FIRES—
WHY NOT AGAINST FAILURES?

YOU would not think of going without insurance against fire for your factory or office. Yet, when a debtor fails, the dollar you lose that way, is just as much a loss, as the dollar you might lose by fire, when unprotected.

Statistics show that losses from bad debts for five years prior to the war were largely in excess of fire losses paid in the same period.

When you carry "LONDON" Credit Insurance you always know exactly where you stand. You can't lose. Your excess losses are paid by us forty-five days after any insured account fails. That's not a collection agency hope—it's a guarantee in advance.

And "LONDON" Credit Insurance costs less than you think. We can write a policy to exactly fit your case. Ask us how. There's no obligation.

Paid by The American Company to its Policy Holders

It is not by chance but by an experience of over twenty-five years that credit insurance has been developed into a simple, scientific and inexpensive system whereby excessive losses by bad debts are equitably distributed to the benefit and satisfaction of manufacturers and jobbers.

Among the numerous houses that have from time to time been reimbursed for losses when the unexpected came, are the following:

$1,500,000 PROJECT FOR ELMHURST, L. I.

Builders Acquire 200 Lots and Will Improve with 100 Two-Family Houses.

FOR NOV. 1 OCCUPANCY

Big Operation Is First in a Series of Similar Enterprises on Manor Tract.

A big residential construction project will be launched in Elmhurst, L. I., as the result of a transaction closed yesterday.

William S. Sussman sold 200 lots at Elmhurst Manor, L. I., which will be utilized as the sites for the erection of 100 two-family houses. Work will be started immediately, in order that the properties may be available for occupancy on Nov. 1.

The operation is estimated to involve in the neighborhood of $1,500,000, and is the first of a series of similar undertakings to be handled by the Sussman firm. The lots are part of a large tract owned by Elmhurst Manor, Inc., for whom Mr. Sussman sold them to the Middle Holding Company, Henry Villaume, President. The houses will each contain one five and one six-room apartment. The property is contiguous to the Junction Avenue station of the Queens Borough subway.

PRIVATE DWELLING LEASES.

Mrs. Hoagland Sells East Thirty-Seventh Street House.

The Quality Homes, Inc., sold to Mary A. Burke the three-story dwelling, 16.8 by 82, at 459 Manhattan Avenue, adjoining the northwest corner of 119th Street.

The two-story dwelling, 20 by 99.11, at 245 East 126th Street, near Second Avenue, has been sold by Vincent Celenza to Mary Zomborl.

Recent Buyers.

George Engel is the purchaser of the four-story dwelling at 17 East Seventy-fourth Street, sold recently by Mrs. E. Livingston. The new owner, at present occupying an apartment at 875 Park Avenue, will replace the house with an English basement dwelling for his own use.

Helen Mack, dressmaker, is the buyer of the five-story dwelling at 88 East Fiftieth Street.

George F. Canfield is the purchaser of the dwelling at 122 East Sixty-first Street, sold recently by Josephine N. Rathbone.

James H. Howland is the buyer of the dwelling at 235 West 138th Street.

Buys Home in Yorktown.

Harmon August purchased for his own occupancy, from Frederick Brown, the Charles Reperte estate at Yorktown, near Peekskill, N. Y. The property consists of about forty-four acres on the Strawberry Road, about one-half mile north of Lake Mohegan. There is a Colonial residence with swimming pool and outbuildings, including tenant houses, garage, barn, &c. George Levy and George Howe were the brokers in the transaction.

Will Alter Bank Building.

The building at 38 Wall Street, purchased in June, 1919, by the Merchants' Bank of Canada is to be completely remodelled and used as the quarters for banking establishments. This property, which adjoins the Manhattan Building, property of the Merchants' Bank, and which is six stories in height, is now to be changed over at a cost of $50,000. Plans for the project were filed yesterday by George E. Mathews, architect.

Other Manhattan Sales.

The building, 25.5 by 99.11, at 74 Greenwich Avenue has been sold by Samuel Berlin and another to Joseph Brownstein.

Gertrude Schildmuller resold to Irving Garcy the five-story building at 40 South Street, northwest corner of Old Slip.

Big Rockaway Park Lease.

A lease for twenty-one year, with four renewal privileges of twenty-one years each, has just been closed by the L. & W. Amusement Company on the Park Theatre and bathing pavilion on Fifth Avenue, near the Boardwalk, at Rockaway Park, L. I. The premises were leased from William C. Ormond, who was represented by the law firm of Sayers Bros. Samuel Berzick represented the lessee as attorney. The net total rental for the term will exceed $1,000,000.

Manhattan Leases.

Louis Schrag leased to George W. and Tania Daniel the buildings 778 to 780 Eighth Avenue, between Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Streets, for a term of five years. They consist of three-five-story apartments with stores.

Henry Shapiro & Co., have leased for the Silmel Holding and Leasing Corporation, a store at Forty-sixth Street and Sixth Avenue, to Yetta Spitzer for a term of years.

Mohegan Inn Resold.

Charles Wynne and Louis H. Low resold to a syndicate of New York hotel men Mohegan Inn, at Lake Mohegan, near Peekskill, N. Y., consisting of the main hotel, accommodating 200 guests, and three cottages, on a tract of nine acres. The land, which was taken by the seller in part payment for the twelve-story loft building at 39 East Twentieth Street, was held at $75,000.

Sells Beadleston Property.

Another indication of increased activity in Jersey coast properties was offered last Saturday when the residence and twelve acres of grounds known as the Beadleston property were sold at auction by Bryan L. Kennelly at Monmouth Beach for $24,850. The purchaser, H. J. Dosseet, a Brooklyn operator, has in mind the partition of the property into four plots or lease or sell for club purposes.

New Garage Project.

The stable running through from Fifty-third Street to Fifty-fourth Street, and which has been owned for about forty years by the John P. Ferguson estate, is to be turned into a modern garage at a cost of $75,000. The property is known as 104 and 106 Fifty-fourth Street and 103 and 105 Fifty-third Street. The plot is 50 by 200.10 feet.

These Be The Unique And Attractive Features of tenant ownership in the elevator apartment houses
AT NOS. 17 AND 19 EAST 95TH STREET
Between 5th and Madison Avenues.
(1) SIMPLICITY
The tenant-owner is a tenant under virtually the same conditions as exist in ordinary tenancy.
(2) LOCATION
These well built houses are in the "Social Centre" of the city, in a restricted block occupied by highest class private dwellings.
(3) LOW RENTS
The apartments are seven rooms and bath, readily convertible into smaller suites if desired. The rents run from $70 to $100 per month. The rental value is from $120 to $165 per month, so that in three years the entire cash investment is repaid by the difference between the rent paid and the rental value.
(4) SMALL CASH PAYMENT
The cash payment required runs from $1680 to $2400, according to the desirability of the apartment. This is equivalent to purchasing a 7 room dwelling in the Social Centre of the city on a cash payment of from $1680 to $2400.
(5) LAND VALUE
In striking contrast to the usual tenant-ownership plan is the fact that 80% of the selling price is land value, which latter is increasing at a rate which will soon equalize the selling price.
We have sold a goodly number of these apartments. We offer the balance remaining to equally good tenants. The selling and leasing plan is most simple and equitable.

An Ounce of Prevention

CERTIFIED accounting reports based on periodic audits are really the ounce of prevention, far preferable to the pound of cure.

Such reports give to the head of an organization the fundamental truths of its business condition, based on accurate investigation and definite figures. They imagine nothing, stating only the truth.

Organizations whose business policy it is to be clearly informed of their business status thru periodic certified accounting reports are in a position at all times to decide on necessary conservation of resources to strengthen financial standing.

No organization should really be without such guiding factors.

U. S. OFFICERS SENT TO AID PERU'S NAVY

TO BUY DESTROYERS HERE

South American Country Seeks to Put Fighting Machine on Footing with Other Republics.

Peru's navy will be reorganized into a small but efficient fighting machine and her naval academy administered for two years with Annapolis as a model by four American naval officers who leave for the South American republic tomorrow on the steamer Santa Elisa of the Grace Line. They are Commander F. B. Freyer, United States Navy, in charge; Commander Lewis D. Causey, United States Navy, both of whom are on the active list; Lieut. Commander Charles G. Davy, retired, and Lieutenant Paul Fitzsimons, of the reserve.

Adopting the custom of European powers of detailing experts to aid in training the armies and navies of lesser nations, Congress authorized the President early in June to send American army and naval officers to assist South American republics. The first request for assistance came from Peru, which felt that its navy should be equal to that of others of the Latin republics.

Chile's navy, for example, was trained by British officers; her army, before the war, by German officers detailed by the Kaiser. French officers have been sent to Peru to spruce up the army. The contracts entered into by the American officers and Señor Ontenada, Peruvian Minister of Marine, who is also the ranking officer of the Peruvian Navy, call for a service of two years.

Commander Luis Aubry, Peruvian Naval Attaché at Washington, said yesterday that his countrymen had long admired American naval achievement. When the opportunity was afforded by Congress, his Government made haste to ask for American officers to put Peru's present fleet of three cruisers, a destroyer and three submarines in fighting trim and take charge of the fleet of destroyers Peru is about to buy in this country.

"We are not planning to build up a big naval fighting force," Commander Aubry said at the Hotel Vanderbilt yesterday, "but we do want a compact and efficient little navy which can protect the shores of our country. We have a naval academy, and a good one, but we want to make it still better—to model it after Annapolis, which turns out such a fine type of naval officer."

Commander Freyer said he had outlined no plans for the reorganization, but would make a survey of conditions upon his arrival in Peru. Commander Freyer served as Assistant Judge Advocate of the navy during the war. He is also a member of the bar of the District of Columbia. Commander Causey is an expert on destroyers and submarines and Commander Davy saw service as the commander of a destroyer operating from Queenstown during the war. Lieutenant Fitzsimons has been the commander of a submarine and is expert in naval engineering. All four officers are graduates of Annapolis.

Texas Cotton Quarantine Lifted.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 23.—With the exception of Louisiana, all the States which recently quarantined against Texas cotton because of the prevalence of the pink boll worm in several south Texas counties, have either lifted the quarantine, modified the restrictions to conform to the Federal quarantine, or promised to do so at once. Announcement to this effect was made at the office of Governor W. P. Hobby today.

MRS. CURRY IS BANKRUPT.

Mike Gilhooley's Sponsor Owes $111,310; Assets Are $700.

Mrs. Mariam Gilhooley Curry, who saved 15-year-old Michael Gilhooley, the stowaway, from being deported for the fifth time last Fall by standing sponsor for him, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the Federal Court yesterday with liabilities aggregating $111,310.92 and assets of $700. The assets consist of $200 worth of wearing apparel, which is exempt, and a $500 Liberty bond which Mrs. Curry had to deposit with the immigration authorities before she could get possession of Michael.

Last month a story came out to the effect that Mrs. Curry had indicated a desire to get rid of her protégé, but did not press the matter when she learned that if she surrendered her responsibilities in the matter she would have to pay young Gilhooley's fare back to Brest. Mrs. Curry denied this story. Mrs. Curry was cited to submit to an examination last month in supplementary proceedings on a judgment obtained against her for $2,342.25 by Edward B. Toole, a broker.

Mrs. Curry owes the Hotel Shoreham and the Hotel Powhatan of Washington $385.45 and $40 respectively, and the Hotel Vanderbilt and Hotel McAlpin in this city $1,104 and $40 respectively. Among her other creditors are a photographer to whom she owes $36 for taking pictures of young Michael Gilhooley; persons unknown to her in Mexico, in connection with mining claims, a total of $3,200; Coleman du Pont, advanced for business purposes, $2,500; Kirkpatrick, merchandise, $1,085; William F. Buckley, $5,000; R. P. Jennings, Mexico City, note, $2,500; Mrs. P. H. Gilhooley, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., $48,750; Mme. Bertha, loans and merchandise, $5,484; C. F. Edgar, Washington, note, $2,000; Clark, Dodge & Co., note, $2,300; loans aggregating $1,393 from J. C. Tinsley, Worcester, Mass.; Pauline Chase, an actress of Bucks, England; Captain P. Hudson and others.

Mrs. Curry describes herself as a writer. Her home is at 142 West Fifty-seventh Street, where, it was said last night, that she was not at home and that her interests were being looked after by her counsel, D. G. Godwin.

BUTLER ARRESTED AS THIEF.

Employer Gives Bail and Says "Little Difficulty" May Be Settled.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Joseph Gagnotto, an Italian, 35 years old, who for two years has been a butler for Severin A. Breding of Katonah, New York representative of the American Lawyers Company, was arrested in Bedford last Saturday and put in jail here today on a charge of grand larceny. Chief of Police George Mills of Bedford said he and one of his men and a Deputy Sheriff examined Gagnotto's three trunks when his employer swore out a search warrant, and that they found a wrist watch belonging to one of Mr. Breding's guests. The charge of grand larceny then was made, though Mr. Breding today bailed out the butler and took him back to his home, asserting that there had been a "little difficulty," which he thought would be fixed up tomorrow.

The real reason for holding Gagnotto, according to the Bedford Chief, was that they found in his trunks apparently valuable tapestries and bric-a-brac and the gold settings of a diamond ring and a diamond pin. Chief Mills said Gagnotto signed before witnesses a confession that he stole the ring and pin from his former employer, Mrs. Elizabeth Berkey of Spring Lake, N. J., and sold them for $1,350, which he invested in oil stock. He insisted the other things in the trunk were gifts from his employers.

Published stories that Gagnotto had posed as a millionaire, that he had $25,000 in money and bonds, and that he had sent large sums to his family in Italy, as well as that he had forty-five suits of clothing, were denied by all those familiar with the facts in the case.

Mrs. Berkey is in South America, but a brother, Stewart Wells, Vice President of a New York advertising company, identified some of the things, and will visit Bedford to examine the trunks, according to Chief Mills.

An idle dollar means profits lost

MOST people who live on Easy Street go there by putting their spare money in the bank.

The habit of putting money to work regularly is as easy to acquire as the habit of useless spending. We are making this habit especially easy to acquire by those employed in the financial district.

One dollar starts an account. Any amount over five dollars draws interest credited quarterly and compounded semi-annually.

Drop in this noon or at any time during banking hours. It's a habit you will never regret.

Burns Any Fuel

Owners of big buildings are sitting "over a hair trigger" on the fuel question. They are right up against it if their buildings are not equipped with Boilers that will burn any fuel.

It is no longer possible to pick and choose the kind of fuel that is best adapted for the boiler they happen to have. They are forced to buy and use the fuel they can get.

Sometimes our troubles are "blessings in disguise"—and this one is proving just that. Big building owners know that the solution of the coal problem is in the boiler, and not in the coal. They know that in the right boiler any fuel is the right fuel. And they know that a boiler which will burn any fuel not only solves their coal problems but saves them a lot of coal money.

Kewanee Smokeless Boilers do burn any fuel. The down-draft construction makes possible the use of any coal offered in the market. And the boiler can be quickly adapted for use of Oil, Gas or Wood.

Countless owners of New York City's best buildings are using Kewanee Smokeless Boilers and learning that these things are true. Go up on Riverside Drive, or Park Avenue, or West End Avenue, or into the best office and loft buildings. You will find Kewanee Smokeless Boilers on the job burning every kind of fuel the market offers.

And no matter what kind of fuel they use they burn all of it. That's why they are smokeless. Smoke is nothing but unconsumed fuel and a boiler that uses all its fuel for making heat, can't smoke.

Will you let us prove this before you build. It won't do much good to weep and moan after some poor boiler is installed. Now is the time to find out. Will you let us help you?

Increased Demand for Autocars Shows Business Activity

THIRTY-FIVE per cent more Autocar motor trucks were sold in the first six months of 1920 than in the corresponding period of last year.

There is a significance to this increase beyond that of the constantly growing recognition of Autocar quality.

When business men in such numbers foresee and act upon their need for more transportation equipment, it means that, in their combined judgment, the business outlook is good.

Are you bringing your own transportation equipment up to the assured needs of this fall and winter?

PREVENT Skin Troubles by Daily Use of Cuticura

Make Cuticura Soap and Ointment your every-day toilet preparations. Bathe with the Soap and hot water on rising and retiring, using plenty of Soap, best applied with the hands. Smear any signs of redness or roughness with the Ointment and let it remain five minutes before bathing. Finally dust on a few grains of the exquisitely perfumed Cuticura Talcum, it takes the place of other perfumes for the skin.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 6M, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.
